PART D—MAGNET SCHOOLS ASSISTANCE

SEC. 4401. [20 U.S.C. 7231] FINDINGS AND PURPOSE.

(a) FINDINGS.—Congress makes the following findings:

(1) Magnet schools are a significant part of the Nation's effort to achieve voluntary desegregation in our Nation's schools.

(2) The use of magnet schools has increased dramatically since the inception of the magnet schools assistance program under this Act, with approximately 2,500,000 students nationwide attending such schools, of whom more than 69 percent are non-white.

(3) Magnet schools offer a wide range of distinctive programs that have served as models for school improvement efforts.

(4) It is in the best interests of the United States—

(A) to continue the Federal Government's support of local educational agencies that are implementing court-ordered desegregation plans and local educational agencies that are voluntarily seeking to foster meaningful interaction among students of different racial and ethnic backgrounds, beginning at the earliest stage of such students' education;

(B) to ensure that all students have equitable access to a high quality education that will prepare all students to function well in a technologically oriented and a highly competitive economy comprised of people from many different racial and ethnic backgrounds; and

(C) to continue to desegregate and diversify schools by supporting magnet schools, recognizing that segregation exists between minority and nonminority students as well as among students of different minority groups.

(5) Desegregation efforts through magnet school programs are a significant part of our Nation's effort to achieve voluntary desegregation in schools and help to ensure equal educational opportunities for all students.

(b) PURPOSE.—The purpose of this part is to assist in the desegregation of schools served by local educational agencies by providing financial assistance to eligible local educational agencies for—

(1) the elimination, reduction, or prevention of minority group isolation in elementary schools and secondary schools with substantial proportions of minority students, which shall include assisting in the efforts of the United States to achieve voluntary desegregation in public schools;

(2) the development, implementation, and expansion of magnet school programs that will assist local educational agencies in achieving systemic reforms and providing all students the opportunity to meet challenging State academic standards;

(3) the development, design, and expansion of innovative educational methods and practices that promote diversity and increase choices in public elementary schools and public secondary schools and public educational programs;

(4) courses of instruction within magnet schools that will substantially strengthen the knowledge of academic subjects and the attainment of tangible and marketable career, technological, and professional skills of students attending such schools;

(5) improving the capacity of local educational agencies, including through professional development, to continue operating magnet schools at a high performance level after Federal funding for the magnet schools is terminated; and

(6) ensuring that all students enrolled in the magnet school programs have equitable access to high quality education that will enable the students to succeed academically and continue with postsecondary education or employment.

SEC. 6202. [20 U.S.C. 7512] FINDINGS.

Congress finds the following:

(1) Native Hawaiians are a distinct and unique indigenous people with a historical continuity to the original inhabitants of the Hawaiian archipelago, whose society was organized as a nation and internationally recognized as a nation by the United States, Britain, France, and Japan, as evidenced by treaties governing friendship, commerce, and navigation.

(2) At the time of the arrival of the first nonindigenous people in Hawaii in 1778, the Native Hawaiian people lived in a highly organized, self-sufficient subsistence social system based on a communal land tenure system with a sophisticated language, culture, and religion.

(3) A unified monarchal government of the Hawaiian Islands was established in 1810 under Kamehameha I, the first King of Hawaii.

(4) From 1826 until 1893, the United States recognized the sovereignty and independence of the Kingdom of Hawaii, which was established in 1810 under Kamehameha I, extended full and complete diplomatic recognition to the Kingdom of Hawaii, and entered into treaties and conventions with the Kingdom of Hawaii to govern friendship, commerce and navigation in 1826, 1842, 1849, 1875, and 1887.

(5) In 1893, the sovereign, independent, internationally recognized, and indigenous government of Hawaii, the Kingdom of Hawaii, was overthrown by a small group of non-Hawaiians, including United States citizens, who were assisted in their efforts by the United States Minister, a United States naval representative, and armed naval forces of the United States. Because of the participation of United States agents and citizens in the overthrow of the Kingdom of Hawaii, in 1993 the United States apologized to Native Hawaiians for the overthrow and the deprivation of the rights of Native Hawaiians to self-determination through Public Law 103–150 (107 Stat. 1510).

(6) In 1898, the joint resolution entitled "Joint Resolution to provide for annexing the Hawaiian Islands to the United States", approved July 7, 1898 (30 Stat. 750), ceded absolute title of all lands held by the Republic of Hawaii, including the government and crown lands of the former Kingdom of Hawaii, to the United States, but mandated that revenue generated from the lands be used "solely for the benefit of the inhabitants of the Hawaiian Islands for educational and other public purposes".

(7) By 1919, the Native Hawaiian population had declined from an estimated 1,000,000 in 1778 to an alarming 22,600, and in recognition of this severe decline, Congress enacted the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act, 1920 (42 Stat. 108), which designated approximately 200,000 acres of ceded public lands for homesteading by Native Hawaiians.

(8) Through the enactment of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act, 1920, Congress affirmed the special relationship between the United States and the Native Hawaiians, which was described by then Secretary of the Interior Franklin K.

Lane, who said: "One thing that impressed me... was the fact that the natives of the island who are our wards, I should say, and for whom in a sense we are trustees, are falling off rapidly in numbers and many of them are in poverty.".

(9) In 1938, Congress again acknowledged the unique status of the Hawaiian people by including in the Act of June 20, 1938 (52 Stat. 781, chapter 530; 16 U.S.C. 391b, 391b–1, 392b, 392c, 396, 396a), a provision to lease lands within the National Parks extension to Native Hawaiians and to permit fishing in the area "only by native Hawaiian residents of said area or of adjacent villages and by visitors under their guidance.".

(10) Under the Act entitled "An Act to provide for the admission of the State of Hawaii into the Union", approved March 18, 1959 (73 Stat. 4), the United States transferred responsibility for the administration of the Hawaiian Home Lands to the State of Hawaii but reaffirmed the trust relationship between the United States and the Hawaiian people by retaining the exclusive power to enforce the trust, including the power to approve land exchanges and amendments to such Act affecting the rights of beneficiaries under such Act.

(11) In 1959, under the Act entitled "An Act to provide for the admission of the State of Hawaii into the Union", the United States also ceded to the State of Hawaii title to the public lands formerly held by the United States, but mandated that such lands be held by the State "in public trust" and reaffirmed the special relationship that existed between the United States and the Hawaiian people by retaining the legal responsibility to enforce the public trust responsibility of the State of Hawaii for the betterment of the conditions of Native Hawaiians, as defined in section 201(a) of the Hawaiian Homes Commission Act, 1920.

(12) The United States has recognized and reaffirmed that—

(A) Native Hawaiians have a cultural, historic, and land-based link to the indigenous people who exercised sovereignty over the Hawaiian Islands, and that group has never relinquished its claims to sovereignty or its sovereign lands;

(B) Congress does not extend services to Native Hawaiians because of their race, but because of their unique status as the indigenous people of a once sovereign nation as to whom the United States has established a trust relationship;

(C) Congress has also delegated broad authority to administer a portion of the Federal trust responsibility to the State of Hawaii;

(D) the political status of Native Hawaiians is comparable to that of American Indians and Alaska Natives; and

(E) the aboriginal, indigenous people of the United States have—

(i) a continuing right to autonomy in their internal affairs; and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(ii) an ongoing right of self-determination and self-governance that has never been extinguished.

(13) The political relationship between the United States and the Native Hawaiian people has been recognized and reaffirmed by the United States, as evidenced by the inclusion of Native Hawaiians in—

(A) the Native American Programs Act of 1974 (42 U.S.C. 2991 et seq.);

(B) the American Indian Religious Freedom Act (42 U.S.C. 1996);

(C) the National Museum of the American Indian Act (20 U.S.C. 80q et seq.);

(D) the Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (25 U.S.C. 3001 et seq.);

(E) division A of subtitle III of title 54, United States Code;

(F) the Native American Languages Act (25 U.S.C. 2901 et seq.);

(G) the American Indian, Alaska Native, and Native Hawaiian Culture and Art Development Act (20 U.S.C. 4401 et seq.);

(H) the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act; and

(I) the Older Americans Act of 1965 (42 U.S.C. 3001 et seq.).

PART C—ALASKA NATIVE EDUCATION

SEC. 6301. [20 U.S.C. 7541] SHORT TITLE.

This part may be cited as the "Alaska Native Educational Equity, Support, and Assistance Act".

SEC. 6302. [20 U.S.C. 7542] FINDINGS.

Congress finds and declares the following:

(1) It is the policy of the Federal Government to maximize the leadership of and participation by Alaska Natives in the planning and the management of Alaska Native education programs and to support efforts developed by and undertaken within the Alaska Native community to improve educational opportunity for all students.

(2) Many Alaska Native children enter and exit school with serious educational disadvantages.

(3) Overcoming the magnitude of the geographic challenges, historical inequities, and other barriers to successfully improving educational outcomes for Alaska Native students in rural, village, and urban settings is challenging. Significant disparities between academic achievement of Alaska Native students and non-Native students continue, including lower graduation rates, increased school dropout rates, and lower achievement scores on standardized tests.

(4) The preservation of Alaska Native cultures and languages and the integration of Alaska Native cultures and languages into education, positive identity development for Alaska Native students, and local, place-based, and culture-based programming are critical to the attainment of educational success and the long-term well-being of Alaska Native students.

(5) Improving educational outcomes for Alaska Native students increases access to employment opportunities.

(6) The Federal Government should lend support to efforts developed by and undertaken within the Alaska Native community to improve educational opportunity for Alaska Native students. In 1983, pursuant to Public Law 98–63, Alaska ceased to receive educational funding from the Bureau of In-

TITLE VII—IMPACT AID

SEC. 7001. [20 U.S.C. 7701] PURPOSE.

In order to fulfill the Federal responsibility to assist with the provision of educational services to federally connected children in a manner that promotes control by local educational agencies with little or no Federal or State involvement, because certain activities of the Federal Government, such as activities to fulfill the responsibilities of the Federal Government with respect to Indian tribes and activities under section 511 of the Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, place a financial burden on the local educational agencies serving areas where such activities are carried out, and to help such children meet the same challenging State academic standards, it is the purpose of this title to provide financial assistance to local educational agencies that—

(1) experience a substantial and continuing financial burden due to the acquisition of real property by the United States;

(2) educate children who reside on Federal property and whose parents are employed on Federal property;

(3) educate children of parents who are in the military services and children who live in low-rent housing;

(4) educate heavy concentrations of children whose parents are civilian employees of the Federal Government and do not reside on Federal property; or

(5) need special assistance with capital expenditures for construction activities because of the enrollments of substantial numbers of children who reside on Federal lands and because of the difficulty of raising local revenue through bond referendums for capital projects due to the inability to tax Federal property.

SEC. 7002. [20 U.S.C. 7702] PAYMENTS RELATING TO FEDERAL ACQUISITION OF REAL PROPERTY.

(a) IN GENERAL.—Where the Secretary, after consultation with any local educational agency and with the appropriate State educational agency, determines—

(1) that the United States owns Federal property in the local educational agency, and that such property—

(A) has been acquired by the United States since 1938;

(B) was not acquired by exchange for other Federal property in the local educational agency which the United States owned before 1939; and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(C) had an assessed value according to original records (including facsimiles or other reproductions of those records) documenting the assessed value of such property (determined as of the time or times when so acquired) prepared by the local officials referred to in subsection (b)(3) or, when such original records are not available due to unintentional destruction (such as natural disaster, fire, flooding, pest infestation, or deterioration due to age), other records, including Federal agency records, local historical records, or other records that the Secretary determines to be appropriate and reliable, aggregating 10 percent or more of the assessed value of—

(i) all real property in the local educational agency (similarly determined as of the time or times when such Federal property was so acquired); or

(ii) all real property in the local educational agency as assessed in the first year preceding or succeeding acquisition, whichever is greater, only if—

(I) the assessment of all real property in the local educational agency is not made at the same time or times that such Federal property was so acquired and assessed; and

(II) State law requires an assessment be made of property so acquired; and

(2) that such agency is not being substantially compensated for the loss in revenue resulting from such ownership by increases in revenue accruing to the agency from the conduct of Federal activities with respect to such Federal property, then such agency shall be eligible to receive the amount described in subsection (b) or (h).

(b) AMOUNT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—(A)(i)(I) Subject to subclauses (II) and (III), the amount that a local educational agency shall be paid under subsection (a) for a fiscal year shall be calculated in accordance with paragraph (2).

(II) Except as provided in subclause (III), the Secretary may not reduce the amount of a payment under this section to a local educational agency for a fiscal year by (aa) the amount equal to the amount of revenue, if any, the agency received during the previous fiscal year from activities conducted on Federal property eligible under this section and located in a school district served by the agency, including amounts received from any Federal department or agency (other than the Department of Education) from such activities, by reason of receipt of such revenue, or (bb) any other amount by reason of receipt of such revenue.

(III) If the amount equal to the sum of (aa) the proposed payment under this section to a local educational agency for a fiscal year and (bb) the amount of revenue described in subclause (II)(aa) received by the agency during the previous fiscal year, exceeds the maximum amount the agency is eligible to receive under this section for the fiscal year involved, then the

Secretary shall reduce the amount of the proposed payment under this section by an amount equal to such excess amount.

(ii) For purposes of clause (i), the amount of revenue that a local educational agency receives during the previous fiscal year from activities conducted on Federal property shall not include payments received by the agency from the Secretary of Defense to support—

(I) the operation of a domestic dependent elementary or secondary school; or

(II) the provision of a free public education to dependents of members of the Armed Forces residing on or near a military installation.

(B) If funds appropriated under section 7014(a) are insufficient to pay the amount determined under subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall calculate the payment for each eligible local educational agency in accordance with subsection (h).

(C) Notwithstanding any other provision of this subsection, a local educational agency may not be paid an amount under this section that, when added to the amount such agency receives under section 7003(b), exceeds the maximum amount that such agency is eligible to receive for such fiscal year under section 7003(b)(1)(C), or the maximum amount that such agency is eligible to receive for such fiscal year under this section, whichever is greater.

(2) APPLICATION OF CURRENT LEVIED REAL PROPERTY TAX RATE.—In calculating the amount that a local educational agency is eligible to receive for a fiscal year, the Secretary shall apply the current levied real property tax rate for current expenditures levied by fiscally independent local educational agencies, or imputed for fiscally dependent local educational agencies, to the current annually determined estimated taxable value of such acquired Federal property.

(3) DETERMINATION OF TAXABLE VALUE FOR ELIGIBLE FEDERAL PROPERTY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In determining the estimated taxable value of such acquired Federal property for fiscal year 2010 and each succeeding fiscal year, the Secretary shall—

(i) first determine the total taxable value for the purpose of levying property tax for school purposes for current expenditures of real property located within the boundaries of such local educational agency;

(ii) then determine the per acre value of the eligible Federal property by dividing the total taxable value as determined in clause (i) by the difference between the total acres located within the boundaries of the local educational agency and the number of Federal acres eligible under this section; and

(iii) then determine the total taxable value of the eligible Federal property by multiplying the per acre value as calculated under clause (ii) by the number of Federal acres eligible under this section.

(B) SPECIAL RULE.—In the case of Federal property eligible under this section that is within the boundaries of 2 or more local educational agencies that are eligible under this section, any of such agencies may ask the Secretary to calculate (and the Secretary shall calculate) the taxable value of the eligible Federal property that is within its boundaries by—

(i) first calculating the per-acre value of the eligible Federal property separately for each eligible local educational agency that shared the Federal property, as provided in subparagraph (A)(ii);

(ii) then averaging the resulting per-acre values of the eligible Federal property from each eligible local educational agency that shares the Federal property; and

(iii) then applying the average per-acre value to determine the total taxable value of the eligible Federal property under subparagraph (A)(iii) for the requesting local educational agency.

(c) APPLICABILITY TO TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY ACT.—For the purpose of this section, any real property with respect to which payments are being made under section 13 of the Tennessee Valley Authority Act of 1933 shall not be regarded as Federal property.

(d) OWNERSHIP BY UNITED STATES.—The United States shall be deemed to own Federal property for the purposes of this Act, where—

(1) prior to the transfer of Federal property, the United States owned Federal property meeting the requirements of subparagraphs (A), (B), and (C) of subsection (a)(1); and

(2) the United States transfers a portion of the property referred to in paragraph (1) to another nontaxable entity, and the United States—

(A) restricts some or any construction on such property;

(B) requires that the property be used in perpetuity for the public purposes for which the property was conveyed;

(C) requires the grantee of the property to report to the Federal Government (or its agent) regarding information on the use of the property;

(D) except with the approval of the Federal Government (or its agent), prohibits the sale, lease, assignment, or other disposal of the property unless such sale, lease, assignment, or other disposal is to another eligible government agency; and

(E) reserves to the Federal Government a right of reversion at any time the Federal Government (or its agent) deems it necessary for the national defense.

(e) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY CONTAINING FOREST SERVICE LAND AND SERVING CERTAIN COUNTIES.—Beginning with fiscal year 1995, a local educational agency shall be deemed to meet the requirements of subsection (a)(1)(C) if such local educational agency meets the following requirements:

(1) ACREAGE AND ACQUISITION BY THE FOREST SERVICE.—The local educational agency serves a school district that contains between 20,000 and 60,000 acres of land that has been acquired by the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture between 1915 and 1990, as demonstrated by written evidence from the Forest Service satisfactory to the Secretary.

(2) COUNTY CHARTER.—The local educational agency serves a county chartered under State law in 1875 or 1890. For each fiscal year beginning on or after the date of enactment of the Every Student Succeeds Act, the Secretary shall treat local educational agencies chartered in 1871 having more than 70 percent of the county in Federal ownership as meeting the eligibility requirements of subparagraphs (A) and (C) of subsection (a)(1).

(f) SPECIAL RULE.—For each fiscal year beginning on or after the date of enactment of the Every Student Succeeds Act, a local educational agency shall be deemed to meet the requirements of subsection (a)(1)(C) if the agency was eligible under paragraph (1) or (3) of section 7002(f) as such section was in effect on the day before the date of enactment of the Every Student Succeeds Act.

(g) FORMER DISTRICTS.—

(1) CONSOLIDATIONS.—For fiscal year 2006 and each succeeding fiscal year, if a local educational agency described in paragraph (2) is formed at any time after 1938 by the consolidation of 2 or more former school districts, the local educational agency may elect to have the Secretary determine its eligibility for assistance under this section for any fiscal year on the basis of 1 or more of those former districts, as designated by the local educational agency.

(2) ELIGIBLE LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—A local educational agency referred to in paragraph (1) is—

(A) any local educational agency that, for fiscal year 1994 or any preceding fiscal year, applied, and was determined to be eligible under, section 2(c) of the Act of September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874, 81st Congress) as that section was in effect for that fiscal year; or

(B) a local educational agency—

(i) that was formed by the consolidation of 2 or more districts, at least 1 of which was eligible for assistance under this section for the fiscal year preceding the year of the consolidation; and

(ii) which includes the designation referred to in paragraph (1) in its application under section 7005 for a fiscal year beginning on or after the date of enactment of the Every Student Succeeds Act or any timely amendment to such application.

(3) AMOUNT.—A local educational agency eligible under paragraph (1) shall receive a foundation payment as provided for under subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (h)(1), except that the foundation payment shall be calculated based on the most recent payment received by the local educational agency based on its status prior to consolidation.

(h) PAYMENTS WITH RESPECT TO FISCAL YEARS IN WHICH INSUFFICIENT FUNDS ARE APPROPRIATED.—For any fiscal year for which the amount appropriated under section 7014(a) is insufficient to pay to each eligible local educational agency the full amount determined under subsection (b), the Secretary shall make payments to each local educational agency under this section as follows:

(1) FOUNDATION PAYMENTS FOR PRE-2010 RECIPIENTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall first make a foundation payment to each local educational agency that is determined by the Secretary to be eligible to receive a payment under this section for the fiscal year involved and that filed a timely application, and met, or has been determined by statute to meet, the eligibility requirements of subsection (a) for fiscal year 2009.

(B) AMOUNT.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—The amount of a payment under subparagraph (A) for a local educational agency shall be equal to the greater of 90 percent of the payment the local educational agency received from dollars appropriated for fiscal year 2009 or 90 percent of the average payment that the local educational agency received from dollars appropriated for fiscal years 2006, 2007, 2008, and 2009, and shall be calculated without regard to the maximum payment provisions in subsection (b)(1)(C).

(ii) EXCEPTION.—In calculating such average payment for a local educational agency that did not receive a payment under subsection (b) for 1 or more of the fiscal years between fiscal year 2006 and 2009, inclusive, the lowest such payment made to the agency for fiscal year 2006, 2007, 2008, or 2009, shall be treated as the payment that the agency received under subsection (b) for each fiscal year for which the agency did not receive such a payment.

(C) INSUFFICIENT APPROPRIATIONS.—If the amount appropriated under section 7014(a) is insufficient to pay the full amount determined under this paragraph for all eligible local educational agencies for the fiscal year, then the Secretary shall ratably reduce the payment to each local educational agency under this paragraph.

(2) FOUNDATION PAYMENTS FOR NEW APPLICANTS.—

(A) FIRST YEAR.—From any amounts remaining after making payments under paragraph (1) and subsection (i)(1) for the fiscal year involved, the Secretary shall make a payment, in an amount determined in accordance with subparagraph (C), to each local educational agency that the Secretary determines eligible for a payment under this section for a fiscal year after fiscal year 2009 and that did not receive a payment under paragraph (1) for the fiscal year for which such agency was determined eligible for such payment.

(B) SECOND AND SUCCEEDING YEARS.—For any succeeding fiscal year after the first fiscal year that a local educational agency receives a foundation payment under subparagraph (A), the amount of the local educational agency's foundation payment under this paragraph for such succeeding fiscal year shall be equal to the local educational agency's foundation payment under this paragraph for the first fiscal year.

(C) AMOUNTS.—The amount of a payment under subparagraph (A) for a local educational agency shall be determined as follows:

(i) Calculate the local educational agency's maximum payment under subsection (b).

(ii) Calculate the percentage that the amount appropriated under section 7014(a) for the most recent fiscal year for which the Secretary has completed making payments under this section is of the total maximum payments for such fiscal year for all local educational agencies eligible for a payment under subsection (b) and multiply the agency's maximum payment by such percentage.

(iii) Multiply the amount determined under clause (ii) by 90 percent.

(D) INSUFFICIENT FUNDS.—If the amount appropriated under section 7014(a) of this title is insufficient to pay the full amount determined under this paragraph for all eligible local educational agencies for the fiscal year, then the Secretary shall ratably reduce the payment to each local educational agency under this paragraph.

(3) REMAINING FUNDS.—From any funds remaining after making payments under paragraphs (1) and (2) for the fiscal year involved, the Secretary shall make a payment to each local educational agency that received a foundation payment under paragraph (1) or (2) or subsection (i)(1), for the fiscal year involved in an amount that bears the same relation to the remainder as a percentage share determined for the local educational agency (by dividing the maximum amount that the agency is eligible to receive under subsection (b) by the total of the maximum amounts for all such agencies) bears to the percentage share determined (in the same manner) for all local educational agencies eligible to receive a payment under this section for the fiscal year involved, except that, for the purpose of calculating a local educational agency's maximum amount under subsection (b), data from the most current fiscal year shall be used.

(4) DATA.—For each local educational agency that received a payment under this section for fiscal year 2010 or any succeeding fiscal year, the Secretary shall not make a payment under paragraph (3) to a local educational agency that fails to submit, within 60 days of the date the Secretary notifies the agency that the information is needed, the data necessary to calculate the maximum amount of a payment under subsection (b) for that local educational agency.

(i) SPECIAL PAYMENTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For any fiscal year beginning with fiscal year 2000 for which the amount appropriated to carry out this section exceeds the amount so appropriated for fiscal year 1996 and for which subsection (b)(1)(B) applies, the Secretary shall use the remainder described in subsection (h)(3) for the fiscal year involved (not to exceed the amount equal to the difference between (A) the amount appropriated to carry out this section for fiscal year 1997 and (B) the amount appropriated to carry out this section for fiscal year 1996) to increase the payment that would otherwise be made under this section to not more than 50 percent of the maximum amount determined under subsection (b) for any local educational agency described in paragraph (2).

(2) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY DESCRIBED.—A local educational agency described in this paragraph is a local educational agency that—

(A) received a payment under this section for fiscal year 1996;

(B) serves a school district that contains all or a portion of a United States military academy;

(C) serves a school district in which the local tax assessor has certified that at least 60 percent of the real property is federally owned; and

(D) demonstrates to the satisfaction of the Secretary that such agency's per-pupil revenue derived from local sources for current expenditures is not less than that revenue for the preceding fiscal year.

(j) PRIOR YEAR DATA.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, in determining the eligibility of a local educational agency for a payment under subsection (b) or (h)(2) of this section for a fiscal year, and in calculating the amount of such payment, the Secretary—

(1) shall use data from the prior fiscal year with respect to the Federal property involved, including data with respect to the assessed value of the property and the real property tax rate for current expenditures levied against or imputed to the property; and

(2) shall use data from the second prior fiscal year with respect to determining the amount of revenue referred to in subsection (b)(1)(A)(i).

(k) LOSS OF ELIGIBILITY.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the Secretary shall make a minimum payment to a local educational agency described in paragraph (2), for the first fiscal year that the agency loses eligibility for assistance under this section as a result of property located within the school district served by the agency failing to meet the definition of Federal property under section 7013(5)(C)(iii), in an amount equal to 90 percent of the amount received by the agency under this section for the preceding year.

(2) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY DESCRIBED.—A local educational agency described in this paragraph is an agency that—

(A) was eligible for, and received, a payment under this section for fiscal year 2002; and

(B) beginning in fiscal year 2003 or a subsequent fiscal year, is no longer eligible for payments under this section as provided for in subsection (a)(1)(C) as a result of the transfer of the Federal property involved to a non-Federal entity.

SEC. 7003. [20 U.S.C. 7703] PAYMENTS FOR ELIGIBLE FEDERALLY CONNECTED CHILDREN.

(a) COMPUTATION OF PAYMENT.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—For the purpose of computing the amount that a local educational agency is eligible to receive under subsection (b) or (d) for any fiscal year, the Secretary shall determine the number of children who were in average daily attendance in the schools of such agency, and for whom such agency provided free public education, during the preceding school year and who, while in attendance at such schools—

(A)(i) resided on Federal property with a parent employed on Federal property situated in whole or in part within the boundaries of the school district of such agency; or

(ii) resided on Federal property with a parent who is an official of, and accredited by, a foreign government and is a foreign military officer;

(B) resided on Federal property and had a parent on active duty in the uniformed services (as defined in section 101 of title 37, United States Code);

(C) resided on Indian lands;

(D)(i) had a parent on active duty in the uniformed services (as defined by section 101 of title 37, United States Code) but did not reside on Federal property; or

(ii) had a parent who is an official of, and has been accredited by, a foreign government and is a foreign military officer but did not reside on Federal property;

(E) resided in low-rent housing;

(F) resided on Federal property and is not described in subparagraph (A) or (B); or

(G) resided with a parent employed on Federal property situated—

(i) in whole or in part in the county in which such agency is located, or in whole or in part in such agency if such agency is located in more than one county; or

(ii) if not in such county, in whole or in part in the same State as such agency.

(2) DETERMINATION OF WEIGHTED STUDENT UNITS.—For the purpose of computing the basic support payment under subsection (b), the Secretary shall calculate the total number of weighted student units for a local educational agency by adding together the results obtained by the following computations:

(A) Multiply the number of children described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) by a factor of 1.0.

(B) Multiply the number of children described in paragraph (1)(C) by a factor of 1.25.

(C) Multiply the number of children described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of paragraph (1) by a factor of .35 if the local educational agency has—

(i) a number of such children described in such subparagraphs which exceeds 5,000; and

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ED-17-0431-F-004065

(ii) an average daily attendance for all children which exceeds 100,000.

(D) Multiply the number of children described in subparagraph (D) of paragraph (1) by a factor of .20.

(E) Multiply the number of children described in subparagraph (E) of paragraph (1) by a factor of .10.

(F) Multiply the number of children described in subparagraphs (F) and (G) of paragraph (1) by a factor of .05.

(4) MILITARY INSTALLATION AND INDIAN HOUSING UNDERGOING RENOVATION OR REBUILDING.—

(A) MILITARY INSTALLATION HOUSING.—Beginning in fiscal year 2014, in determining the amount of a payment for a local educational agency for children described in paragraph (1)(D)(i), the Secretary shall consider those children as if they were children described in paragraph (1)(B) if the Secretary determines, on the basis of a certification provided to the Secretary by a designated representative of the Secretary of Defense, that those children would have resided in housing on Federal property if the housing was not undergoing renovation or rebuilding. The total number of children treated as children described in paragraph (1)(B) shall not exceed the lessor of—

(i) the total number of children eligible under paragraph (1)(B) for the year prior to the initiation of the housing project on Federal property undergoing renovation or rebuilding; or

(ii) the total number of Federally connected children enrolled at the local educational agency as stated in the application filed for the payment for the year for which the determination is made.

(B) INDIAN LANDS.—Beginning in fiscal year 2014, in determining the amount of a payment for a local educational agency that received a payment for children that resided on Indian lands in accordance with paragraph (1)(C) for the fiscal year prior to the fiscal year for which the local educational agency is making an application, the Secretary shall consider those children to be children described in paragraph (1)(C) if the Secretary determines on the basis of a certification provided to the Secretary by a designated representative of the Secretary of the Interior or the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development that those children would have resided in housing on Indian lands if the housing was not undergoing renovation or rebuilding. The total number of children treated as children described in paragraph (1)(C) shall not exceed the lessor of—

(i) the total number of children eligible under paragraph (1)(C) for the year prior to the initiation of the housing project on Indian lands undergoing renovation or rebuilding; or

(ii) the total number of Federally connected children enrolled at the local educational agency as stated in the application filed for the payment for the year for which the determination is made.

(C) ELIGIBLE HOUSING.—Renovation or rebuilding shall be defined as projects considered as capitalization, modernization, or restoration, as defined by the Secretary of Defense or the Secretary of the Interior (as the case may be) and are projects that last more than 30 days, but do not include "sustainment projects" such as painting, carpeting, or minor repairs.

(5) MILITARY "BUILD TO LEASE" PROGRAM HOUSING.—

(A)[7] IN GENERAL.—For purposes of computing the amount of payment for a local educational agency for children identified under paragraph (1), the Secretary shall consider children residing in housing initially acquired or constructed under the former section 2828(g) of title 10, United States Code (commonly known as the "Build to Lease" program), as added by section 801 of the Military Construction Authorization Act, 1984, or under lease of off-base property under subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, to be children described under paragraph (1)(B), if the property described is—

(i) within the fenced security perimeter of the military facility; or

(ii) attached to, and under any type of force protection agreement with, the military installation upon which such housing is situated.

(B) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.—If the property described in subparagraph (A) is not owned by the Federal Government, is subject to taxation by a State or political subdivision of a State, and thereby generates revenues for a local educational agency that is applying to receive a payment under this section, then the Secretary—

(i) shall require the local educational agency to provide certification from an appropriate official of the Department of Defense that the property is being used to provide military housing; and

(ii) shall reduce the amount of the payment under this section by an amount equal to the amount of revenue from such taxation received in the second preceding fiscal year by such local educational agency, unless the amount of such revenue was taken into account by the State for such second preceding fiscal year and already resulted in a reduction in the amount of State aid paid to such local educational agency.

[7] Subparagraph (A) applies with respect to fiscal year 2016 pursuant to section 579(a)(1) of division A of Public Law 114–328.

(b) BASIC SUPPORT PAYMENTS AND PAYMENTS WITH RESPECT TO FISCAL YEARS IN WHICH INSUFFICIENT FUNDS ARE APPROPRIATED.—

(1) BASIC SUPPORT PAYMENTS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—From the amount appropriated under section 7014(b) for a fiscal year, the Secretary is authorized to make basic support payments to eligible local educational agencies with children described in subsection (a).

(B) ELIGIBILITY.—A local educational agency is eligible to receive a basic support payment under subparagraph (A) for a fiscal year with respect to a number of children determined under subsection (a)(1) only if the number of children so determined with respect to such agency amounts to the lesser of—

(i) at least 400 such children; or

(ii) a number of such children which equals at least 3 percent of the total number of children who were in average daily attendance, during such year, at the schools of such agency and for whom such agency provided free public education.

(C) MAXIMUM AMOUNT.—The maximum amount that a local educational agency is eligible to receive under this paragraph for any fiscal year is the sum of the total weighted student units, as computed under subsection (a)(2), multiplied by the greater of—

(i) one-half of the average per-pupil expenditure of the State in which the local educational agency is located for the third fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the determination is made;

(ii) one-half of the average per-pupil expenditure of all of the States for the third fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the determination is made;

(iii) the comparable local contribution rate certified by the State, as determined under regulations prescribed to carry out the Act of September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874, 81st Congress), as such regulations were in effect on January 1, 1994; or

(iv) the average per-pupil expenditure of the State in which the local educational agency is located, multiplied by the local contribution percentage.

(D) DATA.—If satisfactory data from the third preceding fiscal year are not available for any of the expenditures described in clause (i) or (ii) of subparagraph (C), the Secretary shall use data from the most recent fiscal year for which data that are satisfactory to the Secretary are available.

(E) INCREASE IN LOCAL CONTRIBUTION RATE DUE TO UNUSUAL GEOGRAPHIC FACTORS.—If the current expenditures in those local educational agencies which the Secretary has determined to be generally comparable to the local educational agency for which a computation is made under subparagraph (C) are not reasonably comparable because of unusual geographical factors which affect the current expenditures necessary to maintain, in such agency, a level of education equivalent to that maintained in such other agencies, then the Secretary shall increase the local contribution rate for such agency under subparagraph (C)(iii) by such an amount which the Secretary determines will compensate such agency for the increase in current expenditures necessitated by such unusual geographical factors. The amount of any such supplementary payment may not exceed the per-pupil share (computed with regard to all children in average daily attendance), as determined by the Secretary, of the increased current expenditures necessitated by such unusual geographic factors.

(F) Beginning with fiscal year 2002, for the purpose of calculating a payment under this paragraph for a local educational agency whose local contribution rate was computed under subparagraph (C)(iii) for the previous year, the Secretary shall use a local contribution rate that is not less than 95 percent of the rate that the LEA received for the preceding year.

(2)[8] BASIC SUPPORT PAYMENTS FOR HEAVILY IMPACTED LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—(i) From the amount appropriated under section 7014(b) for a fiscal year, the Secretary is authorized to make basic support payments to eligible heavily impacted local educational agencies with children described in subsection (a).

(ii) A local educational agency that receives a basic support payment under this paragraph for a fiscal year shall not be eligible to receive a basic support payment under paragraph (1) for that fiscal year.

(B) ELIGIBILITY FOR HEAVILY IMPACTED LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—A heavily impacted local educational agency is eligible to receive a basic support payment under subparagraph (A) with respect to a number of children determined under subsection (a)(1) if the agency—

(I) is a local educational agency—

(aa) whose boundaries are the same as a Federal military installation; or

(bb)(AA) whose boundaries are the same as an island property designated by the Secretary of the Interior to be property that is held in trust by the Federal Government; and

(BB) that has no taxing authority;

(II)[9] is a local educational agency that—

(aa) has an enrollment of children described in subsection (a)(1) that constitutes a percentage of the total student enrollment of the agency that is not less than 45 percent;

(BB) has an enrollment of children described in subsection (a)(1) that constitutes a percentage of the total student enrollment of the agency that is not less than 20 percent, and for the 3 fiscal years preceding the fiscal year for which the determination is made, the average enrollment of children who are not described in subsection (a)(1) and who are eligible for a free or reduced price lunch under the Richard B. Russell National School Lunch Act constitutes a percentage of the total student enrollment of the agency that is not less than 65 percent;

(IV) is a local educational agency that received a payment for fiscal year 2015 under section 8003(b)(2)(E) (as such section was in effect for such fiscal year) and has a total student enrollment of not less than 25,000 students, of which—

(V)[9] is a local educational agency that—

(aa) has an enrollment of children described in subsection (a)(1) including, for purposes of determining eligibility, those children described in subparagraphs (F) and (G) of such subsection, that is not less than 35 percent of the total student enrollment of the agency;

(bb) has a per-pupil expenditure described in subclause (II)(bb) (except that a local educational agency with a total student enrollment of less than 350 students shall be deemed to have satisfied such per-pupil expenditure requirement) and has a tax rate for general fund purposes which is not less than 95 percent of the average tax rate for general fund purposes for comparable local educational agencies in the State; and

(cc) was eligible to receive assistance under subparagraph (A) for fiscal year 2001.

(ii) LOSS OF ELIGIBILITY.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—Subject to subclause (II), a heavily impacted local educational agency that met the requirements of clause (i) for a fiscal year shall be ineligible to receive a basic support payment under subparagraph (A) if the agency fails to meet the requirements of clause (i) for a subsequent fiscal year, except that such agency shall continue to receive a basic support payment under this paragraph for the fiscal year for which the ineligibility determination is made.

(II) LOSS OF ELIGIBILITY DUE TO FALLING BELOW 95 PERCENT OF THE AVERAGE TAX RATE FOR GENERAL FUND PURPOSES.—In the case of a heavily impacted local educational agency described in subclause (II) or (V) of clause (i) that is eligible to receive a basic support payment under subparagraph (A), but that has had, for 2 consecutive fiscal years, a tax rate for general fund purposes that falls below 95 percent of the average tax rate for general fund purposes of comparable local educational agencies in the State, such agency shall be determined to be ineligible under clause (i) and ineligible to receive a basic support payment under subparagraph (A) for each fiscal year succeeding such 2 consecutive fiscal years for which the agency has such a tax rate for general fund purposes, and until the fiscal year for which the agency resumes such eligibility in accordance with clause (iii).

(III) TAKEN OVER BY STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION.—In the case of a heavily impacted local educational agency that is eligible to receive a basic support payment under subparagraph (A), but that has been taken over by a State board of education in any 2 previous years, such agency shall be deemed to maintain heavily impacted status for 2 fiscal years following the date of enactment of the Every Student Succeeds Act.

(iii) RESUMPTION OF ELIGIBILITY.—A heavily impacted local educational agency described in clause (i) that becomes ineligible under such clause for 1 or more fiscal years may resume eligibility for a basic support payment under this paragraph for a subsequent fiscal year only if the agency meets the requirements of clause (i) for that subsequent fiscal year, except that such agency shall not receive a basic support payment under this paragraph until the fiscal year succeeding the fiscal year for which the eligibility determination is made.

(C) MAXIMUM AMOUNT FOR HEAVILY IMPACTED LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subparagraph (D), the maximum amount that a heavily impacted local educational agency is eligible to receive under this paragraph for any fiscal year is the sum of the total weighted student units, as computed under subsection (a)(2) and subject to clause (ii), multiplied by the greater of—

(I) four-fifths of the average per-pupil expenditure of the State in which the local educational agency is located for the third fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the determination is made; or

(II) four-fifths of the average per-pupil expenditure of all of the States for the third fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the determination is made.

(ii) CALCULATION OF WEIGHTED STUDENT UNITS.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—

(aa) PERCENTAGE ENROLLMENT.—For a local educational agency in which 35 percent or more of the total student enrollment of the schools of the agency are children described in subparagraph (D) or (E) (or a combination thereof) of subsection (a)(1), and that has an enrollment of children described in subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of such subsection equal to at least 10 percent of the agency's total enrollment, the Secretary shall calculate the weighted student units of those children described in subparagraph (D) or (E) of such subsection by multiplying the number of such children by a factor of 0.55.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(bb) EXCEPTION.—Notwithstanding item (aa), a local educational agency that received a payment under this paragraph for fiscal year 2013 shall not be required to have an enrollment of children described in subparagraph (A), (B), or (C) of subsection (a)(1) equal to at least 10 percent of the agency's total enrollment and shall be eligible for the student weight as provided for in item (aa).

(II) ENROLLMENT OF 100 OR FEWER CHILDREN.—For a local educational agency that has an enrollment of 100 or fewer children described in subsection (a)(1), the Secretary shall calculate the total number of weighted student units for purposes of subsection (a)(2) by multiplying the number of such children by a factor of 1.75.

(III) ENROLLMENT OF MORE THAN 100 CHILDREN BUT LESS THAN 1000.—For a local educational agency that is not described under subparagraph (B)(i)(I) and has an enrollment of more than 100 but not more than 1,000 children described in subsection (a)(1), the Secretary shall calculate the total number of weighted student units for purposes of subsection (a)(2) by multiplying the number of such children by a factor of 1.25.

(D) MAXIMUM AMOUNT FOR LARGE HEAVILY IMPACTED LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—

(I) FORMULA.—Subject to clauses (ii), (iii), and (iv), the maximum amount that a heavily impacted local educational agency described in subclause (II) is eligible to receive under this paragraph for any fiscal year shall be determined in accordance with the formula described in paragraph (1)(C).

(II) HEAVILY IMPACTED LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY.—A heavily impacted local educational agency described in this subclause is a local educational agency that received a payment for fiscal year 2015 under section 8003(b)(2)(E) (as such section was in effect for such fiscal year) and has a total student enrollment of not less than 25,000 students, of which not less than 35 percent are children described in subsection (a)(1) and—

(aa) not less than 3,500 of such children are children described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (a)(1); or

(bb) not less than 7,000 of such children are children described in subparagraph (D) of subsection (a)(1).

(ii) FACTOR.—For purposes of calculating the maximum amount described in clause (i), the factor used in determining the weighted student units under subsection (a)(2) with respect to children described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (a)(1) shall be—

(I) for fiscal year 2016, 1.35;

(II) for each of fiscal years 2017 and 2018, 1.38;

(III) for fiscal year 2019, 1.40;

(IV) for fiscal year 2020, 1.42; and

(V) for fiscal year 2021 and each fiscal year thereafter, 1.45.

(iii) FACTOR FOR CHILDREN WHO LIVE OFF BASE.—For purposes of calculating the maximum amount described in clause (i), the factor used in determining the weighted student units under subsection (a)(2) with respect to children described in subsection (a)(1)(D) shall be—

(I) for fiscal year 2016, .20;

(II) for each of fiscal years 2017 and 2018, .22;

(III) for each of fiscal years 2019 and 2020, .25; and

(IV) for fiscal year 2021 and each fiscal year thereafter—

(aa) .30 with respect to each of the first 7,000 children; and

(bb) .25 with respect to the number of children that exceeds 7,000.

(iv) SPECIAL RULE.—Notwithstanding clauses (ii) and (iii), for fiscal year 2020 or any succeeding fiscal year, if the number of students who are children described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (a)(1) for a local educational agency subject to this subparagraph exceeds 7,000 for such year or the number of students who are children described in subsection (a)(1)(D) for such local educational agency exceeds 12,750 for such year, then—

(I) the factor used, for the fiscal year for which the determination is being made, to determine the weighted student units under subsection (a)(2) with respect to children described in subparagraphs (A) and (B) of subsection (a)(1) shall be 1.40; and

(II) the factor used, for such fiscal year, to determine the weighted student units under subsection (a)(2) with respect to children described in subsection (a)(1)(D) shall be .20.

(E) DATA.—For purposes of providing assistance under this paragraph, the Secretary shall use student, revenue, expenditure, and tax data from the third fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the local educational agency is applying for assistance under this paragraph.

(F) DETERMINATION OF AVERAGE TAX RATES FOR GENERAL FUND PURPOSES.—

(i) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in clause (ii), for the purpose of determining the average tax rates for general fund purposes for local educational agencies in a State under this paragraph, the Secretary shall use either—

(I) the average tax rate for general fund purposes for comparable local educational agencies, as determined by the Secretary in regulations; or

(II) the average tax rate of all the local educational agencies in the State.

(ii) FISCAL YEARS 2010–2015.—

(I) IN GENERAL.—For fiscal years 2010 through 2015, any local educational agency that was found ineligible to receive a payment under subparagraph (A) because the Secretary determined that it failed to meet the average tax rate requirement for general fund purposes in subparagraph (B)(i)(II)(cc), shall be considered to have met that requirement, if its State determined, through an alternate calculation of average tax rates for general fund purposes, that such local educational agency met that requirement.

(II) SUBSEQUENT FISCAL YEARS AFTER 2015.—For any succeeding fiscal year after 2015, any local educational agency identified in subclause (I) may continue to have its State use that alternate methodology to calculate whether the average tax rate requirement for general fund purposes under subparagraph (B)(i)(II)(cc) is met.

(III) AVAILABILITY OF FUNDS.—Notwithstanding any other provision of law limiting the period during which the Secretary may obligate funds appropriated for any fiscal year after 2012, the Secretary shall reserve a total of $14,000,000 from funds that remain unobligated under this section from fiscal years 2015 or 2016 in order to make payments under this clause for fiscal years 2011 through 2014.

(G) ELIGIBILITY FOR HEAVILY IMPACTED LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES AFFECTED BY PRIVATIZATION OF MILITARY HOUSING.—

(i) ELIGIBILITY.—For any fiscal year, a heavily impacted local educational agency that received a basic support payment under this paragraph for the prior fiscal year, but is ineligible for such payment for the current fiscal year under subparagraph (B) due to the conversion of military housing units to private housing described in clause (iii), or as the direct result of base realignment and closure or modularization as determined by the Secretary of Defense and force structure change or force relocation, shall be deemed to meet the eligibility requirements under subparagraph (B) for the period during which the housing units are undergoing such conversion or during such time as activities associated with base closure and realignment, modularization, force structure change, or force relocation are ongoing.

(ii) AMOUNT OF PAYMENT.—The amount of a payment to a heavily impacted local educational agency for a fiscal year by reason of the application of clause (i), and calculated in accordance with subparagraph (C) or (D), as the case may be, shall be based on the number of children in average daily attendance in the schools of such agency for the fiscal year and under the same provisions of subparagraph (C) or (D) under which the agency was paid during the prior fiscal year.

(iii) CONVERSION OF MILITARY HOUSING UNITS TO PRIVATE HOUSING DESCRIBED.—For purposes of clause (i), "conversion of military housing units to private housing" means the conversion of military housing units to private housing units pursuant to subchapter IV of chapter 169 of title 10, United States Code, or pursuant to any other related provision of law.

(3) PAYMENTS WITH RESPECT TO FISCAL YEARS IN WHICH INSUFFICIENT FUNDS ARE APPROPRIATED.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—For any fiscal year in which the sums appropriated under section 7014(b) are insufficient to pay to each local educational agency the full amount computed under paragraphs (1) and (2), the Secretary shall make payments in accordance with this paragraph.

(B) LEARNING OPPORTUNITY THRESHOLD PAYMENTS IN LIEU OF PAYMENTS UNDER PARAGRAPH (1).—(i) For fiscal years described in subparagraph (A), the Secretary shall compute a learning opportunity threshold payment (hereafter in this title referred to as the "threshold payment") in lieu of basic support payments under paragraph (1) by multiplying the amount obtained under paragraph (1)(C) by the total percentage obtained by adding—

(I) the percentage of federally connected children for each local educational agency determined by calculating the fraction, the numerator of which is the total number of children described under subsection (a)(1) and the denominator of which is the total number of children in average daily attendance at the schools served by such agency; and

(II) the percentage that funds under paragraph (1)(C) represent of the total budget of the local educational agency, determined by calculating the fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount of funds calculated for each local educational agency under this paragraph, and the denominator of which is the total current expenditures for such agency in the second preceding fiscal year for which the determination is made.

(ii) Such total percentage used to calculate threshold payments under paragraph (1) shall not exceed 100.

(iii) In the case of a local educational agency providing a free public education to students enrolled in kindergarten through grade 12, that enrolls students described in subparagraphs (A), (B), and (D) of subsection (a)(1) only in grades 9 through 12, and that received a final payment for fiscal year 2009 calculated under section 7003(b)(3) (as such section was in effect on the day before the date of enactment of the Every Student Succeeds Act) for students in grades 9 through 12, the Secretary shall, in calculating the agency's payment, consider only that portion of such agency's total enrollment of students in grades 9 through 12 when calculating the percentage under clause (i)(I) and only that portion of the total current expenditures attributed to the operation of grades 9 through 12 in such agency when calculating the percentage under clause (i)(II).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(iv) In the case of a local educational agency that has a total student enrollment of fewer than 1,000 students and that has a per-pupil expenditure that is less than the average per-pupil expenditure of the State in which the agency is located or less than the average per-pupil expenditure of all the States, the total percentage used to calculate threshold payments under clause (i) shall not be less than 40 percent.

(C) LEARNING OPPORTUNITY THRESHOLD PAYMENTS IN LIEU OF PAYMENTS UNDER PARAGRAPH (2).—For fiscal years described in subparagraph (A), the learning opportunity threshold payment in lieu of basic support payments under paragraph (2) shall be equal to the amount obtained under subparagraph (C) or (D) of paragraph (2), as the case may be.

(D) RATABLE DISTRIBUTION.—For fiscal years described in subparagraph (A), for which the sums available exceed the amount required to pay each local educational agency 100 percent of its threshold payment, the Secretary shall distribute the excess sums to each eligible local educational agency that has not received its full amount computed under paragraphs (1) or (2) (as the case may be) by multiplying—

(i) a percentage, the denominator of which is the difference between the full amount computed under paragraph (1) or (2) (as the case may be) for all local educational agencies and the amount of the threshold payment (as calculated under subparagraphs (B) and (C)) of all local educational agencies, and the numerator of which is the aggregate of the excess sums, by

(ii) the difference between the full amount computed under paragraph (1) or (2) (as the case may be) for the agency and the amount of the threshold payment (as calculated under subparagraphs (B) or (C)) of the agency, except that no local educational agency shall receive more than 100 percent of the maximum payment calculated under subparagraph (C) or (D) of paragraph (2).

(E) INSUFFICIENT PAYMENTS.—For each fiscal year described in subparagraph (A) for which the sums appropriated are insufficient to pay each local educational agency all of the local educational agency's threshold payment described in subparagraph (B), the Secretary shall ratably reduce the payment to each local educational agency under this paragraph.

(F) INCREASES.—

(i) INCREASES BASED ON INSUFFICIENT FUNDS.—If additional funds become available under 7014(b) for making payments under paragraphs (1) and (2) and those funds are not sufficient to increase each local educational agency's threshold payment above 100 percent of its threshold payment described in subparagraph (B), payments that were reduced under subparagraph (E) shall be increased by the Secretary on the same basis as such payments were reduced.

(ii) INCREASES BASED ON SUFFICIENT FUNDS.—If additional funds become available under section 7014(b) for making payments under paragraphs (1) and (2) and those funds are sufficient to increase each local educational agency's threshold payment above 100 percent of its threshold payment described in subparagraph (B), the payment for each local educational agency shall be 100 percent of its threshold payment. The Secretary shall then distribute the excess sums to each eligible local educational agency in accordance with subparagraph (D).

(G) PROVISION OF TAX RATE AND RESULTING PERCENTAGE.—As soon as practicable following the payment of funds under paragraph (2) to an eligible local educational agency, the Secretary shall provide the local educational agency with a description of—

(i) the tax rate of the local educational agency; and

(ii) the percentage such tax rate represents of the average tax rate for general fund purposes of comparable local educational agencies in the State as determined under subclauses (II)(cc), III(aa), or (V)(bb) of paragraph (2)(B)(i) (as the case may be).

(4) STATES WITH ONLY ONE LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In any of the 50 States of the United States in which there is only one local educational agency, the Secretary shall, for purposes of subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (1) or subparagraphs (B) and (C) of paragraph (2), as the case may be, paragraph (3) of this subsection, and subsection (e), consider each administrative school district in the State to be a separate local educational agency.

(B) COMPUTATION OF MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF BASIC SUPPORT PAYMENT AND THRESHOLD PAYMENT.—In computing the maximum payment amount under paragraph (1)(C) or subparagraph (C) or (D) of paragraph (2), as the case may be, and the learning opportunity threshold payment under subparagraph (B) or (C) of paragraph (3), as the case may be, for an administrative school district described in subparagraph (A)—

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Page 609

(i) the Secretary shall first determine the maximum payment amount and the total current expenditures for the State as a whole; and

(ii) the Secretary shall then—

(I) proportionately allocate such maximum payment amount among the administrative school districts on the basis of the respective weighted student units of such districts; and

(II) proportionately allocate such total current expenditures among the administrative school districts on the basis of the respective number of students in average daily attendance at such districts.

(5) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCIES AFFECTED BY REMOVAL OF FEDERAL PROPERTY.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—In computing the amount of a basic support payment under this subsection for a fiscal year for a local educational agency described in subparagraph (B), the Secretary shall meet the additional requirements described in subparagraph (C).

(B) LOCAL EDUCATIONAL AGENCY DESCRIBED.—A local educational agency described in this subparagraph is a local educational agency with respect to which Federal property (i) located within the boundaries of the agency, and (ii) on which one or more children reside who are receiving a free public education at a school of the agency, is transferred by the Federal Government to another entity in any fiscal year beginning on or after the date of the enactment of the Impact Aid Reauthorization Act of 2000 so that the property is subject to taxation by the State or a political subdivision of the State.

(C) ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENTS.—The additional requirements described in this subparagraph are the following:

(i) For each fiscal year beginning after the date on which the Federal property is transferred, a child described in subparagraph (B) who continues to reside on such property and who continues to receive a free public education at a school of the agency shall be deemed to be a child who resides on Federal property for purposes of computing under the applicable subparagraph of subsection (a)(1) the amount that the agency is eligible to receive under this subsection.

(ii)(I) For the third fiscal year beginning after the date on which the Federal property is transferred, and for each fiscal year thereafter, the Secretary shall, after computing the amount that the agency is otherwise eligible to receive under this subsection for the fiscal year involved, deduct from such amount an amount equal to the revenue received by the agency for the immediately preceding fiscal year as a result of the taxable status of the former Federal property.

(II) For purposes of determining the amount of revenue to be deducted in accordance with subclause (I), the local educational agency—

(aa) shall provide for a review and certification of such amount by an appropriate local tax authority; and

(bb) shall submit to the Secretary a report containing the amount certified under item (aa).

(c) PRIOR YEAR DATA.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as provided in subsections (b)(1)(D), (b)(2), and paragraph (2), all calculations under this section shall be based on data for each local educational agency from not later than the fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the agency is making application for payment.

(2) EXCEPTION.—Calculation of payments for a local educational agency shall be based on data from the fiscal year for which the agency is making an application for payment if such agency—

(A) is newly established by a State, for the first year of operation of such agency only;

(B) was eligible to receive a payment under this section for the previous fiscal year and has had an overall increase in enrollment (as determined by the Secretary in consultation with the Secretary of Defense, the Secretary of the Interior, or the heads of other Federal agencies)—

(i)(I) of not less than 10 percent of children described in—

(aa) subparagraph (A), (B), (C), or (D) of subsection (a)(1); or

(bb) subparagraphs (F) and (G) of subsection (a)(1), but only to the extent that such children are civilian dependents of employees of the Department of Defense or the Department of the Interior; or

(II) of not less than 100 of such children; and

(ii) that is the direct result of closure or realignment of military installations under the base closure process or the relocation of members of the Armed Forces and civilian employees of the Department of Defense as part of the force structure changes or movements of units or personnel between military installations or because of actions initiated by the Secretary of the Interior or the head of another Federal agency; or

(C) was eligible to receive a payment under this section for the previous fiscal year and has had an increase in enrollment (as determined by the Secretary)—

(i) of not less than 10 percent of children described in subsection (a)(1) or not less than 100 of such children; and

(ii) that is the direct result of the closure of a local educational agency that received a payment under subsection (b)(1) or (b)(2) for the previous fiscal year.

(1) IN GENERAL.—From the amount appropriated under section 7014(c) for a fiscal year, the Secretary shall pay to each eligible local educational agency, on a pro rata basis, the amounts determined by—

(A) multiplying the number of children described in subparagraphs (A)(ii), (B) and (C) of subsection (a)(1) who are eligible to receive services under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (20 U.S.C. 1400 et seq.) by a factor of 1.0; and

(B) multiplying the number of children described in subparagraph (D) of subsection (a)(1) who are eligible to receive services under such Act by a factor of 0.5.

(2) USE OF FUNDS.—A local educational agency that receives funds under paragraph (1) shall use such funds to provide a free appropriate public education to children described in paragraph (1) in accordance with the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (20 U.S.C. 1400 et seq.).

(e) HOLD HARMLESS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—In the case of any local educational agency eligible to receive a payment under subsection (b) whose calculated payment amount for a fiscal year is reduced by 20 percent, as compared to the amount received for the previous fiscal year, the Secretary shall pay the local educational agency, for the year of the reduction and the following 2 years, the amount determined under paragraph (2).

(2) AMOUNT OF REDUCTION.—Subject to paragraph (3), A local educational agency described in paragraph (1) shall receive—

(A) for the first year for which the reduced payment is determined, an amount that is not less than 90 percent of the total amount that the local educational agency received under subsection (b) for the previous fiscal year;

(B) for the second year following such reduction, an amount that is not less than 85 percent of the total amount that the local educational agency received under subparagraph (A); and

(C) for the third year following such reduction, an amount that is not less than 80 percent of the total amount that the local educational agency received under subparagraph (B).

(3) SPECIAL RULE.—For any fiscal year for which a local educational agency would receive a payment under subsection (b) in excess of the amount determined under paragraph (2), the payment received by the local educational agency for such fiscal year shall be calculated under paragraph (1) or (2) of subsection (b).

(4) RATABLE REDUCTIONS.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—If the sums made available under this title for any fiscal year are insufficient to pay the full amounts that all local educational agencies in all States are eligible to receive under paragraph (1) for such year, then the Secretary shall ratably reduce the payments to all such agencies for such year.

(B) Within ten working days from receipt of a complaint, the Secretary shall—

(i) designate a time and place for a hearing into the matters relating to the complaint at a location in close proximity to the local educational agency involved, or if the Secretary determines there is good cause, at some other location convenient to both the tribe, or its designee, and the local educational agency;

(ii) designate a hearing examiner to conduct the hearing; and

(iii) notify the affected tribe or tribes and the local educational agency involved of the time, place, and nature of the hearing and send copies of the complaint to the local educational agency and the affected tribe or tribes.

(2) HEARING.—The hearing shall be held within 30 days of the designation of a hearing examiner and shall be open to the public. A record of the proceedings shall be established and maintained.

(3) EVIDENCE; RECOMMENDATIONS; COST.—The complaining tribe, or its designee, and the local educational agency shall be entitled to present evidence on matters relevant to the complaint and to make recommendations concerning the appropriate remedial actions. (8) WITHHOLDING.—If the local educational agency rejects the determination of the Secretary, or if the remedy required is not undertaken within the time established and the Secretary determines that an extension of the time established will not effectively encourage the remedy required, the Secretary shall withhold payment of all moneys to which such local agency is eligible under section 7003 until such time as the remedy required is undertaken, except where the complaining tribe or its designee formally requests that such funds be released to the local educational agency, except that the Secretary may not withhold such moneys during the course of the school year if the Secretary determines that such withholding would substantially disrupt the educational programs of the local educational agency.

(9) REJECTION OF DETERMINATION.—If the local educational agency rejects the determination of the Secretary and a tribe exercises the option under section 1101(d) of the Education Amendments of 1978, to have education services provided either directly by the Bureau of Indian Education or by contract with the Bureau of Indian Education, any Indian students affiliated with that tribe who wish to remain in attendance at the local educational agency against whom the complaint which led to the tribal action under such subsection (d) was lodged may be counted with respect to that local educational agency for the purpose of receiving funds under section 7003. SEC. 7008. [20 U.S.C. 7708] FACILITIES.

(a) CURRENT FACILITIES.—From the amount appropriated for any fiscal year under section 7014(e), the Secretary may continue to provide assistance for school facilities that were supported by the Secretary under section 10 of the Act of September 23, 1950 (Public Law 815, 81st Congress) (as such Act was in effect on the day preceding the date of the enactment of the Improving America's Schools Act of 1994).

(b) TRANSFER OF FACILITIES.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—The Secretary shall, as soon as practicable, transfer to the appropriate local educational agency or another appropriate entity all the right, title, and interest of the United States in and to each facility provided under section 10 of the Act of September 23, 1950 (Public Law 815, 81st Congress), or under section 204 or 310 of the Act of September 30, 1950 (Public Law 874, 81st Congress) (as such Acts were in effect on January 1, 1958).

(2) OTHER REQUIREMENTS.—Any such transfer shall be without charge to such agency or entity, and prior to such transfer, the transfer shall be consented to by the local educational agency or other appropriate entity, and may be made on such terms and conditions as the Secretary deems appropriate to carry out the purposes of this title.

SEC. 7009. [20 U.S.C. 7709] STATE CONSIDERATION OF PAYMENTS IN PROVIDING STATE AID.

(a) GENERAL PROHIBITION.—Except as provided in subsection (b), a State may not—

(1) consider payments under this title in determining for any fiscal year—

(A) the eligibility of a local educational agency for State aid for free public education; or

(B) the amount of such aid; or

(2) make such aid available to local educational agencies in a manner that results in less State aid to any local educational agency that is eligible for such payment than such agency would receive if such agency were not so eligible.

(b) STATE EQUALIZATION PLANS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—A State may reduce State aid to a local educational agency that receives a payment under section 7002 or 7003(b) (except the amount calculated in excess of 1.0 under section 7003(a)(2)(B) and, with respect to a local educational agency that receives a payment under section 7003(b)(2), the amount in excess of the amount that the agency would receive if the agency were deemed to be an agency eligible to receive a payment under section 7003(b)(1) and not section 7003(b)(2)) for any fiscal year if the Secretary determines, and certifies under subsection (c)(3)(A), that the State has in effect a program of State aid that equalizes expenditures for free public education among local educational agencies in the State.

(2) COMPUTATION.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—For purposes of paragraph (1), a program of State aid equalizes expenditures among local educational agencies if, in the second fiscal year preceding the fiscal year for which the determination is made, the amount of per-pupil expenditures made by, or per-pupil revenues available to, the local educational agency in the State with the highest such per-pupil expenditures or revenues did not exceed the amount of such per-pupil expenditures made by, or per-pupil revenues available to, the local educational agency in the State with the lowest such expenditures or revenues by more than 25 percent.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(B) OTHER FACTORS.—In making a determination under this subsection, the Secretary shall—

(i) disregard local educational agencies with per-pupil expenditures or revenues above the 95th percentile or below the 5th percentile of such expenditures or revenues in the State; and

(ii) take into account the extent to which a program of State aid reflects the additional cost of providing free public education in particular types of local educational agencies, such as those that are geographically isolated, or to particular types of students, such as children with disabilities.

(3) EXCEPTION.—Notwithstanding paragraph (2), if the Secretary determines that the State has substantially revised its program of State aid, the Secretary may certify such program for any fiscal year only if—

(A) the Secretary determines, on the basis of projected data, that the State's program will meet the disparity standard described in paragraph (2) for the fiscal year for which the determination is made; and

(B) the State provides an assurance to the Secretary that, if final data do not demonstrate that the State's program met such standard for the fiscal year for which the determination is made, the State will pay to each affected local educational agency the amount by which the State reduced State aid to the local educational agency.

(c) PROCEDURES FOR REVIEW OF STATE EQUALIZATION PLANS.—

(1) WRITTEN NOTICE.—

(A) IN GENERAL.—Any State that wishes to consider payments described in subsection (b)(1) in providing State aid to local educational agencies shall submit to the Secretary, not later than 120 days before the beginning of the State's fiscal year, a written notice of such State's intention to do so.

(B) CONTENTS.—Such notice shall be in the form that the Secretary requires, including evidence that the State has notified each local educational agency in the State of such State's intention to consider such payments in providing State aid.

(2) OPPORTUNITY TO PRESENT VIEWS.—Before making a determination under subsection (b), the Secretary shall afford the State, and local educational agencies in the State, an opportunity to present their views.

(3) QUALIFICATION PROCEDURES.—If the Secretary determines that a program of State aid qualifies under subsection (b), the Secretary shall—

(A) certify the program and so notify the State; and

Such systems should continue to include robust choice for parents through a mixed delivery system of services so parents can determine the right early learning and child care option for their children. States, while protecting the rights of early learning and child care providers, retain the right to make decisions that shall include the age at which to set compulsory attendance in school, the content of a State's early learning guidelines, and how to determine quality in programs.

Educating Young Dual Language and English Learners

This expert seminar will provide a brief overview of a recent report from the National Academies of Sciences, Engineering, and Medicine that examines what research reveals about learning English from early childhood through high school. Eugene García, Ph.D. will provide an overview of relevant research on guiding principles, programs, practices, and strategies that promote positive developmental and educational outcomes for dual language learners in early care and education settings. His presentation will provide a specific emphasis on the prekindergarten years, ages 3 to 5. A question and answer session and discussion will follow Dr. García's presentation.

U.S. Department of Education Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years 2018–22

ED-17-0431-F-004186

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Message from the Secretary

When confronted with any decision at the Department, my first question is always the same: what will most benefit students? Improving education for every student is the entirety of the Department's mission, and this administration remains laser-focused on keeping students at the center of all we do.

In order to better serve students and prepare them for the opportunities and challenges of the 21st century, we can no longer afford to simply tinker around the edges. The U.S. Department of Education's Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years (FY) 2018–22 provides a bold framework for implementing President Trump's education agenda to help our students succeed and strengthen America's global competitiveness. We can take significant strides toward addressing the shortcomings in American education by returning decision-making power to those closest to students: parents, educators, states and local communities.

The Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA)–signed into law in 2015 and currently in its first year of implementation–does just that. No two states are the same–each has its own unique education challenges and opportunities. And, as in any other sector, the best solutions in education will come from the bottom up, not mandated from the top down. ESSA's organizing principle reflects this reality: states, not the federal government, must lead the way in improving education for every student in America. It is our hope that, in turn, the states will do the right thing and empower parents and local communities.

Implementing ESSA is just the first step in making education more student-centric to serve the inherent unique needs of each child. Every student has different abilities and learns in different ways. Students should have access to a wide range of educational options, and their families should be able to choose the learning environment that best meets the needs of their child. It is imperative all students gain that access, regardless of where they live or how much money their family earns.

But a student's education should not end after graduating from high school. There are many pathways students can choose in their quest for lifelong learning and employment, and the number of students seeking alternatives to a traditional 4-year college degree is expected to grow in the coming years. We are committed to supporting the expansion of available postsecondary education opportunities to better meet students' needs and give them the skills to succeed.

We have started by making Pell Grants available year-round. This gives low-income students the flexibility to complete their education at a faster pace if they so choose, thereby potentially reducing their debt and allowing them to pursue the next chapter of their lives.

Access to federal student aid has allowed millions of students to further their education, yet the customer experience for acquiring and paying off these loans has been subpar at best. Complex applications, confusing notifications and multiple platforms have all led to a lack of clarity and created an onerous process for borrowers. This reality has prompted us to begin transforming Federal Student Aid's service delivery by implementing the Next Generation Processing and Servicing Environment. There is no reason a student should not be able to fill out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) on their phone in one sitting. Our goal is to put in place an environment that will greatly enhance the user experience while protecting taxpayer dollars.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Finally, it is important for the Department not only to look for avenues where we can help, but also to examine whether we are creating unnecessary burdens on educators, administrators and, most importantly, families. We want to foster a culture of innovation in education, and that begins by reviewing and removing those regulations that make it harder for educators to do what they do best: educate.

Per the President's executive order on regulatory reform, the Department is conducting a thorough review of all regulations and guidance documents currently on the books to ensure they are helping, not hindering, students. After an initial review, we rescinded over 600 outdated subregulatory documents, making it easier for families, educators and administrators to find relevant resources the Department provides.

It is incumbent upon us to bring education up to speed to meet the ever-evolving demands of the 21st century. Thanks to the support of the President, and with the efforts of our entire staff, the Department of Education is poised to do just that.

Betsy DeVos
Secretary of Education

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

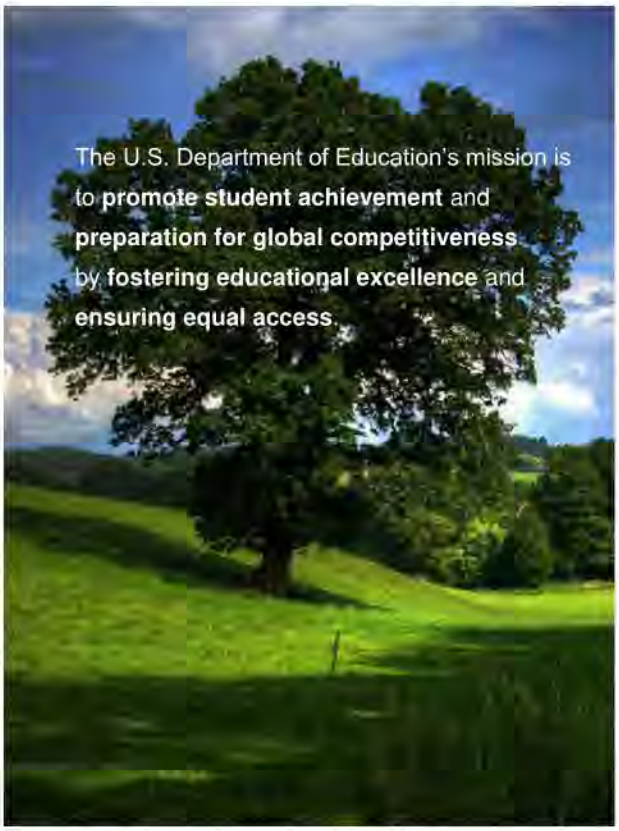
Department's Mission



The U.S. Department of Education (the Department) executes the laws passed by Congress to promote student academic achievement and preparation for global competitiveness. The Department works with parents, students, educational institutions, school districts and states to foster educational excellence and to ensure equal access to education for all students.

The Department pursues its mission by administering programs that provide services throughout an individual's entire lifespan–from early intervention services to employment programs. Many of these programs provide grants to state or local educational agencies and support students and families from vulnerable populations, including children with disabilities and those from disadvantaged backgrounds. These programs also provide grants and loans to postsecondary students and facilitate research that examines ways that schools, districts, states and postsecondary institutions can improve America's education system. In addition, the Department fulfills its mission through the enforcement of civil rights laws that ensure equal access.

While recognizing the primary role of states and school districts in providing high-quality education, the Department is committed to helping ensure students throughout the nation develop skills to succeed in school, pursue postsecondary opportunities and transition to the workforce. Through its Strategic Plan for Fiscal Years (FY) 2018–22, the Department's vision is to support educational institutions, parents, families and communities in developing their capacity to improve outcomes for all students. The Department's Strategic Goals and associated Strategic Objectives are shown in Figure 1.

In addition to establishing the Strategic Goals and Strategic Objectives that will guide the Department's policy, budget and human resource decisions during the next four years, this Strategic Plan aligns with the Agency Reform Plan. Specifically, the implementation strategies that support this Strategic Plan leverage opportunities to manage programs and to deliver services more effectively to the students, parents and communities the Department serves, as well as to create a more productive and rewarding place to work for its employees.

The Department engaged stakeholders during the development of this Strategic Plan and its Agency Reform Plan. Specifically, in July 2017, the Department invited feedback from education stakeholders on how the Department could best serve the needs of America's students, families and educators and implement its mission. The Department also shared the initial draft of the Strategic Plan framework with Congress at that time. This early consultation informed the development of both plans. In November 2017, the Department shared a draft of its Strategic Plan on its website and invited feedback again. This Strategic Plan establishes goals and objectives that aim to improve services to the public by increasing the flexibility and support the Department provides to states, districts and postsecondary institutions in their efforts to provide a high-quality education to all students.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

In collaboration with the Office of Management and Budget (OMB), the Department establishes four Agency Priority Goals (APGs) for FY 2018–19 that align with this Strategic Plan and the Agency Reform Plan. These APGs and the related Strategic Objectives are shown in Figure 2 below.

FY 2018–19 Agency Priority Goals

APG	Related Strategic Objective
Improve the access to, and the quality and transparency of, school choice options for K-12 students. By September 30, 2019, the Charter School Program (CSP) will support the creation and expansion of 300 new charter schools nationally. The CSP will also support the enrollment of 50,000 students in new charter schools. Additionally, by September 30, 2019, the Department will disseminate eight resources, at least one per quarter, on evidence-based and promising practices related to school choice.	Strategic Objective 1.1: Increase high-quality educational options and empower students and parents to choose an education that meets their needs.
Improve borrowers' access to quality customer service. By September 30, 2019, Federal Student Aid will improve customers' access to and availability of quality customer service by decreasing the overall average speed of answer to 60 seconds or less, decreasing abandoned rates to three percent or less and requiring all non-default federal student loan servicers to expand and standardize call center hours.	Strategic Objective 2.4: Improve quality of service for customers across the entire student aid life cycle.
Improve student privacy and data security at Institutions of Higher Education (IHEs) through outreach and compliance efforts. By September 30, 2019, the Department will increase information security program outreach activities to IHEs by 40% in order to help protect IT systems and data privacy and commence audits of IHEs subject to A-133 and Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act (GLBA), resulting in 36 IHEs (from a baseline of zero) completing an audit of GLBA-related information security safeguards with no significant findings.	Strategic Objective 3.2: Improve privacy protections for, and transparency of, education data both at the Department and in the education community.
Provide regulatory relief to education stakeholders. By September 30, 2019, the Department will reduce the regulatory burden on education stakeholders by submitting to OMB no less than 25 deregulatory actions (against a baseline of zero (0) for FYs 2015 and 2016).	Strategic Objective 4.1: Provide regulatory relief to educational institutions and reduce burden by identifying time-consuming regulations, processes and policies and working to improve or eliminate them, while continuing to protect taxpayers from waste and abuse.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Cross-Agency Priority (CAP) Goals

In addition to the APGs, the Department contributes to CAP Goals established by the Administration. These CAP Goals are used by leadership to accelerate progress on a limited number of Presidential priority areas where implementation requires active collaboration among multiple agencies. The Department will contribute to the CAP goals, as appropriate and will include information on its contributions in the FY 2018 Annual Performance Report and FY 2020 Annual Performance Plan.

The Department supports educational institutions, parents and state and local communities in developing their capacity to improve outcomes for all students. As such, the success of this Strategic Plan relies on the resources available for the Department to support these education stakeholders.

Details on annual performance and program evaluations are available in the Department's Annual Performance Reports, available online at https://www2.ed.gov/about/reports/annual/index.html.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Strategic Goal 1

Support state and local efforts to improve learning outcomes for all P-12 students in every community.

Outcomes

Strategic Goal 1 and Strategic Objectives 1.1-1.4 focus on outcomes related to the transition from the No Child Left Behind Act to implementation of the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), which reauthorized the Elementary and Secondary Education Act in December 2015.

Every Student Succeeds Act* (ESSA) Highlights

- Solidifies high expectations for all students.
- Provides for a balanced approach to testing.
- Provides opportunities for children to access high-quality preschool.
- Invests in evidence-based and innovative local programs.
- Provides intervention and support for schools and students that need the most help.

The hallmark of the ESSA is the flexibility it provides for states. The ESSA maintains important transparency and accountability provisions for all students. Additionally, grants and programs authorized by law help ensure that all students receive a well-rounded education. The ESSA provides the flexibility for states to do what is best for children while preserving important protections for economically disadvantaged students, children with disabilities, English language learners and other vulnerable students. The law requires that states take steps to ensure all students have access to excellent teachers and positive, safe learning environments that equip them for college and career success.

The ESSA requires states to develop program plans with ambitious targets to close student achievement and graduation rate gaps among student groups to meet established goals that require progress for all students.

The Department will annually work with states to ensure that all required public data elements related to student and school performance are being reported in the required timeframe. Increased transparency will empower parents and students and will provide an opportunity for states and other education and community stakeholders to identify areas for targeted technical assistance that the Department can support.

The ESSA ensures that all students have access to excellent teachers and a positive and safe learning environment to equip them for college and career success.

The Department's work on this Strategic Goal and related objectives also supports children with disabilities. Pursuant to the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA), the Department works to ensure that all eligible children with disabilities have a free appropriate public education designed to meet their unique needs and prepare them for further education, employment and independent living.

To meet this responsibility, the Department works to protect the rights of children with disabilities and their parents, to promote systemic improvement in the delivery of special education services and related services and of supplementary aids and services and to support the development and implementation of personnel preparation. The Department also provides states and localities with the technical assistance and other support necessary to improve educational results for children with disabilities.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Department will provide technical assistance through a variety of modes, by:

- Providing tools, resources and technical support related to understanding the requirements of the laws.
- Engaging in performance reviews to ensure implementation of the laws.
- Providing individual assistance as needed, as well as opportunities for peer-to-peer learning through communities of practice and learning collaboratives to expose educators to subject matter experts and promising practices in other states.

Technical Assistance to Support Strategic Goal 1

- Tools, resources and technical support.
- Performance reviews.
- Individual assistance and peer-to-peer learning through communities of practice.

This technical assistance aims to support states that implement evidence-based practices, continuous improvement, data reporting, engagement of stakeholders, effective allocation of resources and management of performance to maximize opportunity and the impact of federal programs.

Strategic Objective 1.1

Increase high-quality educational options and empower students and parents to choose an education that meets their needs.

The Department will support greater state and local flexibility in elementary and secondary education and encourage state and local educational agencies to increase the number and quality of educational opportunities to provide for meaningful school choice. This Strategic Objective aims to improve access to high-quality K-12 educational options by supporting school choice and providing families, especially families from historically underserved communities, with the information and tools needed to select the option that best meets their children's needs. Regardless of ZIP code or family income, parents and students should have access to high-quality educational options.

Implementation Strategies

To implement this Strategic Objective, the Department will encourage state and local educational agencies to expand school choice by administering programs that increase educational options (e.g., the Charter Schools Program and the Magnet Schools Assistance Program). The Department will also promote the adoption of student-centered funding formulas combined with open enrollment systems. Additionally, the Department will support state and local efforts by providing technical assistance that:

Expanded Educational Options to Support School Choice

- Charter Schools Program.
- Student-centered funding formulas.
- Open enrollment systems.

- Encourages collaboration with external organizations and subject matter experts.
- Supports the implementation of innovative practices.
- Highlights and benchmarks best practices.
- Supports states in the implementation of their ESSA plans.
- Ensures federal funding is dispersed to all schools, including charter schools, both equitably and in accordance with the law.
- Strengthens chartering and charter school quality.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Empowers parents and students by disseminating information about school choice options.
- Protects the rights of economically disadvantaged students, children with disabilities, English language learners and other vulnerable learners.

Through this Strategic Objective, the Department will seek to create new opportunities to support school choice, including support for new investments in public and private school choice.

Strategic Objective 1.2

Provide all P-12 students with equal access to high-quality educational opportunities.

This Strategic Objective considers characteristics that are necessary to ensure both access to opportunities and the quality of such opportunities. The ESSA provides a framework to characterize high-quality educational opportunities, including:

- High academic standards and high-quality assessments.
- A well-rounded education that includes a safe and healthy environment and integrated technology.
- Access to effective teachers and strong systems of collaboration among education stakeholders.
- Proper support and interventions for struggling students and opportunities for enrichment experiences before, after and during the school day.

The ESSA provides a framework that characterizes high-quality educational opportunities.

Access to such educational opportunities for all students, regardless of race, color, religion, sex, national origin or disability, is critical for students to have the opportunity to reach their full potential.

Implementation Strategies

School quality, climate and safety are essential components of a high-quality educational opportunity. The primary implementation strategy for this Strategic Objective is to support educational institutions, parents and communities in developing their capacity to improve outcomes for all students. In this support role, the Department will:

- Provide technical assistance and tools to support states and increase their capacity to implement their ESSA state plans.
- Support state and local educational agencies in improving school conditions, thereby increasing access to instructional time and learning.
- Ensure students with disabilities have access to special education and related services and supplementary aids and services that meet their unique educational needs, including appropriately ambitious individualized education program goals and the chance to meet challenging objectives.
- Leverage Department accountability systems, such as the Office of Special Education and Rehabilitative Services' Results Driven Accountability, to support states in improving outcomes for students.
- Support educational agencies as they improve and increase their technology infrastructure, connectivity and professional development to effectively integrate educational technology.
- Support increased access to transformative learning experiences through the use of high-quality digital resources, including openly-licensed resources, particularly for rural students.
- Ensure equal access to education and promote educational excellence across the nation through vigorous enforcement of civil rights and the provision of technical assistance to help schools achieve compliance with the civil rights laws enforced by the Office for Civil Rights (OCR).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Monitor and share data from ESSA state plans, including data specific to conditions of learning and educator effectiveness, so that the public is aware of state educational agencies' goals and activities.
- Support the implementation of evidence-based strategies in instructional language programs for English learners through technical assistance and dissemination of new research and information on English Language Learner pedagogy.
- Monitor and share data and information from IDEA State Performance Plans, including the State Systemic Improvement Plan, so that the public is aware of the extent to which each state is meeting the requirements of IDEA and improving results for children with disabilities.
- Support state agencies and local providers in improving results for young children with disabilities by providing technical assistance and support.
- Provide evidence-based resources and technical assistance through the Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP) and OSEP-funded technical assistance centers to states, schools, early childhood programs and families to support the smooth transitions of preschoolers with disabilities from early intervention to preschool and from preschool to kindergarten.

Strategic Objective 1.3

Prepare all students for successful transitions to college and careers by supporting access to dual enrollment, job skills development and high-quality science, technology, engineering and mathematics (STEM).

This Strategic Objective will help the Department support state and local educational agencies in the implementation of well-rounded education programs that prepare students for college and careers. All students, including students with disabilities and educationally disadvantaged students, have the right to reach their full potential. Students should have opportunities that prepare them for the transition to college and meaningful careers.

Implementation Strategies

Access to accelerated coursework to earn postsecondary credit while still in high school, such as Advanced Placement and International Baccalaureate courses and dual or concurrent enrollment programs, is critical for students as they prepare for the transition to college and career. Pursuant to the Student Support and Academic Enrichment program authorized under Title IV, Part A, and the ESSA state report card requirements, the Department will support state and local educational agencies in their plans to provide all students a well-rounded education.

Support for Successful Student Transitions to College and Careers

- Accelerated high school coursework to earn postsecondary credit.
- Dual or concurrent enrollment programs.
- Incentives to state and local educational agencies.
- Expansion of earn-and-learn models available to secondary students.

The Department's implementation of the Presidential Executive Order on Expanding Apprenticeships in America will also support this Strategic Objective by providing incentives to state and local educational agencies to expand the earn-and-learn models available to secondary students. These models combine a career-oriented academic curriculum, relevant work experience and student financial assistance. Under this Strategic Objective, the Department will encourage grantees to enhance students' access to opportunities that will challenge and prepare them for college and careers.

Additionally, the Department will:

- Provide technical assistance to state and local educational agencies in supporting vulnerable populations, such as students in rural communities, to transition successfully to college and careers.
- Promote the importance of STEM skills (e.g., problem solving, critical thinking) and financial literacy related to career readiness.
- Provide technical assistance designed to support state vocational rehabilitation agencies and third-party apprenticeship entities, employers and training providers that will focus on strategies and related activities to support the participation of individuals with disabilities in both new and existing apprenticeships.
- Provide technical assistance to state and local agencies to support career, technical and adult education.
- Provide technical assistance to states in implementing pre-employment transition services to youth with disabilities to ensure a smooth and effective transition to post-secondary education and/or employment.

Strategic Objective 1.4

Support agencies and institutions in the implementation of evidence-based strategies and practices that build the capacity of school staff and families to support students' academic performance.

This Strategic Objective focuses on public investments in education that result in positive academic outcomes for students. The Department generates, collects and distributes evidence through valid and reliable data, strong research and rigorous evaluations that can help states and school districts identify what works, for which students and under what conditions. Through this Strategic Objective, the Department is also expanding its work to support states as they implement provisions in the ESSA that require the use of evidence when determining what education interventions to implement.

Implementation Strategies

The ESSA recognizes that the primary responsibility for creating, improving and sustaining public education systems lies with state and local educational agencies. Consequently, the implementation strategies for this Strategic Objective focus on providing resources and support to state and local educational agencies to assist them in identifying, implementing and expanding evidence-based strategies. As such, the Department will provide to grantees existing resources supported by evidence and collaborate with external partners to help disseminate resources supported by evidence to their constituents.

To date, the Department has released non-regulatory guidance to serve as a framework for technical assistance related to the implementation of ESSA's evidence provision. The guidance, Using Evidence to Strengthen Education Investments, recommends a five-step decision-making process to promote continuous improvement and support better outcomes for students. This guidance serves as a framework for the Department's technical assistance related to implementation of ESSA's evidence provisions. The Department will continue its outreach to stakeholders. A key principle across these strategies is sustained technical assistance that continuously builds capacity and targets specific state and local needs. The Department will also continue to support efforts to build evidence on effective strategies to improve teaching and learning and to disseminate the results to states, school districts and the public.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Department's efforts on this Strategic Objective extend to families by bolstering their ability to assist in their children's academic development. For children with disabilities, the Department will continue to support its nationwide network of Parent Training and Information Centers and Community Parent Resource Centers. These centers provide parents with information and training about disabilities, protections under IDEA and rights under other relevant laws and local, state and national resources to support children with disabilities. Community Parent Resource Centers focus on reaching isolated and underserved parents of children with disabilities, such as those with low incomes or with limited English proficiency, in a specific community.

There are nearly 100 Parent Training and Information Centers and Community Parent Resource Centers in the U.S. and Territories. These centers provide free information to parents of children with disabilities.

Contributing Programs and External Partners for Goal 1

The Office of Elementary and Secondary Education is a primary contributor to this goal, particularly with its management of Title I, Title IV Part A, and the Weighted Student Funding Formula pilot under ESSA. OSERS supports the implementation of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, which includes the parent centers, and the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. The Office of Innovation and Improvement implements discretionary grant programs that contribute to this Strategic Objective, including the Charter School Program and the Education and Innovation Research program. Finally, the Institute of Education Sciences, OCR, the Office of English Language Acquisition and the Office of Career, Technical and Adult Education also contribute to this Strategic Goal.

Human Capital Strategies for Goal 1

ESSA promotes local innovation and the use of evidence to ensure that all students in America are prepared to succeed in college and careers. As such, human capital strategies that support this Strategic Goal focus on building the internal capacity of program officers to support states and local educational agencies as they implement state plans under ESSA. To build on this capacity, the Department will conduct needs assessments and provide on-the-job training, classroom training and developmental opportunities to close identified knowledge, skill and competency gaps and improve staff ability to deliver technical assistance and support related to the transition to and implementation of ESSA.

This human capital strategy supports the Department's commitment to ensure human resources are aligned with agency mission, goals and objectives through analysis, planning and investment.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Strategic Goal 2

Expand postsecondary educational opportunities, improve outcomes to foster economic opportunity and promote an informed, thoughtful and productive citizenry.

Outcomes

Strategic Goal 2 and Strategic Objectives 2.1–2.5 focus on expanding the Department's efforts to support innovative, accessible and affordable paths to postsecondary credentials and job-ready skills.

In addition to supporting expanded postsecondary opportunities, the Department has a number of initiatives focused on affordability. These initiatives ensure borrowers have the best information available to make postsecondary program selection and associated borrowing decisions. The Department also continues to help students understand their financial aid options and repayment obligations. It is important that the Department expand its outreach efforts and support states and institutions in developing alternative pathways to postsecondary credentials that lead to employment, particularly for populations with barriers to employment, such as individuals with disabilities. Specifically, the Department will:

Support for Paths to Postsecondary Credentials and Job-Ready Skills

- Fostering higher completion rates in programs.
- Working in conjunction with employers and industries.
- Minimizing barriers to implementation and access.

The Department recognizes there are multiple, diverse routes to postsecondary education and employment and, under this Strategic Objective, seeks to support access to these educational opportunities and their completion for students at all stages of life.

Implementation Strategies

Implementation strategies for this Strategic Objective focus on providing support to education stakeholders in their efforts to increase access to and completion of postsecondary educational opportunities. Some key strategies include:

- Providing information, both digitally and in print, to parents and students about the potential costs and outcomes of the variety of postsecondary opportunities available to them.
- Strengthening grant programs to enhance opportunities for success past high school.
- Removing undue barriers to accessing innovative educational pathways to success past high school.

Strategic Objective 2.2

Support agencies and educational institutions in identifying and using evidence-based strategies or other promising practices to improve educational opportunities and successfully prepare individuals to compete in the global economy.

The Department is committed to improving educational opportunities for the existing and future workforce.

This Strategic Objective aims to improve educational opportunities for the existing and future workforce. It is essential for educational institutions to work with a variety of industries to ensure postsecondary education adequately prepares students to be successful in the job market. It is also essential that the Department fulfills its commitment to individuals with disabilities by working with state and local agencies to provide job-driven training and support services, consistent with the Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act.

Implementation Strategies

Implementation strategies for this Strategic Objective focus on improving educational opportunities, training and support services for the workforce. Some key strategies include:

- Encouraging public and private partnerships where appropriate.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Strategic Objective 2.3

Support agencies and educational institutions as they create or expand innovative and affordable paths to relevant careers by providing postsecondary credentials or job-ready skills.

This Strategic Objective focuses on education paths that are innovative and affordable and lead to educated citizens with quality careers. It is vital for students to collaborate with agencies and educational institutions to improve students' ability to compete in the continually changing modern global economy by creating new programs or expanding existing ones that provide postsecondary credentials or mastery of job-ready skills.

Implementation Strategies

  - Using the current Experimental Sites Initiative authority to evaluate the effectiveness of statutory and regulatory flexibility for participating institutions disbursing Title IV student aid.
  - Evaluating the results of current experiments–such as Dual Enrollment, Prior Learning Assessment, Competency-Based Education, Limited Direct Assessment and Educational Quality through Innovative Partnerships–to explore changes to regulations and statutes that have the potential to benefit all postsecondary institutions and the students they serve.

Improve quality of service for customers across the entire student aid life cycle.

This Strategic Objective focuses on the customer service provided by the Department to students, parents, borrowers and institutions. To improve the way the Department serves its customers, the Department will modernize the loan-servicing environment by taking the best ideas and capabilities available and putting them to work for Americans with federal student loans. The focus will be on improving customer service, such as access and speed, through modern technology and communication channels. The Department will deliver a best-in-class processing and servicing environment capable of sustaining the management of the growing federal student loan portfolio.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Strategic Goal 3

Strengthen the quality, accessibility and use of education data through better management, increased privacy protections and transparency.

Outcomes

Strategic Goal 3 and Strategic Objectives 3.1-3.3 focus on strengthening data-driven decision-making in education by focusing on the ways we manage and make available education data, while protecting student privacy. The Department is committed to improving how staff and stakeholders access, use and share meaningful data on education while protecting privacy. These improvements enable the Department and other stakeholders in the education community to better provide the public with the information necessary to make informed decisions on behalf of their communities, states and local districts. Strengthening the Department's data life cycle management, governance and quality framework will help ensure data being used within the Department for decision-making are accurate and reliable.

Strengthening the Department's data life cycle management, governance and quality framework will help ensure data being used for decision-making are accurate and reliable.

Improve the Department's data governance, data life cycle management and the capacity to support education data.

This Strategic Objective focuses on data the Department collects and builds, the data management framework and internal capacity. Data management is the development, execution and supervision of plans, policies, programs and practices that control and enhance the value of data and information assets within the enterprise. The main goal of improving data management is to clarify the roles and procedures used to optimize data integrity and quality. The strategies behind this objective guide the Department's activities to develop and support the highly skilled workforce capacity necessary to execute these improvements. As a result, parents, communities and the Department's state and local partners will be more inclined to use data to make more informed decisions on behalf of their children and communities.

Implementation Strategies

The implementation strategies to support improving the Department's data management, quality and governance to support education data include the following with associated short-term and long-term milestones:

Strategic Goal 4

Reform the effectiveness, efficiency and accountability of the Department.

Outcomes

The Department will seek to eliminate outdated, unnecessary or ineffective regulations.

The Department's organizational capacity relies not only on our human capital but also on other resources, including physical, material, financial and informational resources. Strategic Goal 4 and Strategic Objectives 4.1–4.4 focus on improving the Department's processes, such as reviewing regulations, and where appropriate, on repealing, replacing or modifying regulations. Achievement of this goal will eliminate outdated, unnecessary or ineffective regulations; will repeal, replace or modify those regulations that eliminate jobs or inhibit job creation, impose costs that exceed benefits, or otherwise impose undue burdens on regulated parties; and will establish a high-functioning Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) process while also improving Federal Employee Viewpoint Survey scores.

Provide regulatory relief to educational institutions and reduce burden by identifying time-consuming regulations, processes and policies and working to improve or eliminate them, while continuing to protect taxpayers from waste and abuse.

This Strategic Objective will help the Department better serve the public by providing regulatory relief and improving its decision-making processes, including those that impact grant and contract awards and the reporting burden on recipients. This burden reduction and relief effort will both streamline and improve internal processes for a more efficient workplace, which will allow the Department to better serve the public.

Implementation Strategies

Implementation strategies that focus on streamlining and processes that reduce the reporting burden of recipients include:

- Reducing internal transaction costs by reviewing internal processes and identifying opportunities to increase efficiency.
- Identifying opportunities to collaborate with other federal agencies to improve common processes, such as the federal hiring process.
- Using the Regulatory Reform Task Force to identify and, as appropriate, repeal, replace or modify outdated, inconsistent, unnecessary or ineffective regulations that (i) eliminate jobs or inhibit job creation, (ii) impose costs that exceed benefits, or otherwise impose undue burdens on regulated parties, or (iii) continue to rely on executive orders or other Presidential Directives that have been rescinded or substantially modified or are no longer in effect.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Path Forward

States, school districts and education institutions have the primary roles in providing high-quality education. As such, the Department is limited in its authority and cannot influence all education outcomes; however, the Department is committed to supporting states, school districts and education institutions in helping students develop skills to succeed in school, pursue postsecondary opportunities and transition to the workforce.

Another factor that impacts this Strategic Plan is the capacity of state and local educational agencies. With responsibility over program administration, these agencies will need to consider their workforce needs. Additionally, in the current economic climate, students' needs and education costs are growing while budgets are contracting. Expanding services and support to address students' academic needs and overall health will continue to be a challenge given fiscal constraints. Finally, the differences in availability of funding and resources at the state and local levels remain a challenge in serving all students, including vulnerable populations. Throughout the implementation of this Strategic Plan the Department will provide technical assistance and partner with institutions to address these external factors.

The Department will continue to use quarterly performance reviews, targeted strategic initiatives and outreach to leaders and education stakeholders to assess progress and garner engagement toward achieving strategic goals and outcomes. Continuous improvement rests on ongoing cycles of assessing performance, examining data and applying lessons learned to improve practices. Strengthening a culture of continuous improvement is at the heart of the Department's efforts to partner with and support educators, administrators and policymakers, with the intent of obtaining better outcomes for all students.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

The Honorable Stephen L. Pruitt
Commissioner of Education
Kentucky Department of Education
300 Sower Boulevard
Frankfort, KY 40601

Dear Commissioner Pruitt:

I am writing in response to Kentucky's request on August 7, 2017, for a waiver of section 1111(b)(2)(D)(i)(I) of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA), as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), of the requirement that a State may not assess using an alternate assessment aligned with alternate academic achievement standards (AA-AAAS) more than 1.0 percent of the total number of students in the State. Kentucky requested this waiver because, based on State data for the 2015-2016 school year, the Kentucky Department of Education has concluded that it will need to assess more than 1.0 percent of students using an AA-AAAS in the 2017-2018 school year.

After reviewing Kentucky's request, I am granting, pursuant to my authority under section 8401(b) of the ESEA, the following waiver for school year (SY) 2017–2018:

- A waiver of section 1111(b)(2)(D)(i)(I) of the ESEA so that the State may assess with an AA-AAAS more than 1.0 percent of the total number of students in the State who are assessed in a subject.

As part of this waiver, Kentucky assured that the State educational agency (SEA):

- Will continue to meet all other requirements of section 1111 of the ESEA and implementing regulations with respect to all State-determined academic standards and assessments, including reporting student achievement and school performance, disaggregated by subgroups, to parents and the public.
- Assessed in the prior school year (2016-2017) at least 95 percent of all students and 95 percent of students with disabilities who are enrolled in grades for which an assessment is required.
- Will require that an local educational agency (LEA) submit information justifying the need of the LEA to assess more than 1.0 percent of its assessed students in any such subject with an AA-AAAS.
- Will provide appropriate oversight of an LEA that is required to submit such information to the State, and it will make such information publicly available.
- Will verify that each LEA that is required to submit such information to the State is following all State guidelines in 34 CFR 200.6(d) (with the exception of incorporating principles of universal design) and will address any subgroup disproportionality in the percentage of students taking an AA-AAAS.

- Will implement, consistent with the plan submitted in Kentucky's waiver request, the system improvements and monitor future administrations to avoid exceeding the 1.0 percent cap.

In addition, approval of this waiver is conditioned on Kentucky submitting data on the number and percentage of students in each subgroup that took an AA-AAAS in SY 2016-2017 by (date when those data are available – to be provided by KY).

I appreciate the work you are doing to improve your schools and provide a high-quality education for your students. If you have any questions, please contact Millie Bentley-Memon of my staff at OSS.Kentucky@ed.gov.

Sincerely,

Jason Botel
Acting Assistant Secretary

This meeting will be used to discuss the initial topic categories assigned to ED re: the School Safety Commission. This is for purposes of staffing the discrete issues and ultimately drafting the discrete parts that will go into a report at the end of the Commission's work.

It is critical that the principal office leaders attend this meeting and they should feel free to bring the person(s) whom they will assign to work on the discrete issue topics.

Across the United States, more Hispanic students than ever before are enrolling in college. Yet, they are still less likely than other groups to graduate with a four-year college degree. What action is needed to close achievement gaps and boost Latino college completion rates? How can government leaders provide support to educational institutions seeking to retain and improve outcomes for students of color and what is the role community colleges can play in this effort?

As Congress takes on the task of reauthorizing the Higher Education Act, The Hill and The Hill Latino will convene policymakers, education officials, college presidents and students for a solutions-focused conversation on Hispanic student success.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What and Why

- Increasingly, the federal government is called upon not only to manage the routine operations of the ongoing programs, but also to undertake large, complex initiatives to sustain current and often add new mission areas in a rapidly changing environment. The most common resource options used to assure mission success are federal employees, interagency agreements, and/or contracts. For example during periods of Administration transition, many will be new to federal service, serving as "political appointees" and term employees. It is important for all federal employees to be mindful of the unintended consequences that may result from interactions with current and potential Government contractors.
- The Federal Acquisition Lifecycle was developed to provide standards and processes by which the government acquire (purchase/procure) goods and services by contract. Successful adoption of program/project management enable the government to more consistently and efficiently achieve important public purposes, save taxpayer dollars, enhance service delivery, and perhaps most importantly, sustain public trust.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Common Terms and Definitions

- Acquisition/Procurement is the acquiring by contract with appropriated funds of supplies or services (including construction) by and for the use of the Federal Government through purchase or lease, whether the supplies or services are already in existence or must be created, developed, demonstrated, and evaluated. For government purposes Procurement is synonymous with Acquisition per the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) Part 2.
- Contracting is the means of purchasing, renting, leasing, or otherwise obtaining supplies or services from nonfederal sources. Contracting includes description (but not determination) of supplies and services required, selection and solicitation of sources, preparation and award of contracts, and all phases of contract administration. Contracting is one phase of the acquisition lifecycle, it is not synonymous with acquisition.
- Acquisition Planning is the process by which the efforts of all personnel responsible for an acquisition are coordinated and integrated through a comprehensive plan for fulfilling the agency need in a timely manner and at a reasonable cost. It includes developing the overall strategy (focused on the program need - Acquisition Strategy) for managing the acquisition (focused on plan of action for Contracting – Acquisition Plan).

Introduction

As a Federal employee involved in the procurement and acquisition process, you play an important role in preserving the integrity of Government contracting and assuring fair treatment of bidders, offerors, and contractors. A violation of ethics rules can cause a bid protest or undermine the public's confidence in Government. Improper conduct can also result in an administrative, civil or even criminal penalty.

This brochure provides general information only. It will help you recognize some of the most common ethics and procurement integrity issues that can come up during the contracting process. Where there are examples, please note that they just illustrate a few common scenarios. You might encounter other issues or different situations.

If you have a specific issue, have questions, or need additional help, contact an ethics official at your agency before taking any action. For information on how to contact your Designated Agency Ethics Official (DAEO), consult the DAEO list on the Office of Government Ethics website at http://www.usoge.gov.

1 Conflicts of Interest

Ethics laws prohibit Government employees from having financial conflicts of interest. By keeping in mind a few basic concepts, you can help ensure that contracts are awarded and administered free from improper influence or even the appearance of impropriety.

Financial Conflicts

A criminal law prohibits you from working on a Government matter (such as a contract) that would affect your financial interests. This prohibition also covers the financial interests of certain other persons such as:

- your spouse;
- minor child;
- general partner;
- an organization in which you serve as an employee, officer, director, trustee, or general partner; and
- a person with whom you are seeking or have an arrangement for future employment.

A Few Examples of Financial Conflicts of Interest

You would have a financial interest in a contract or other matter that affects the contractor in situations such as these:

- You own stock in a company that is bidding on a contract (or that is likely to be a subcontractor).
- You have a pension with, or deferred compensation from, your former employer, a contractor that is participating in a procurement with your agency.
- You moonlight for a company that gets a contract with your agency.
- Your spouse works for a contractor and her salary would be affected if her company is awarded (or loses) a contract with your agency.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If you think you have a financial conflict, contact your agency ethics official right away. He will help you determine whether you will have to stop working on the Government matter, or whether another remedy would resolve the conflict.

Impartiality Issues

Even though you may not have a financial interest that can be affected by a procurement activity or contract, circumstances might arise that could call your impartiality into question. Some examples of when your impartiality could be questioned include the following:

- Your duties require you to work on a procurement involving your former employer or clients, your spouse's employer or clients, close relatives, or others with whom you have some kind of business relationship.
- You are assigned to a contract involving a person you are dating.
- You are required to evaluate bids, one of which was submitted by a friend.

If you encounter any situation where you think your impartiality would reasonably be questioned, you should stop working on that matter, and contact your supervisor and agency ethics official for further advice.

2 Gifts

Gifts From Contractors

As a Government employee, you must not solicit or accept gifts from contractors and their employees.

> A gift is anything that has monetary value, such as food, travel, entertainment, discounts, and loans.

Even though you might work closely with contractor employees on a daily basis, remember that both agency contractors and their employees are considered "prohibited sources" of gifts to you.

You also must not accept a gift given by an organization or individual who is seeking business with your agency. Thus, the safest course of action is to remember this rule: Do not solicit anything, or accept a gift, from a contractor, prospective contractor, or contractor employee, unless clearly permitted by an exception in the ethics rules or you have received advice from your agency ethics official.

Items You Can Accept

Examples of items that you generally may accept – even from a contractor – include:

- Modest food and refreshments, such as coffee and donuts that are not offered as part of a meal;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Gifts valued at $20 or less per "source" per occasion, although the total value of such gifts must not exceed $50 in a calendar year from a single source (Note: a contractor and its employees are considered the same "source." For example, you could not accept five $15 lunches from five employees who work for the same contractor.);

- Gifts based on a personal relationship (This means gifts from family members or friends with whom it is clear you have a true friendship – not a friendly relationship with a contractor that was formed on the job.);

- Meals, lodging, transportation, or other benefits that are from your spouse's employer, provided that the gift was not given or enhanced because of your Government job;

- Gifts or discounts available to the general public, to all Government employees, or to all military personnel;

- Free attendance at a conference or similar "widely attended gathering" (as long as your agency determines that your attendance is in the agency's best interest and certain other conditions are met); and

- Anything paid for by the Government or secured by the Government under a contract.

Some Words of Caution

Of course, you should not accept anything of value from a bidder or contractor if you think that the integrity of the procurement process could be questioned. Also, be careful not to accept gifts so frequently that a reasonable person would think you are using your public office for private gain. Finally, remember that you may never accept cash or solicit a gift from a contractor or contractor employee.

Gifts to Contractors

You should be mindful that contractors usually have their own rules and policies about gift-giving, especially when dealing with the Government. You do not want to embarrass a contractor employee, or cause him to violate his company's rules.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

3 Procurement and Other Nonpublic Information

As a Government employee, you might have access to procurement and other nonpublic information that could affect a contract bid or the award process. Improper disclosure of such protected information could violate numerous laws, as well as ethics rules. It also could subject you to administrative actions, as well as civil or criminal penalties.

Procurement Information

You may not knowingly obtain or disclose contractor bid or proposal information or source selection information before the award of the contract, other than as permitted by law.

Contractor bid or proposal information

This proprietary information must be secured to prevent disclosure. It includes certain nonpublic information submitted in connection with a bid or proposal, such as:

- Cost or pricing data, including indirect costs and direct labor rates;
- Information about manufacturing processes, operations and techniques when marked "proprietary" in accordance with law or regulation;
- Information marked as "contractor bid or proposal information"; and
- Any other information related to a specific procurement that a company making a bid deems proprietary.

Source selection information

This is information not previously available to the public that is prepared for use by an agency in evaluating a bid or proposal. Such information includes:

- Bid prices for sealed bids or lists or prices;
- Proposed costs or prices;
- Source selection plans;
- Technical evaluation plans;
- Technical, cost or price evaluations of competing proposals;
- Competitive range determinations;
- Rankings of bids, proposals or competitors;
- Reports, evaluations and recommendations of source selection panels, boards or advisory councils; and
- Any other information marked as "source selection information."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Other Nonpublic Information

In addition to the rules on disclosure of specific procurement information, ethics rules prohibit you from disclosing any nonpublic information to further your private interests, or those of another person, such as a contractor or contractor employee. Nonpublic information includes information about a contract or procurement that you gain through your job and that you reasonably should know has not been made available to the public. An example of nonpublic information would be an agency's internal decision to terminate a particular contract.

If you have any doubt about whether information is protected information, or whether you are permitted to disclose such information, you should get advice from your agency ethics official before disclosing or otherwise using the information.

4 Restrictions on Employment Discussions

During the course of your Government service, you might decide to seek employment in the private sector or even with a contractor who does business with your agency. There are several restrictions that apply to your Government work when you seek future employment or have employment discussions with contractors.

Seeking Employment: General Rules

All Government employees are subject to the rules on seeking employment. These rules are quite broad and apply well before you and a potential employer actually negotiate specific terms and conditions of employment.

You may not work on Government matters that would affect the financial interests of a contractor with which you are seeking employment. This rule generally applies even if you make an unsolicited contact about possible employment. It also applies if you do not reject a contractor's unsolicited overture about possible employment.

Once you have reached an agreement for future employment with a contractor, you still may not work on any Government matters that would affect the financial interests of the contractor. And remember, in any case where you have an obligation to recuse yourself from working on an assignment, you should notify your supervisor as soon as possible about your need to recuse.

Seeking Employment with a Bidder or Offeror

As a Federal employee involved in the procurement process, you might be subject to additional rules under the Procurement Integrity Act when you have employment discussions with bidders or offerors. These rules apply only if you are performing certain functions involving:

- the specification or statement of work;
- the solicitation;
- the evaluation of bids or proposals, or selecting a source;
- the negotiation of price or terms and conditions of the contract; or
- the review or approval of the award of a contract.

If you are performing one of these functions in a competitive procurement for a contract in excess of $100,000, and you contact or are contacted by a bidder or offeror in that procurement about possible non-Federal employment, you must:

- promptly report the contact in writing to your supervisor and your agency ethics official; and
- either

  -- reject the possibility of non-Federal employment; or

  -- consult with your supervisor and do not work on that procurement until the agency has authorized you to do so.

Note: you must also submit a written disqualification notice to the contracting officer, the source selection authority, and your supervisor.

5 Working for a Contractor After Government

Depending on your Government position and what your role was in a procurement, you might be subject to certain restrictions when you leave Government service.

Accepting Compensation from a Contractor

You might be banned from accepting compensation from a contractor for one year after you served in a covered procurement-related position or made a procurement-related decision for your agency. The ban, which is part of the Procurement Integrity Act, prohibits you from accepting compensation as an employee, officer, director, or consultant of the contractor.

Who is Covered by the One-Year Ban?

The one-year ban applies if you:

Served in any of the following positions on a contract over $10 million:

- Procuring contracting officer;
- Source selection authority;
- Member of a source selection evaluation board;
- Chief of a financial or technical evaluation team;
- Program manager;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Deputy program manager; or
- Administrative contracting officer;

or

Personally made any of the following decisions on behalf of your agency to:

- Award a contract, subcontract, modification of a contract or subcontract, or a task order or delivery order over $10 million;
- Establish overhead or other rates for a contractor on a contract or contracts valued over $10 million;
- Approve a contract payment or payments over $10 million; or
- Pay or settle a claim over $10 million.

Exception

This restriction does not prohibit you from working for another division or affiliate of the contractor, as long as it does not produce the same or similar products or services as the division or affiliate responsible for the contract in which you were involved.

General Post-Employment Restrictions

You should also keep in mind that there are criminal post-employment restrictions that apply to all Federal employees regardless of whether they work for a contractor after Government service. You may be covered by one or more of these restrictions even if you did not perform any of the functions or serve in any of the roles designated by the Procurement Integrity Act (see above). The most common restrictions are explained below.

Common Restrictions

You are permanently barred from representing another person before the Government on the same matter (such as a contract) on which you worked as a Government employee. Representing means making a communication or appearance with intent to influence the Government, and includes signing a letter, attending a meeting, making a presentation, and making a telephone call.

If you had official responsibility for a matter (such as the award of a contract) during your last year of Government service, you are barred for two years from representing another person before the Government concerning that same matter. To be covered by this restriction, you need not have worked on the contract, so long as it was under your supervision.

If you are a "senior employee," you are subject to a third restriction. This ban prohibits you from representing other persons before the Government on any matters before your agency for one year after leaving Government service. You need not have worked on the matter, nor had official responsibility for the matter. Your agency ethics official can tell you whether you are considered a "senior employee."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

These restrictions are quite broad. They can include communications, appearances or other representations that you might make on behalf of a company while performing work under a Government contract — not just major communications about the award or modification of a contract. However, they generally do not include behind-the-scenes work that does not involve communication back to the Government.

When in Doubt, Get Help

There are other restrictions, as well as exceptions, that govern this complex area of the law. Moreover, the consequences of violating these restrictions can be severe. You should consult with your agency ethics official before seeking employment with a contractor to determine whether a post-employment restriction might apply to your situation.

6 Miscellaneous

Fundraising

You may not solicit a contractor or its employees for a charitable donation because they are "prohibited sources" of gifts under the Federal ethics rules. This is true even if, for example, you are fundraising on your own time and outside of the workplace, and you are quite friendly with the contractor employee.

Letters of Recommendation

You generally may provide a letter of recommendation for a contractor employee, on official agency letterhead, in response to a request for an employment recommendation or character reference. The letter of recommendation must be based on your personal knowledge of the ability or character of the contractor employee with whom you have dealt during the course of your Federal employment or whom you are recommending for Federal employment.

Outside Employment with a Contractor

If you would like to "moonlight" for an agency contractor, you should consult with your agency ethics official before taking any action pursuing such outside employment. Depending on the facts, you could trigger restrictions related to the following issues: seeking or negotiating for employment, procurement integrity, conflicting financial interests, impartiality concerns, and agency-specific rules and procedures.

Conclusion

We hope this brochure has helped you identify some of the ethics and procurement issues that can come up in the procurement and acquisition process. For more information on these issues, contact your agency ethics official.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

MEMORANDUM

TO: Department Employees

FROM: Nicole Evans
Senior Procurement Executive

SUBJECT: Procurement Integrity for Government Employees

Public service is a public trust. As a public servant, your commitment to ethical conduct and service is vital to performing your work and supporting the mission of the Department of Education (ED) with honest, integrity, impartiality, and in the spirit of service to others. To that end, employees working at ED play an important role in preserving the integrity of Government contracting and ensuring fair treatment of bidders, offerors, and contractors. ED employees will be exposed to non-public information and interactions with Government contractors that could affect a contract bid or the award process. Improper disclosure of such protected information could violate numerous laws and ethics rules, and subject you to administrative actions and civil or criminal penalties.

The information that follows provides a summary of some of the statutory and legal considerations that govern Government employees and their interactions with non-public information and Government contractors. Attached to this memo is a publication from the U.S. Office of Government Ethics that provides examples and additional information.

❖ Procurement Integrity Act (PIA)

- The Federal Acquisition Regulation Section 3.104 sets forth the regulations that implement the provisions of the PIA. The Act prohibits certain activities by personnel involved in the procurement process including obtaining or disclosing procurement-sensitive information, such as contractor bid or proposal information and source selection information.

- Penalties for violations of the PIA:
  - An individual is liable . . . for a civil penalty of not more than $50,000 for each violation plus twice the amount of compensation that the individual received or offered for the prohibited conduct
  - An organization is liable . . . for a civil penalty of not more than $500,000 for each violation plus twice the amount of compensation that the organization received or offered for the prohibited conduct.
  - Suspension/debarment of company

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Termination of the contract (Post-award)
- Removal or other adverse personnel action

❖ Government Employees' Responsibilities Regarding Procurement and Other Non-Public Information

- Procurement Information: You may not knowingly obtain or disclose contractor bid or proposal information or source selection information before the award of the contract, other than as provided by law.

- Other Non-Public Information: In addition to the rules on disclosure of specific procurement information, ethics rules prohibit you from disclosing any nonpublic information to further your private interests, or those of another person, such as a contractor or contractor employee. Nonpublic information includes information about a contract or procurement that you gain through your job and that you know or reasonably should know has not been made available to the public.
  - An example of nonpublic information would be an agency's internal decision to terminate a particular contract.
  - If you have any doubt about whether information is protected information, or whether you are permitted to disclose such information, you should get advice from your agency ethics official and the Contracting Officer on the contract before disclosing or otherwise using the information.
  - What may I say if a member of Congress asks about a procurement? A member of Congress may be given any information that is public knowledge (e.g. the contract award date, the date that the solicitation was released, the Contracting Officer's name). Responses that contain the following information should be routed through the agency head, and it is highly recommended that such responses be coordinated with the Contracting Officer:
    - ➢ Classified information
    - ➢ Business confidential information
    - ➢ Information prejudicial to competitive acquisitions

    If a Congressional committee requests information about a procurement, or there are general concerns about how to respond to any request for information from Congress or a member of Congress, the response should be coordinated with the Office of the General Counsel and the Office of Legislation and Congressional Affairs.

Why should political appointees worry about unauthorized commitments?

The term "political appointee" may refer broadly to any employee who is appointed by the President, the Vice President, or agency head. While serving as a political appointee, it is important to be mindful of the unintended consequences that may result from interactions with current and potential Government contractors. One such consequence is contractually obligating the Federal Government without the authorization to make contractual commitments. These unintended contractual obligations are referred to as unauthorized commitments.

UNAUTHORIZED COMMITMENTS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

WHAT IS AN "UNATHORIZED COMMITMENT"?

An "unauthorized commitment" is defined in the Federal Acquisition Regulation, the primary regulation for use by all Federal Executive agencies in their acquisition of supplies and services with appropriated funds, as "an agreement that is not binding solely because the Government representative who made it lacked the authority to enter into that agreement on behalf of the Government."

Under contracts in the private sector, a company may be bound by the acts of agents with apparent authority, or authority based on the individual's position or title. In federal procurement, the Government may be legally bound only by the actions of personnel with actual authority — the Contracting Officer.

At the Department of Education, employees who are not Contracting Officers do not have the authority to order or authorize changes to existing contracts or enter into new contracts on behalf of the Federal Government. The only exception to this rule is the Secretary of Education.

EXAMPLES OF OBLIGATING THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WITHOUT AUTHORITY (UNAUTHORIZED COMMITMENTS)

- While having a conversation with representatives of a government contractor, statements are made to order supplies or services by a political appointee or other Federal employee not named on a purchase card or identified in a contract
- A political appointee or other Federal employee instructs a contractor to start work before the contract is awarded by a Contracting Officer
- A political appointee or other Federal employee tells a current Government contractor that the Government will be exercising an option under the contract. The period of performance ends and the option is not exercised. However, the contractor continues providing services based on the previously made statements
- There are no products or services that are exempt from the requirement that only persons with actual contracting authority may obligate the Government. Requesting items for meetings or conferences, or having contractors perform duties beyond the scope of their contracts, are all violations.

LIABILITY FOR UNAUTHORIZED COMMITMENTS

Unauthorized commitments violate Federal law, Federal regulation, the Government-wide Standards of Conduct for Federal Employees, and Department of Education regulations.

There are severe consequences for parties involved with an unauthorized commitment. For example, it may result in personal liability for the person who made the commitment. The Department of Education's regulations state that "Acquisitions made by other than authorized personnel are matters of serious misconduct. The employee may be held legally and personally liable for the unauthorized commitment." 48 CFR 3401.602-3(b)(1). Furthermore, responsible personnel are required to give detailed written explanations of their actions and may be subject to additional disciplinary action, especially if violations are flagrant and/or repetitive.

Bottom Line: When in doubt contact the Contracting Office!!!

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

What and Why

- Increasingly, the federal government is called upon not only to manage the routine operations of the ongoing programs, but also to undertake large, complex initiatives to sustain current and often add new mission areas in a rapidly changing environment. The most common resource options used to assure mission success are federal employees, interagency agreements, and/or contracts. For example during periods of Administration transition, many will be new to federal service, serving as "political appointees" and term employees. It is important for all federal employees to be mindful of the unintended consequences that may result from interactions with current and potential Government contractors.
- The Federal Acquisition Lifecycle was developed to provide standards and processes by which the government acquire (purchase/procure) goods and services by contract. Successful adoption of program/project management enable the government to more consistently and efficiently achieve important public purposes, save taxpayer dollars, enhance service delivery, and perhaps most importantly, sustain public trust.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Common Terms and Definitions

- Acquisition/Procurement is the acquiring by contract with appropriated funds of supplies or services (including construction) by and for the use of the Federal Government through purchase or lease, whether the supplies or services are already in existence or must be created, developed, demonstrated, and evaluated. For government purposes Procurement is synonymous with Acquisition per the Federal Acquisition Regulation (FAR) Part 2.
- Contracting is the means of purchasing, renting, leasing, or otherwise obtaining supplies or services from nonfederal sources. Contracting includes description (but not determination) of supplies and services required, selection and solicitation of sources, preparation and award of contracts, and all phases of contract administration. Contracting is one phase of the acquisition lifecycle, it is not synonymous with acquisition.
- Acquisition Planning is the process by which the efforts of all personnel responsible for an acquisition are coordinated and integrated through a comprehensive plan for fulfilling the agency need in a timely manner and at a reasonable cost. It includes developing the overall strategy (focused on the program need - Acquisition Strategy) for managing the acquisition (focused on plan of action for Contracting – Acquisition Plan).

Introduction

As a Federal employee involved in the procurement and acquisition process, you play an important role in preserving the integrity of Government contracting and assuring fair treatment of bidders, offerors, and contractors. A violation of ethics rules can cause a bid protest or undermine the public's confidence in Government. Improper conduct can also result in an administrative, civil or even criminal penalty.

This brochure provides general information only. It will help you recognize some of the most common ethics and procurement integrity issues that can come up during the contracting process. Where there are examples, please note that they just illustrate a few common scenarios. You might encounter other issues or different situations.

If you have a specific issue, have questions, or need additional help, contact an ethics official at your agency before taking any action. For information on how to contact your Designated Agency Ethics Official (DAEO), consult the DAEO list on the Office of Government Ethics website at http://www.usoge.gov.

1 Conflicts of Interest

Ethics laws prohibit Government employees from having financial conflicts of interest. By keeping in mind a few basic concepts, you can help ensure that contracts are awarded and administered free from improper influence or even the appearance of impropriety.

Financial Conflicts

A criminal law prohibits you from working on a Government matter (such as a contract) that would affect your financial interests. This prohibition also covers the financial interests of certain other persons such as:

- your spouse;
- minor child;
- general partner;
- an organization in which you serve as an employee, officer, director, trustee, or general partner; and
- a person with whom you are seeking or have an arrangement for future employment.

A Few Examples of Financial Conflicts of Interest

You would have a financial interest in a contract or other matter that affects the contractor in situations such as these:

- You own stock in a company that is bidding on a contract (or that is likely to be a subcontractor).
- You have a pension with, or deferred compensation from, your former employer, a contractor that is participating in a procurement with your agency.
- You moonlight for a company that gets a contract with your agency.
- Your spouse works for a contractor and her salary would be affected if her company is awarded (or loses) a contract with your agency.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

If you think you have a financial conflict, contact your agency ethics official right away. He will help you determine whether you will have to stop working on the Government matter, or whether another remedy would resolve the conflict.

Impartiality Issues

Even though you may not have a financial interest that can be affected by a procurement activity or contract, circumstances might arise that could call your impartiality into question. Some examples of when your impartiality could be questioned include the following:

- Your duties require you to work on a procurement involving your former employer or clients, your spouse's employer or clients, close relatives, or others with whom you have some kind of business relationship.
- You are assigned to a contract involving a person you are dating.
- You are required to evaluate bids, one of which was submitted by a friend.

If you encounter any situation where you think your impartiality would reasonably be questioned, you should stop working on that matter, and contact your supervisor and agency ethics official for further advice.

2 Gifts

Gifts From Contractors

As a Government employee, you must not solicit or accept gifts from contractors and their employees.

> A gift is anything that has monetary value, such as food, travel, entertainment, discounts, and loans.

Even though you might work closely with contractor employees on a daily basis, remember that both agency contractors and their employees are considered "prohibited sources" of gifts to you.

You also must not accept a gift given by an organization or individual who is seeking business with your agency. Thus, the safest course of action is to remember this rule: Do not solicit anything, or accept a gift, from a contractor, prospective contractor, or contractor employee, unless clearly permitted by an exception in the ethics rules or you have received advice from your agency ethics official.

Items You Can Accept

Examples of items that you generally may accept – even from a contractor – include:

- Modest food and refreshments, such as coffee and donuts that are not offered as part of a meal;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Gifts valued at $20 or less per "source" per occasion, although the total value of such gifts must not exceed $50 in a calendar year from a single source (Note: a contractor and its employees are considered the same "source." For example, you could not accept five $15 lunches from five employees who work for the same contractor.);

- Gifts based on a personal relationship (This means gifts from family members or friends with whom it is clear you have a true friendship – not a friendly relationship with a contractor that was formed on the job.);

- Meals, lodging, transportation, or other benefits that are from your spouse's employer, provided that the gift was not given or enhanced because of your Government job;

- Gifts or discounts available to the general public, to all Government employees, or to all military personnel;

- Free attendance at a conference or similar "widely attended gathering" (as long as your agency determines that your attendance is in the agency's best interest and certain other conditions are met); and

- Anything paid for by the Government or secured by the Government under a contract.

Some Words of Caution

Of course, you should not accept anything of value from a bidder or contractor if you think that the integrity of the procurement process could be questioned. Also, be careful not to accept gifts so frequently that a reasonable person would think you are using your public office for private gain. Finally, remember that you may never accept cash or solicit a gift from a contractor or contractor employee.

Gifts to Contractors

You should be mindful that contractors usually have their own rules and policies about gift-giving, especially when dealing with the Government. You do not want to embarrass a contractor employee, or cause him to violate his company's rules.

3 Procurement and Other Nonpublic Information

As a Government employee, you might have access to procurement and other nonpublic information that could affect a contract bid or the award process. Improper disclosure of such protected information could violate numerous laws, as well as ethics rules. It also could subject you to administrative actions, as well as civil or criminal penalties.

Procurement Information

You may not knowingly obtain or disclose contractor bid or proposal information or source selection information before the award of the contract, other than as permitted by law.

Contractor bid or proposal information

This proprietary information must be secured to prevent disclosure. It includes certain nonpublic information submitted in connection with a bid or proposal, such as:

- Cost or pricing data, including indirect costs and direct labor rates;
- Information about manufacturing processes, operations and techniques when marked "proprietary" in accordance with law or regulation;
- Information marked as "contractor bid or proposal information"; and
- Any other information related to a specific procurement that a company making a bid deems proprietary.

Source selection information

This is information not previously available to the public that is prepared for use by an agency in evaluating a bid or proposal. Such information includes:

- Bid prices for sealed bids or lists or prices;
- Proposed costs or prices;
- Source selection plans;
- Technical evaluation plans;
- Technical, cost or price evaluations of competing proposals;
- Competitive range determinations;
- Rankings of bids, proposals or competitors;
- Reports, evaluations and recommendations of source selection panels, boards or advisory councils; and
- Any other information marked as "source selection information."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Other Nonpublic Information

In addition to the rules on disclosure of specific procurement information, ethics rules prohibit you from disclosing any nonpublic information to further your private interests, or those of another person, such as a contractor or contractor employee. Nonpublic information includes information about a contract or procurement that you gain through your job and that you reasonably should know has not been made available to the public. An example of nonpublic information would be an agency's internal decision to terminate a particular contract.

If you have any doubt about whether information is protected information, or whether you are permitted to disclose such information, you should get advice from your agency ethics official before disclosing or otherwise using the information.

4 Restrictions on Employment Discussions

During the course of your Government service, you might decide to seek employment in the private sector or even with a contractor who does business with your agency. There are several restrictions that apply to your Government work when you seek future employment or have employment discussions with contractors.

Seeking Employment: General Rules

All Government employees are subject to the rules on seeking employment. These rules are quite broad and apply well before you and a potential employer actually negotiate specific terms and conditions of employment.

You may not work on Government matters that would affect the financial interests of a contractor with which you are seeking employment. This rule generally applies even if you make an unsolicited contact about possible employment. It also applies if you do not reject a contractor's unsolicited overture about possible employment.

Once you have reached an agreement for future employment with a contractor, you still may not work on any Government matters that would affect the financial interests of the contractor. And remember, in any case where you have an obligation to recuse yourself from working on an assignment, you should notify your supervisor as soon as possible about your need to recuse.

Seeking Employment with a Bidder or Offeror

As a Federal employee involved in the procurement process, you might be subject to additional rules under the Procurement Integrity Act when you have employment discussions with bidders or offerors. These rules apply only if you are performing certain functions involving:

- the specification or statement of work;
- the solicitation;
- the evaluation of bids or proposals, or selecting a source;
- the negotiation of price or terms and conditions of the contract; or
- the review or approval of the award of a contract.

If you are performing one of these functions in a competitive procurement for a contract in excess of $100,000, and you contact or are contacted by a bidder or offeror in that procurement about possible non-Federal employment, you must:

- promptly report the contact in writing to your supervisor and your agency ethics official; and
- either

  -- reject the possibility of non-Federal employment; or

  -- consult with your supervisor and do not work on that procurement until the agency has authorized you to do so.

Note: you must also submit a written disqualification notice to the contracting officer, the source selection authority, and your supervisor.

5 Working for a Contractor After Government

Depending on your Government position and what your role was in a procurement, you might be subject to certain restrictions when you leave Government service.

Accepting Compensation from a Contractor

You might be banned from accepting compensation from a contractor for one year after you served in a covered procurement-related position or made a procurement-related decision for your agency. The ban, which is part of the Procurement Integrity Act, prohibits you from accepting compensation as an employee, officer, director, or consultant of the contractor.

Who is Covered by the One-Year Ban?

The one-year ban applies if you:

Served in any of the following positions on a contract over $10 million:

- Procuring contracting officer;
- Source selection authority;
- Member of a source selection evaluation board;
- Chief of a financial or technical evaluation team;
- Program manager;

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Deputy program manager; or
- Administrative contracting officer;

or

Personally made any of the following decisions on behalf of your agency to:

- Award a contract, subcontract, modification of a contract or subcontract, or a task order or delivery order over $10 million;
- Establish overhead or other rates for a contractor on a contract or contracts valued over $10 million;
- Approve a contract payment or payments over $10 million; or
- Pay or settle a claim over $10 million.

Exception

This restriction does not prohibit you from working for another division or affiliate of the contractor, as long as it does not produce the same or similar products or services as the division or affiliate responsible for the contract in which you were involved.

General Post-Employment Restrictions

You should also keep in mind that there are criminal post-employment restrictions that apply to all Federal employees regardless of whether they work for a contractor after Government service. You may be covered by one or more of these restrictions even if you did not perform any of the functions or serve in any of the roles designated by the Procurement Integrity Act (see above). The most common restrictions are explained below.

Common Restrictions

You are permanently barred from representing another person before the Government on the same matter (such as a contract) on which you worked as a Government employee. Representing means making a communication or appearance with intent to influence the Government, and includes signing a letter, attending a meeting, making a presentation, and making a telephone call.

If you had official responsibility for a matter (such as the award of a contract) during your last year of Government service, you are barred for two years from representing another person before the Government concerning that same matter. To be covered by this restriction, you need not have worked on the contract, so long as it was under your supervision.

If you are a "senior employee," you are subject to a third restriction. This ban prohibits you from representing other persons before the Government on any matters before your agency for one year after leaving Government service. You need not have worked on the matter, nor had official responsibility for the matter. Your agency ethics official can tell you whether you are considered a "senior employee."

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

These restrictions are quite broad. They can include communications, appearances or other representations that you might make on behalf of a company while performing work under a Government contract — not just major communications about the award or modification of a contract. However, they generally do not include behind-the-scenes work that does not involve communication back to the Government.

When in Doubt, Get Help

There are other restrictions, as well as exceptions, that govern this complex area of the law. Moreover, the consequences of violating these restrictions can be severe. You should consult with your agency ethics official before seeking employment with a contractor to determine whether a post-employment restriction might apply to your situation.

6 Miscellaneous

Fundraising

You may not solicit a contractor or its employees for a charitable donation because they are "prohibited sources" of gifts under the Federal ethics rules. This is true even if, for example, you are fundraising on your own time and outside of the workplace, and you are quite friendly with the contractor employee.

Letters of Recommendation

You generally may provide a letter of recommendation for a contractor employee, on official agency letterhead, in response to a request for an employment recommendation or character reference. The letter of recommendation must be based on your personal knowledge of the ability or character of the contractor employee with whom you have dealt during the course of your Federal employment or whom you are recommending for Federal employment.

Outside Employment with a Contractor

If you would like to "moonlight" for an agency contractor, you should consult with your agency ethics official before taking any action pursuing such outside employment. Depending on the facts, you could trigger restrictions related to the following issues: seeking or negotiating for employment, procurement integrity, conflicting financial interests, impartiality concerns, and agency-specific rules and procedures.

Conclusion

We hope this brochure has helped you identify some of the ethics and procurement issues that can come up in the procurement and acquisition process. For more information on these issues, contact your agency ethics official.

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF FINANCIAL OFFICER

MEMORANDUM

TO: Department Employees

FROM: Nicole Evans
Senior Procurement Executive

SUBJECT: Procurement Integrity for Government Employees

Public service is a public trust. As a public servant, your commitment to ethical conduct and service is vital to performing your work and supporting the mission of the Department of Education (ED) with honest, integrity, impartiality, and in the spirit of service to others. To that end, employees working at ED play an important role in preserving the integrity of Government contracting and ensuring fair treatment of bidders, offerors, and contractors. ED employees will be exposed to non-public information and interactions with Government contractors that could affect a contract bid or the award process. Improper disclosure of such protected information could violate numerous laws and ethics rules, and subject you to administrative actions and civil or criminal penalties.

The information that follows provides a summary of some of the statutory and legal considerations that govern Government employees and their interactions with non-public information and Government contractors. Attached to this memo is a publication from the U.S. Office of Government Ethics that provides examples and additional information.

❖ Procurement Integrity Act (PIA)

- The Federal Acquisition Regulation Section 3.104 sets forth the regulations that implement the provisions of the PIA. The Act prohibits certain activities by personnel involved in the procurement process including obtaining or disclosing procurement-sensitive information, such as contractor bid or proposal information and source selection information.

- Penalties for violations of the PIA:
  - An individual is liable . . . for a civil penalty of not more than $50,000 for each violation plus twice the amount of compensation that the individual received or offered for the prohibited conduct
  - An organization is liable . . . for a civil penalty of not more than $500,000 for each violation plus twice the amount of compensation that the organization received or offered for the prohibited conduct.
  - Suspension/debarment of company

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Termination of the contract (Post-award)
- Removal or other adverse personnel action

❖ Government Employees' Responsibilities Regarding Procurement and Other Non-Public Information

- Procurement Information: You may not knowingly obtain or disclose contractor bid or proposal information or source selection information before the award of the contract, other than as provided by law.

- Other Non-Public Information: In addition to the rules on disclosure of specific procurement information, ethics rules prohibit you from disclosing any nonpublic information to further your private interests, or those of another person, such as a contractor or contractor employee. Nonpublic information includes information about a contract or procurement that you gain through your job and that you know or reasonably should know has not been made available to the public.
  - An example of nonpublic information would be an agency's internal decision to terminate a particular contract.
  - If you have any doubt about whether information is protected information, or whether you are permitted to disclose such information, you should get advice from your agency ethics official and the Contracting Officer on the contract before disclosing or otherwise using the information.
  - What may I say if a member of Congress asks about a procurement? A member of Congress may be given any information that is public knowledge (e.g. the contract award date, the date that the solicitation was released, the Contracting Officer's name). Responses that contain the following information should be routed through the agency head, and it is highly recommended that such responses be coordinated with the Contracting Officer:
    - ➢ Classified information
    - ➢ Business confidential information
    - ➢ Information prejudicial to competitive acquisitions

    If a Congressional committee requests information about a procurement, or there are general concerns about how to respond to any request for information from Congress or a member of Congress, the response should be coordinated with the Office of the General Counsel and the Office of Legislation and Congressional Affairs.

Why should political appointees worry about unauthorized commitments?

The term "political appointee" may refer broadly to any employee who is appointed by the President, the Vice President, or agency head. While serving as a political appointee, it is important to be mindful of the unintended consequences that may result from interactions with current and potential Government contractors. One such consequence is contractually obligating the Federal Government without the authorization to make contractual commitments. These unintended contractual obligations are referred to as unauthorized commitments.

UNAUTHORIZED COMMITMENTS

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

WHAT IS AN "UNATHORIZED COMMITMENT"?

An "unauthorized commitment" is defined in the Federal Acquisition Regulation, the primary regulation for use by all Federal Executive agencies in their acquisition of supplies and services with appropriated funds, as "an agreement that is not binding solely because the Government representative who made it lacked the authority to enter into that agreement on behalf of the Government."

Under contracts in the private sector, a company may be bound by the acts of agents with apparent authority, or authority based on the individual's position or title. In federal procurement, the Government may be legally bound only by the actions of personnel with actual authority — the Contracting Officer.

At the Department of Education, employees who are not Contracting Officers do not have the authority to order or authorize changes to existing contracts or enter into new contracts on behalf of the Federal Government. The only exception to this rule is the Secretary of Education.

EXAMPLES OF OBLIGATING THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT WITHOUT AUTHORITY (UNAUTHORIZED COMMITMENTS)

- While having a conversation with representatives of a government contractor, statements are made to order supplies or services by a political appointee or other Federal employee not named on a purchase card or identified in a contract
- A political appointee or other Federal employee instructs a contractor to start work before the contract is awarded by a Contracting Officer
- A political appointee or other Federal employee tells a current Government contractor that the Government will be exercising an option under the contract. The period of performance ends and the option is not exercised. However, the contractor continues providing services based on the previously made statements
- There are no products or services that are exempt from the requirement that only persons with actual contracting authority may obligate the Government. Requesting items for meetings or conferences, or having contractors perform duties beyond the scope of their contracts, are all violations.

LIABILITY FOR UNAUTHORIZED COMMITMENTS

Unauthorized commitments violate Federal law, Federal regulation, the Government-wide Standards of Conduct for Federal Employees, and Department of Education regulations.

There are severe consequences for parties involved with an unauthorized commitment. For example, it may result in personal liability for the person who made the commitment. The Department of Education's regulations state that "Acquisitions made by other than authorized personnel are matters of serious misconduct. The employee may be held legally and personally liable for the unauthorized commitment." 48 CFR 3401.602-3(b)(1). Furthermore, responsible personnel are required to give detailed written explanations of their actions and may be subject to additional disciplinary action, especially if violations are flagrant and/or repetitive.

Bottom Line: When in doubt contact the Contracting Office!!!

Kim,

Below please find instructions for connecting to the webinar briefing that we'll facilitate on Thursday for you and your team with Matthew Hom, a Ph.D. candidate at Yale

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Presenter Bio:
Matthew Hom is a PhD candidate in the Economics department at Yale University. His research focuses on the economics of school choice with an emphasis on the effects of Arizona's statewide open enrollment policies on de-facto segregation and student access to quality schools. He previously earned a BS in Mathematics and a BA in economics at the University of Arizona.

Executive Summary:
Arizona has a longstanding policy of mandatory statewide open enrollment. Under this policy students are eligible to apply for admission to any traditional public school, regardless of their district of residence. However, to date, lack of data on student location has made it impossible to measure the full impact of this policy. In this webinar, I document the open enrollment patterns of approximately 130,000 students in Maricopa County. Specifically, I describe the families most likely to opt out of their neighborhood schools and compare the schools they choose against the schools they avoid. I find that 37% of students enroll in a non-neighborhood school and show that parents don't always opt into schools that outperform their neighborhood option. I also show that students' choices facilitate de-facto segregation. I conclude that students' experience with school choice are shaped by who they are, where they live, and whether they expect to be part of the racial/ethnic majority or minority at a school.

The WestEd team joining the briefing will include:
- Paul Koehler, Director of our Policy Center and the West Comprehensive Center
- Angela Minnici, Senior Director of Technical Assistance and Strategy and Director of the Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center
- Andrea Browning, Director of Regional Initiatives for the Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center
- Kamilah Wilson, Administrative Assistant for the Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center

Instructions for connecting to the WebEx are below. Please note that you'll need to both log in to the platform and also call in via your telephone.

Please share this invitation with interested ED colleagues.

Best,
Andrea

Department of Education
Diversity and Inclusion Council Meeting
January 18, 2018
400 Maryland Ave. SW
Washington, DC, 20202

I. Welcome and Introductions

On January 18, 2018, at 1:30 p.m. EST, Acting Assistant Secretary, Office of Management, Denise Carter, Council Co-Chair, led the 14th Diversity and Inclusion Council bi-monthly meeting. Ms. Carter welcomed Secretary of Education Betsy DeVos and the Council members, and called the meeting to order. Ms. Carter conducted an icebreaker, expressed her appreciation for the Council's ongoing efforts, and noted that diversity and inclusion is embedded into our day-to-day work across ED.

Secretary DeVos gave welcoming remarks and shared her enthusiasm for the Diversity and Inclusion Council (Council). Secretary DeVos thanked the members for their commitment to the Council and for "taking a special interest in being a part of continuing to build a better workplace." She expressed her appreciation to Council members for signing up to continue building our workplace to be intentionally inclusive; including diversity of thought, perspectives and experiences. Secretary DeVos stated that diversity and inclusion makes us so much better at what we do, which includes, doing what is right for individuals , and noted how this leadership initiative is important to ED. She concluded by thanking everyone for their support of the Diversity and Inclusion Council.

II. Diversity and Inclusion Data Update

Ms. Carter provided members an overview of the current state of ED's diversity demographics, including an Inclusion Scores analysis. The key points made were:

- Although ED is both racially and ethnically diverse, we are more diverse at the lower grades compared to the higher grade levels;
- Workforce representation is a challenge for some of our populations, think about targeted recruitment;
- Diversity, inclusion and engagement requires a mindset as a normal part of what we do every day at ED, it is an intrinsic part of our mission;
- ED employees must be trained and educated on cultural competencies;
- Our New Inclusion Quotient (New IQ) Index indicates a 2% increase as an upward trend; however, ED needs to continue to work on our concepts of an inclusive work environment;
- Workplace inclusion is a contributing factor to employee engagement and organizational performance; see the New IQ scores on "fairness" in the workplace;
- Council considered reaching out to NASA to determine best practices as to why they are ranked as the best Agency on their IQ Index scores (number 1 out of 60 agencies).

Council member Jason Gray recommended that ED determine how the FEVS questions are framed given that some of the issues are out of a supervisor's control. (Note: the FEVS is an Office of Personnel Management (OPM) survey; the Council intends to submit feedback to OPM).

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

III. Council Overview

Ms. Carter opened the floor for questions and to brainstorm ideas to further Council goals and consider thoughts on the way forward. She mentioned that for future meetings, we will prioritize recommendations for the short and long term. Council members and advisor comments included:

Brittany Beth recommended "smaller conversation opportunities at the POC level with key leaders." Ms. Beth noted the Federally Employed Women's (FEW) concerns on processing a request for their Charter's approval. Affinity and employee resource groups are an integral part of ED's strategy to serve as a forum for education, communication, and professional development. Ms. Carter asked Cassandra Cuffee-Graves, Chief Human Capital Officer (CHCO), to follow-up and assist in connecting with the ethics division to identify any issues relative to Charter approval.

Celeste Rodriguez recommended "the onboarding process include a section for affinity groups and Employee Resource Group (ERG) participation." Ms. Carter noted the importance of integrating affinity groups and ERGs into the onboarding process and asked the CHCO to conduct research on the topic and assist to add to onboarding. Ms. Rodriguez also recommended that the Secretary of Education reestablish the "Secretary's Annual Awards Recognition Program". This was a program that ED employees viewed as a necessary part of recognizing achievements ED-wide.

Frank Brogan shared his thoughts on the "importance of seeing below the surface in order to get to know employees and go beyond just knowing what our employees do in order to better understand the totality of who they are and what they bring to the table."

Phil Rosenfelt recommended "creating an environment where people feel comfortable and pay particular attention to the millennial generation mentorship programs; for example, "where millennials mentor their supervisors and help them to "think fresh" about how to handle the workforce they are leading." Mr. Rosenfelt recommended ED review its "exit interviews" for departing employees and to look for better ways to communicate with our employees including sharing good news stories. Lastly, Mr. Rosenfelt recommended ED communicate broadly on the importance of our affinity and ERGs which play a significant role in breaking potential barriers and providing outreach.

Thomas Brock highlighted the current hiring freeze and "perceived lack of upward mobility opportunities to grow careers." He recommended planning Department-led discussions on career opportunities for our employees to help accelerate their professional growth.

Justis Tuia recommended the Council "think strategically on utilizing the services of the Office of Communications and Outreach (OCO) to allow Council information and messaging to be shared on connectED for ED-wide view." For example, the Diversity Change Agent (DCA) Program is on connectED and allows employees greater access to information.

Andrea Ramirez recommends the Department conduct sessions on "cultural intelligence" and offered to be available to educate and train on different cultural topics.

Jessica Ramakis shared the tremendous work that the Supporting ED's Parents ERG does on behalf of ED employees. This includes planning one year in advance to allow for efficient operations. Ms. Ramakis shared the impact that the ERGs had when invited to participate in the Department's Supervisory, Diversity and Inclusion course for managers and supervisors. She recommended that this be a sustained effort. Additionally, she recommends that ED take a look at best practices and have a "start point" to share. Ms. Ramakis noted for greater level of transparency on how things work in the Department and openness with robust debate. Ms. Carter thanked Ms. Ramakis on the best practice input noting that the Office of Management instituted a new practice to support customer services for visitors new to the area thus raising awareness and a sense of inclusion.

IV. Council Membership and Structure

Ms. Carter introduced the Council membership and structure. Ms. Carter asked all members in attendance to connect with their POC leaders and submit the names of ED regional representatives who will represent their POCs in accordance with the Council Charter (FSA, OCR and OIG).

V. Diversity Change Agent Program Initiative

ED's DCA program is a Department-wide initiative to help foster an inclusive culture and allows our workforce to fully contribute to the organizational mission. Debra Suarez, DCA Co-Chair gave an overview on the DCA program. She shared that the role of a DCA includes peer-to-peer interactions and modeling behaviors in word and in deed. Ms. Suarez noted that the DCAs are an integral part and at the heart of employee engagement at OCTAE. OCTAE has linked their employee engagement plan with the DCA plan as a part of their overarching diversity, inclusion and engagement strategy.

VI. Council Business

Ms. Carter initiated discussion on the recommended FY 2018 Council focus areas. She shared the Leadership Development Program (LDP) opportunities available both internal and external for ED employees. She asked members for their input and recommendations, which included:

Jesse Sharpe recommended that ED invest in conducting a skills assessment of all employees. If one has already commenced, request that OM provide information on when the assessment would be completed and can OM share the results of their skills-gap analysis at the next Council meeting. Ms. Carter shared that in the near term; she is meeting with subject matter experts to determine competencies as a part of a project plan and will share the results with the Council.

Andrea Ramirez asked if ED has a recognition program and other ways to thank its employees. Additionally, how do we currently conduct relationship building/strengthening between political and career staff? Ms. Ramirez mentioned that the partnership between political and career staff is an integral part of the working culture.

Brittany Beth asked if OM has a list or a system to share with employees on what training courses are available in ED in order for all to have equal opportunities for the pursuit of career goals. Ms. Carter shared that currently, OM/OHR is in the process of identifying the competencies for all of the 59 different job series at ED. The question then becomes how do we align the competencies and skills and conduct a gap analysis. OHR will soon be briefing the Council on this topic.

Katina Stapleton asked if there were ways in which OM can communicate the availability of courses within the DCA Program seminars such as Championing Diversity, Speed of Trust, and Leading across Generations. This aligns with the concept of "expanding professional development opportunities and solidifying strategies."

Celeste Rodriguez asked what can be done to continue to brand and strategically communicate across ED the availability and opportunities for "detail assignments." The CHCO agreed that there currently are detail opportunities available in ED and more to follow.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Candice Jackson mentioned utilizing horizontal and vertical effective professional development opportunities, details, realignment of resources, and programs offered by ED to foster skill development.

Next Steps –

Ms. Carter asked Council members to please submit nominees for Council Co-Chair, Council Secretary, and a representative for the FSA, OCR and OIG regional membership. Please follow the Charter guidelines on selection of nominees for regional representation. Provide nominees to maria.v.martinez@ed.gov by February 6, 2018. Ms. Carter thanked everyone for their support and dedication to the Department's mission and its diversity and inclusion goals.

VII. Adjournment

Ms. Carter adjourned the Council meeting at 3:00 p.m. EST.

TODAY!!!! Movie Showing in LBJ Auditorium

Colleagues,

On this last day of Black History Month, I reflect on the great many gifts that African Americans have contributed to the building and sustenance of our nation and how very different our country, American History--and indeed, the world--would be without them. There are many names you may recognize, like Nat Turner, Booker T. Washington, Frederick Douglass, Sojourner Truth, Harriet Tubman, Mary McLeod Bethune, Thurgood Marshall, Rev., Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., Fannie Lou Hamer, Rosa Parks, el-Hajj Malik el-Shabazz (Malclom X), John Lewis, Stokely Carmichael (Kwame Ture), Angela Davis, and many others linked to the centuries old fight to end legalized slavery and gain basic civil rights in America. However, no list of contributors would be exhaustive in enumerating the countless ideas, research, inventions, methodologies, expertise, service and creations these Americans have given that continue to influence all of us today--in education, business, industry, government, military, science, sports, technology, literature, politics, the arts, music and entertainment.

In an effort to never forget during this period of emphasis, you will see some fun facts about the Black History contributions to American History on screens around OESE today. Several of them will be related to advances in Education.

"Never be limited by other people's limited imaginations." This is a quote from Dr. Mae Jemison, the first African-American female astronaut to travel into space. In honor of Dr. Jemison, and many others who were liberated by the benefits of education, we will sponsor a "lunchtime" showing of the movie Hidden Figures, in Barnard Auditorium at 12:00 p.m. This movie is a biographical drama film, based on the non-fiction book by Margot Lee Shetterly, about black female mathematicians who worked at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) during the height of the space race, and the fight for civil rights. These mathematicians helped make space travel possible, supporting John Glenn, the first American to orbit the Earth, and many other astronauts the world over who have since followed Glenn.

Please feel free to join in observance of these great American heroes and heroines today.

The movie will be closed-captioned, but it will not be available to those who are not able to attend the viewing in person at Barnard Auditorium.

Respectfully,

Mw

Subject: All-Staff Meeting and CFC Kick-Off Event

Dear Colleagues,

Please join me on Thursday, November 16, from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. (Eastern Time), in Barnard Auditorium for an All Staff meeting and the official kick-off of this year's Combined Federal Campaign (CFC).

This meeting will encourage you to "Show Some Love" and seek out charitable causes that you may identify with and can support as the holiday season approaches. This will also be a good opportunity to meet and hear updates from our new senior staff members throughout the Department.

I look forward to seeing many of you there.

Thanks,
Betsy

I do not. Didn't we resolve this issue with Delaware?

Whether a school has one or more consistently underperforming subgroups is "as determined by the State" under section 1111(c)(4)(C)(iii).

A State is permitted to identify a school with one or more consistently underperforming subgroups using a methodology totally distinct from the methodology required to identify schools that must receive additional targeted support under ESEA section 1111(d)(2)(C).

At the same time, a State has the discretion to use the additional targeted support methodology (subgroup in the bottom 5%) as its definition of "consistently underperforming subgroup" under ESSA, since that definition is to be determined by the state.

Hi Peter,

Please see below. do you agree with all4ed's "read of the law is that two distinct definitions are required" for TSI and ATSI?

Subject: Meeting Request/ESSA Concerns

Hello, Jason:

I trust all is well and hope you have terrific Thanksgiving plans that have little to do with ESSA plans!

As the Department finalizes its feedback to states, we wanted to share concerns we have identified among several state plans. We hope these items can be included in the Department's feedback to states. We haven't gone through each plan; the attached document includes our top concerns regarding AK, CA, GA, IN, KY, MD, SC, UT, VA, WA, WV, and WY.

An overarching concern is that many states fail to articulate distinctly different methodological approaches for identifying schools with one or more consistently underperforming subgroups for targeted support and improvement (TSI) versus schools that will be identified for additional targeted support and improvement (ATSI). Our read of the law is that two distinct definitions are required; the ATSI definition cannot be used for both – as proposed by many states.

We ask the Department to review state plans with an eye toward ensuring that a state's chosen methodology meets the statutory requirements that TSI and ATSI schools be identified as two distinct categories of schools — TSI schools being any school with one or more consistently underperforming subgroup (ESSA Sec. 1111(c)(4)(C)(iii)), and ATSI schools being those with one or more subgroup performing at or below the state's lowest-performing 5% of schools (ESSA Sec. 1111(d)(2)(C)).

We'd welcome the opportunity to meet with you and go over these concerns if you have time after the holiday. Would you have time on Tuesday after 1:00or on Wed before 3:00?

Many thanks for all you are doing to strengthen these ESSA plans!

Phillip

Kim,

Below please find instructions for connecting to the webinar briefing that we'll facilitate on Thursday for you and your team with Matthew Hom, a Ph.D. candidate at Yale

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

Presenter Bio:
Matthew Hom is a PhD candidate in the Economics department at Yale University. His research focuses on the economics of school choice with an emphasis on the effects of Arizona's statewide open enrollment policies on de-facto segregation and student access to quality schools. He previously earned a BS in Mathematics and a BA in economics at the University of Arizona.

Executive Summary:
Arizona has a longstanding policy of mandatory statewide open enrollment. Under this policy students are eligible to apply for admission to any traditional public school, regardless of their district of residence. However, to date, lack of data on student location has made it impossible to measure the full impact of this policy. In this webinar, I document the open enrollment patterns of approximately 130,000 students in Maricopa County. Specifically, I describe the families most likely to opt out of their neighborhood schools and compare the schools they choose against the schools they avoid. I find that 37% of students enroll in a non-neighborhood school and show that parents don't always opt into schools that outperform their neighborhood option. I also show that students' choices facilitate de-facto segregation. I conclude that students' experience with school choice are shaped by who they are, where they live, and whether they expect to be part of the racial/ethnic majority or minority at a school.

The WestEd team joining the briefing will include:
- Paul Koehler, Director of our Policy Center and the West Comprehensive Center
- Angela Minnici, Senior Director of Technical Assistance and Strategy and Director of the Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center
- Andrea Browning, Director of Regional Initiatives for the Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center
- Kamilah Wilson, Administrative Assistant for the Mid-Atlantic Comprehensive Center

Instructions for connecting to the WebEx are below. Please note that you'll need to both log in to the platform and also call in via your telephone.

Please share this invitation with interested ED colleagues.

Best,
Andrea

Wes asked me this morning if Jason could do this call at 6:00 AM on Wednesday?

He will be at the airport at the time and this time would work better for Wes.

Thank you in advance.

It is wonderful to e-meet you! I schedule on behalf of Secretary DeVos and Jason here at the Department. I am also a TFA-Baltimore Alum :)

I'm sure your schedule is equally, if not more packed than Jason's. Do you have an assistant you would like me to work with to set up some time for you two to connect?

Thanks so much and happy Friday!

All –

We wanted to let you know the proposed schedule for the November 30th and December 7th meetings. We would greatly appreciate it if you could plan to attend both sessions. On November 30th, we will be meeting with representatives of ICF, a firm that provides comprehensive rulemaking services to agencies from posting of comments to regulations.gov to summarizing and analyzing comments. The following is a link to the policy and regulatory development page on ICF's website for your reference. https://www.icf.com/services/policy-and-regulatory-development

At the December 7th meeting, we would like to discuss the presentations we heard from ICF as well as N&C Inc. to gauge interest in exploring these services further.

Best wishes for a Happy Thanksgiving.

Please see below; might need to sort out a few issues before telling PR it can use Title I funds for assessment costs.

The final response regarding Title I may hinge on exactly what costs we're talking about (e.g., assessment development vs. administration) as well as the potentially greater flexibility PR may have because nearly all of its students are in Title I schoolwide programs, thus perhaps overcoming the concern below about using Title I funds to benefit all students.

Since it looks like we're talking about last year's bills, PR should look first to FY 2016 funds, which remain available for obligation. According to the attached spreadsheet, provided by Lorena and sent around by Jason last Monday, PR has $553,225.17 in FY 2016 State Assessment funds (at least I think it's FY 2016 funds—the "FY 2016-17" nomenclature in the spreadsheet is a little confusing, but I'm assuming it actually means "SY 2016-2017") that could be used to pay an assessment vendor. PR also may be able to use the $87,500.80 in available FY 2015 funds for this purpose, given that we have provided a waiver of the period of availability for FY 2015 ESEA formula grant funds. And of course PR likely has its full FY 2017 State Assessment allocation (or most of it) available, though there may be some administrative hurdles[what would these be? Can we do this administratively?] to overcome in using those funds to pay a bill from last year (i.e., prior to the availability of FY 2017 funds on July 1 of this year).
> 2. PR also can use the State share (roughly 1%) of Title I, Part A funds to pay the costs of developing ~~or administering~~ ESEA assessments.[State admin $$ may not be used to administer assessments because there is not explicit authority to spend those funds for general aid purposes. Perhaps we could waive that limitation.] PR appears to have $156,338,430.70 in FY 2016 Title I, Part A funds that remain available for obligation; however, it's possible that PRDE already has spent its FY 2016 Title I administrative funds (then the question might be can it use FY 2017 State-level administrative funds to satisfy an obligation from the previous year).
> 3. As noted on last week's call with Julia, there is no limit on the LEA share of Title I funds that may be used for administrative costs, including (pending confirmation by OGC) assessment costs, and since PR is a unitary LEA, it may be that PRDE has flexibility to tap a larger share of the $156 million in remaining FY 2016 funds than would otherwise be available under the 1% State-level administrative reservation in order to pay its assessment vendor. [we would not permit an LEA to use Title I admin $$ for assessment administration—or development. Same reason as above: there is no express statutory authority to use Title I funds to benefit all students.]
> One thus far unexplored area of flexibility that could help with this and other issues around which funds from which years can be used to pay which bills is section 301 of the Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, which I've copied below from Paul's handy waiver table. It would be useful, for example, if we could use this provision to permit PR to use current-year funds to settle bills from prior years. The qualifier about the inability to meet such conditions having to be a result of the disaster could be a challenge for pre-hurricane obligations, but we might be able to overcome it.

STAFFORD Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act	§301: "administrative conditions" for any "Federal assistance program" (quoted terms are not defined in the Act)	State, Local Authorities	Respective agency head (ED Secretary)	§301: "if the inability to meet such conditions is a result of the major disaster". Hi Bill,

When we met to discuss the money PR owes its assessment vendor from last school year and the cost that the vendor has proposed for this school year, you mentioned that some of the federal funds that Puerto Rico has they can use to pay these expenses. Can you please email me more details about that so I can share them with Julia?

Subject: Canceled: Alternative OII BBQ
Importance: High

So as the weather would not cooperate, we have altered the plan.

We have decided to cancel the OII BBQ. HOWEVER, all is not lost! We will still have lunch together on Thursday from 12-2 pm in room 1W128. We will use the money already collected to buy food from Costco. We will purchase an assortment of food, desserts, and drinks and will try to select items that all with a food and drink ticket will enjoy.

We will bring music and games so that we can have a great time being together. Keep in mind that the we want everyone to arrive on time and stay the whole time just as if you were going to the BBQ, no running back to your desk ☺. All are welcome to join in for the comradery and games.

Thanks so much for your consideration and patience in this matter as we really are trying make the best of this last HOORAH in the name of OII.

Subject: State Policy Network Research Study Review & Meet and Greet Attachments: Jahr Federal letter.pdf

Feel free to share with others

The State Policy Network Affiliate-The Badger Institute in Wisconsin just concluded three years of research on the impact of federal grants-in-aid and published their findings in a book titled "Federal Grant$standing."At this meeting, they will share their findings (one-pager below). The goal of the meeting is to engage and inform The State Policy Network of the practices, policies, and programs ED has to offer; and, to assist on a national level so they can assist at the state, local, and community level, to plan, implement, and participate in effective programs for students. We also hope to receive an update on their organization's work.

This meeting will be held on Wednesday, September 26th from 1:30-2:30pm.

Key findings

• Grants-in-aid have exploded from $7 billion in 1960 (7.5 percent of federal spending) to $728 billion today (17.6 percent of federal spending).
• Most states today get about one-third of their revenues from the federal government.
• A growing number of Wisconsin "state employees" – around 10,000 of them -- now answer to bureaucrats and politicians in Washington, D.C. For example, fully 73 percent of the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development's 1,603 workers are now paid with federal funds.
• Nearly 30 percent of federally paid workers in just six Wisconsin departments appear to simply administer federal dollars. Their annual salary and benefits total nearly $89 million.
• Some 60 percent of surveyed superintendents, school board members and business managers in Wisconsin agreed with the statement that "restrictions on how federal funds are spent harmfully distort the decisions that local school officials make on behalf of their students."
• The Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction spends $54 million annually to administer federal funds.
• School districts that saved taxpayer money as the result of Act 10 reforms are compelled by federal "maintenance of effort" requirements to spend that money – often on things they don't want or need – or lose federal funding.

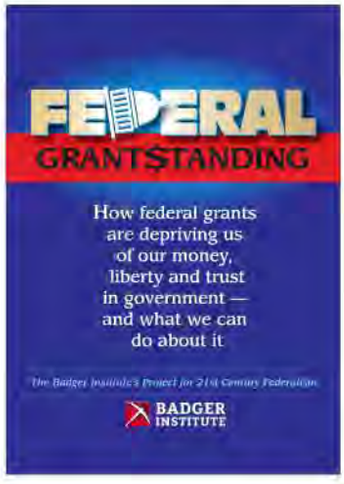
BADGER INSTITUTE

Free Markets ▪ Opportunity ▪ Prosperity

The Badger Institute provides a superb account of the harm that the $700 billion system does to sound government in Wisconsin, and they dig up eye-opening examples of inherent waste. The book is chock full of unique data and survey information, but the findings are applicable to every state in the nation — Chris Edwards, Cato Institute

Federal grants-in-aid, often perceived at the state and local level as "free money," are in reality a coercive, cynical contrivance that increases costs, undermines local control, inhibits innovation and subverts constitutional protections, according to a new book published by the Badger Institute. "Federal Grant$tanding," the culmination of nearly three years of research and reporting, describes how these grants-in-aid actually centralize power in the nation's capital and erode trust in government.



This is not the first publication to point out that the astronomical growth of federal grants-in-aid is at the crux of a debilitating, inexorable expansion of national power. But it may be the first to report so extensively from the schoolhouses, statehouses and streets where most Americans live.

"Federal Grant$tanding combines traditional policy research, investigative reporting, surveys of educators and local officials and interviews with key players to produce some alarming findings. Among them:

- Grants-in-aid have exploded from $7 billion in 1960 (7.5 percent of federal spending) to an estimated $728 billion today (17.6 percent of federal spending).
- Most states today get about one-third of their revenues from the federal government.
- A growing number of Wisconsin "state employees" — around 10,000 of them — now answer to bureaucrats and politicians in Washington, D.C. For example, fully 73 percent of the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development's 1,603 workers are now paid with federal funds.
- Nearly 30 percent of federally paid workers in just six Wisconsin departments appear to simply administer federal dollars. Their annual salary and benefits total nearly $89 million.
- Some 60 percent of surveyed superintendents, school board members and business managers in Wisconsin agreed with the statement that "restrictions on how federal funds are spent harmfully distort the decisions that local school officials make on behalf of their students."
- The Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction spends $54 million annually to administer federal funds.
- School districts that saved taxpayer money as the result of Act 10 reforms are compelled by federal "maintenance of effort" requirements to spend that money — often on things they don't want or need — or lose federal funding.

"Federal Grant$tanding" concludes that the price of continuing apace — including the incessant growth of federal debt, the loss of time, money and ingenuity in the states, and the diminished trust in our leaders — is threatening the dual system of governance that the founding fathers envisioned. Fortunately, reform, while difficult, is possible. The book includes a variety of possible solutions and sets the stage for additional research across the country.

Hi Jason and Ebony—

I hope that you both are well.

I am writing on behalf of TFA's CEO, Elisa Villanueva Beard who would like the opportunity to meet with you to provide an update on TFA's work in more than 50 regions across the country, and specifically how the Department's SEED grant has helped us achieve greater impact in our fight for excellence and equity in education.

In the 2018-2019 school year, we will have more than 6,700 corps members joining more than 52,000 alumni to create a network of leaders who are working inside and outside the classroom to improve educational opportunities for all children. Every day they are proving that with hard work, determination, and partnerships across the community, all students can achieve at the highest levels.

Elisa will be in Washington, D.C. on Tuesday, October 2nd and is available to meet between 10am and 4pm. I hope we are able to make this work for your schedules.

Thanks so much for your consideration, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Best,

Jean Doyle

Hi Shaina,

Please schedule a 15-minute meeting between Denise Carter and me in her office, ideally tomorrow (Monday), Tuesday if necessary. i have two agenda items:

1. Follow-up on personnel issues we discussed Friday, and
2. Which office I should use on 4th floor when I am doing OII-related work.

Thanks!

Subject: School Ambassador Fellowship Anniversary

Dear Wonderful ED Colleagues,

On Thursday, July 26, alumni from the Teacher and Principal Ambassador Fellowship and the current cohort of the School Ambassador Fellowship will convene at ED to celebrate 10 amazing years of this program. You are invited to participate in the day through discussions with the Alumni and current Fellows. The first half of the hour will kick-off with alumni sharing their big projects at ED and in return, we would love for you to be part of that discussion and to share how you have worked with Fellows and Alumni in the last ten years. The second half of the hour will be dedicated to learning about what these innovative and diverse educators have accomplished since their Fellowship. The attendees represent at least ten different states and roles in schools, districts, and non-profit organizations.

You do not need to commit to the whole hour, but I know Fellows and Alumni would be excited to see many ED staff members during that time to recognize their impact and to reconnect. If you have not worked with the Fellowship in the past, please come down to learn more about the different work of Fellows across the years and to learn how they may assist you in the future.

Thank you and as always, if I can facilitate the Fellows' expertise and involvement into your work, please let me know. We will be welcoming a new cohort very soon, so stay tuned for further information!

Best,
Celeste

MEMORANDUM

DATE: July 25, 2018

TO: Mitchell Zais, Kent Talbert, Ebony Lee, Jason Botel, Diane Jones, Ashley Briggs, and Meredith Miller

FROM: Military Affairs Team (Maureen Dowling and Brian Thompson)

SUBJECT: Proposed Policy Recommendations for National Commission on School Safety Area of Focus #8

Issue: How to support the transition of military veterans and retired law enforcement into new careers in education?

Background:

Military veterans and retired law enforcement officers have the leadership skills, experience in high-stress environments, and essential training on how to handle difficult situations that will help ensure the safety and security of our nation's schools. Their transition into new careers in education requires a shared commitment among the federal government, state and local governments, non-profit organizations, and the private sector. Unfortunately, there is overlap, duplication, and a general lack of coordination and control over the array of programs and resources at the federal, state, and local levels to support the transition of military veterans and retired law enforcement into careers in education.

Policy Recommendations:

1. Congress should unify the funding and operational control of placing more veterans and retired law enforcement into new careers in education under the umbrella of a public-private partnership led by one federal agency. The Corporation for National & Community Service (CNCS) has experience partnering with the public and private sector to leverage the resources necessary to successfully place military veterans and retired law enforcement officers into our nation's schools.
2. Congress should transfer the Department of Defense Troops to Teachers (TTT) program to CNCS. Considering CNCS has recruited more than 27,000 veterans to serve as AmeriCorps and Senior Corps members across 200 American communities, CNCS is in a better position to place veterans into our nation's schools.
3. Congress should fundamentally change the intent and scope of TTT, broadening its reach to include a wide range of education professions such as principals, administrators, counselors, and school resource officers, in addition to teachers. A Troops and Cops to Education model designed as a public-private partnership could ensure the reach and sustainability of the program.
4. Congress should make changes to TTT and the U.S. Department of Education TEACH Grant program that provide exceptions for veterans and retired law enforcement to be eligible for financial assistance when teaching at any U.S. school. Mass shootings can strike any school, whether high-poverty or not.

5. The Department of Defense (DoD) should promote careers in education for future veterans throughout the military life cycle, create a "future in education" curriculum within the Transition Assistance Program, and authorize DoD SkillBridge to partner with State educational agencies and local educational agencies to provide transitioning service members the opportunity to participate in civilian job and employment training in our nation's schools.
6. State and local governments should consider offering incentives and additional resources to recruit highly-skilled military veterans and retired law enforcement officers into careers in education. Sample incentives could include:
    - Fast-track application review,
    - Adding preference points to a job candidate's score,
    - Employing a dedicated hiring official that recruits and hires military veterans and retired law enforcement officers, and
    - Participation in the U.S. Department of Veteran Affairs GI Bill On-The-Job training and apprenticeship program as a way to attract veteran candidates to school employment positions.

      (4) Provide Transparency through Data and Evaluations (TBD – Goal or Theme or both?)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ii) Themes (or Tactics)
   (1) Community Partnerships (#1,2,7,10)
   (2) Convergence (#3,5,7,8,9)
   (3) Information Technology (#4,5,6,7)
   (4) Transparency and Accountability (#11,12,13,14)

iii) Strategic Mechanisms - 14 (without numbers, ordering will differ for narrative sake within each focus area)
   (1) #1 - Expand partnerships of educational entities and employers:
      (a) Work-based learning including pre-apprenticeships, apprenticeships, internships, job shadows, job boards, cooperative education, and mentorships in STEM K-20;
   (2) #2 - Foster STEM networks (ecosystems) that unite all stakeholders across communities and regions (employers, preK-12, higher ed., nonprofits, nonformal ed., local governments, etc.) to drive talent toward STEM careers, which will in turn support economic development, especially in the realm of Skilled Technical Workforce.
   (3) #3 - Advance Innovation and Entrepreneurship Education: Business start-up incubators, prototyping and inventing (reduce barriers to invention such as patent fees), entrepreneurship development, Making, problem-finding.
   (4) #4 - Expand research and programming into Digital Platforms for teaching/learning given the enormous potential to connect learners across the globe, to bring diverse expertise into classrooms, and to equalize educational opportunity in high-need schools and communities (both urban and rural).
   (5) #5 - Weave computational thinking principles* universally across grade levels and into all school subjects as well as into nonformal/informal learning events (using, for example, data science as a CS context across disciplines). [*Organize data for effective communication; Generate algorithms for procedures that reliably analyze processes; Create computational models using data and algorithms to simulate complex systems; Compare computational models to derive new insights.]
   (6) #6 - Promote digital literacy/fluency and cyber-safety practices including information gathering and communication, analysis of information, judicious communication, and critical analysis.
   (7) #7 - Increase diversity and inclusion of all Americans in STEM programs, including women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and people in rural areas.
      (a) Focus on retention at critical transitions;
      (b) Address the Belief Gap;

(9) #9 - Usher a new era of transdisciplinary, or convergent, study across STEM and including social science and humanities when appropriate, by which learners in teams take on grand challenges and broad investigative questions reflective of modern societal challenges. Focus on competency, demonstration and application as assessment, vs. rote recall.

(10) #10 - Blend successful practices across traditional college-preparatory and career/technical education, and across formal (school based) and informal (out-of-school) STEM education in terms of impact assessment, practitioner credentialing, professional development, and public-private partnerships. Align education of all forms to what employers will need in future employees.

(11) #11 - Federal agencies that fund STEM and CS education programs should encourage leveraging/scaling/implementing of models (professional development, curriculum, etc.) that have been developed through Federal grants when appropriate.

(12) #12 -Identify common metrics across agencies to be used in assessing progress toward achieving objectives and then take appropriate steps to enhance effectiveness of the portfolio.

(13) #13 -Improve public awareness of information on programs' performance assessments by documenting program-level information on performance assessments in the federal STEM education inventory.

(14) #14 - Report required information on the participation rates of women, underrepresented minorities, and persons from rural areas in federal STEM education programs.

FC-STEM Meeting Minutes
May 8, 2018
1:00 - 3:00PM
Eisenhower Executive Office Building

Welcome, Notes from NSTC Director, & Introductions

Jeff Weld opened the meeting and thanked everyone for their attendance. Jeff introduced Joan Ferrini-Mundy and Mike Kincaid, who provided introductory remarks. Joan noted that FC-STEM will be the working group that provides the fodder for CoSTEM, as FC-STEM members are the individuals most closely tied to the education work occurring at their respective agencies. Joan emphasized that it is important for FC-STEM's cross-agency work to continue. Joan also announced that this will likely be her final FC-STEM meeting, as she has accepted a position as President of the University of Maine and the President of the University of Maine at Machias. Mike Kincaid thanked Joan for her service. Mike underscored the importance of FC-STEM's work, noting that our collective efforts will inspire the next generation of students in STEM across the country.

Chloe Kontos then provided remarks as the Executive Director of the NSTC. Chloe noted that this is the first meeting of a reconstituted FC-STEM. The NSTC decided to appoint one person per agency to FC-STEM. Chloe thanked everyone for their past service and future contributions, and asked everyone to be ready to serve, as there is much work to be done. Chloe also noted that changes are coming as we develop the new strategic plan and consider the development of new IWGs.

Jeff remarked that we have a great opportunity to develop a more outward-facing strategic plan, which can establish a nationwide agenda in STEM education. Jeff noted that Roger Bybee has just published a book called "STEM Education Now More than Ever." The book is nicely timed with the release of the new strategic plan.

Following opening remarks, Jeff invited everyone in attendance to introduce themselves. A full list of attendees can be found in Appendix A.

CoSTEM Progress Report Update

Jeff introduced Sharon Williams and Alexis McKittrick from IDA's Science and Technology Policy Institute (STPI), who provided an update on the 2018 CoSTEM Progress Report. A handout provided by Sharon and Alexis can be found in Appendix B.

Alexis provided an overview of the process used to develop the progress report. In February, a data call went out to agencies to provide program outcome narratives, which would highlight agency achievements in STEM education. STPI received many valuable narratives through this data call. The final narratives to be included in the report are being edited in collaboration with agencies.

While STPI collected data from agencies, OMB also completed its 2018 STEM Education Inventory. The inventory collected data on FY17 actual and FY18 enacted funding levels for Federal STEM education programs. OMB's inventory revealed 166 federal STEM education programs operating in FY18, with a total budget of $2.9B across the federal government.

STPI also conducted interviews with agencies to better understand the program highlights that were submitted through the data call. Additionally, STPI used the interview as an opportunity to understand STEM education metrics, evaluations, interagency collaborations, and the dissemination of program information. Sharon thanked the agencies for a total of 13 hours of interview data. Five major takeaways emerged from these interviews, which provided context for the progress report:

- The influence of agency leadership and outside bodies (e.g. Congress, White House) on STEM education programs, their implementation, and their evaluation.
- Resource limitations impact agencies' capabilities to develop metrics and evaluate programs; the formation of the evaluation group within FC-STEM is particularly valuable for agencies that have limited support for or expertise in evaluation.
- Evaluation metrics should be developed with program objectives and agency priorities in-mind.
- Common metrics can make programs look identical, even when the programs may not actually overlap. This can be problematic when requesting funding.
- CoSTEM/FC-STEM agencies enjoy working together and the coordination has helped agencies achieve specific goals.

After Sharon and Alexis finished their remarks, Jeff asked the FC-STEM members for any questions or comments about the draft report and interview process.

A question was asked from the Department of Education about how OMB defines its STEM education programs – do STEM education programs have a specific focus on STEM education or are they programs where STEM education is an allowable activity?

- STPI responded that they used the definition from the original strategic plan to identify STEM education programs.
- FC-STEM members noted that going forward, it would be helpful to clarify what is defined as a STEM education program, as metrics and impacts differ between programs which require a STEM education component versus those programs that permit STEM education as an activity.
- OMB noted that the OMB data call is done on behalf of OSTP, so OMB defers to OSTP to figure out what to count as a STEM education program. If FC-STEM wishes to change the definition of a STEM program, FC-STEM should work with OSTP to establish a new definition.
- NIH and NSF also reported internal debate about the inclusion of certain programs in the CoSTEM inventory.
- Jeff stated that it would be useful to find a way to incorporate programs into the report that fund STEM education initiatives indirectly and distinguish them from those that fund STEM education directly.
- Joan favored a very broad definition of a STEM education program to reassure federal colleagues that being a part of CoSTEM's inventory is a good thing. However, a broad definition of STEM education programs makes evaluation even more complicated.

STPI noted that the first draft of the progress report will go to the FC-STEM members for review around May 21, and STPI will request a one-week review period in order to release the report to the public by

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

June 2018. The progress report will include the OMB inventory but will not include the emergent priorities document, which is an internal working document.

Jeff thanked Sharon and Alexis for their efforts to develop this report.

Development of the Next Five-Year Strategic Plan

Jeff Weld provided an overview of the draft strategic plan priorities that were circulated in advance of the meeting (included as Appendix C). Jeff developed the draft priorities through meetings with interested individuals in the STEM community. The list of people who have contributed to these priorities is included but is not intended to be made public. Jeff invited FC-STEM members to provide input on these priorities, and encouraged members to circulate the priorities document to colleagues for feedback.

Questions and comments were put forward about the priorities. [Questions and comments are written below in the order in which they were asked/stated.]

- How important is it that the strategic plan spans the full federal investment? Do these priorities indicate that the investments should shift?
    - This is something to consider going forward – there is no clear answer at this time.
- The priorities in the current strategic plan explain "what" we should focus on, while these emergent new priorities focus on "what" and "how." This could be a useful way to consider priorities going forward.
    - It would also be useful to better understand "why" these priorities are included.
- It will be important for agency STEM education stakeholders to see themselves in the new plan.
- It would be helpful to consider why we are engaging in the development of a new five-year plan? We should consider, "What do we want to accomplish in five years?" Do we wish to collaborate to establish a scientifically-literate citizenry? Do we hope our collaboration will develop a strong STEM workforce? Answering these questions will help us identify appropriate priorities.
    - A heavy emphasis on workforce development can cause us to lose focus on the development of a scientifically-literate citizenry.
- The outline appears to be focused heavily on the K-12 level. The biomedical research workforce needs reach above and beyond the K-12 level, and it is important to include the biomedical workforce in this plan.
- Some of the priorities might be combined, such as the items related to interdisciplinary/ transdisciplinary research.
- Teacher quality seems to be missing from this list of priorities. There are many things related to teacher quality that we might consider in the development of this plan, including the role of professional development and teacher compensation.
- Echoing an earlier statement, "What do we want to accomplish? What are our long-term goals?"
- We should consider, "What is the role of the federal government in these priority areas?" This is not a global STEM education plan, but a plan for the federal government to move an agenda forward.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Lifelong learning could be considered a priority. We might think about ways to train and retrain workers effectively, as it is unlikely that people will stay in a specific career field for many years.
- The "what," "how," and "why" buckets are helpful in considering these priorities. Answering these questions will help us to develop measures and outcomes.
- Priority 10 might be revised to say, "Enhance the engagement of youth through informal activities." There are boundaries between informal and formal learning environments. We can start early with informal education opportunities to incentivize students to continue to participate in STEM.
- As NOAA explored these draft priorities, they felt that they struggled to see how they could contribute to most of the priorities. It would be good to continue to consider how best to leverage agency assets.
- How will this plan build on the prior plan? How do we connect the pieces of the last plan with the new priorities?
- Building on an earlier comment, there are priorities that could be collapsed or consolidated.
- Basic science is missing in these priorities. There are lots of priorities in the draft outline focused on technology and mathematics. Students also need basic knowledge of science.
- Medicine is missing in the current plan.
- The NSTC has reconstituted its work. We might be able to align our work around the reconstituted NSTC. We could pick a few of the S&T areas and how we might address them through this strategic plan.
- We learned a big lesson through the implementation of the last plan – it is important to leverage agency assets. We only started to do this under the current plan. Going forward, we need to keep mission science agency investments in-mind.

Jeff invited everyone to be a part of the writing process going forward. He noted priorities as-written are reflective of the constituents who have had input into the plan so far.

Questions were asked about how work on the strategic plan will move forward [responses from Jeff/Chloe/FC-STEM leadership are presented as sub-bullets]:

- Will CoSTEM convene to assess the strategic plan and provide input into the strategic plan?
    - CoSTEM is charging this group with developing the strategic plan. FC-STEM members should be briefing their agency heads, and CoSTEM will sign-off on this work.
- Is it important that feedback on the strategic plan be brought back from leadership in a systematic way?
    - Not at this time – send any information to Jeff about priorities.
- Will each agency have a representative on CoSTEM?
    - Maybe not. This is still up for discussion. There is an expectation that FC-STEM members are briefing their leadership. FC-STEM may want to decide, as a group, when to brief agency leadership.
- Will the strategic plan go through public comment?
    - Probably not. The plan did not go through public comment last time – the design of the strategic plan was kept internal. Some NSTC committees have explicit requirements to undergo public comment, but CoSTEM does not.
- What is the timeline for the development/release of the next plan?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- We are hoping to release the plan this fall. Because of this, it will have an influence on the FY2021 budget requests. An R&D priorities memo will be released ahead of the finalized strategic plan that will incorporate some of these priorities, and will influence budget requests before FY2021.

Other FC-STEM Updates

After discussing the priorities in the next strategic plan, updates were provided on other ongoing FC-STEM activities.

Joan provided a report-out on the evaluation working group. Evaluation leaders from the FC-STEM agencies met on February 2. The work of this group will continue, though the group will not be formalized into an IWG within FC-STEM with an official charter. A specific call for members will be released.

Susan then provided an overview of the transition of the broadening participation IWG to the "Interagency Working Group on Inclusion in STEM," or IWGIS. The AICA specifically mandated the formation of an interagency working group on inclusion in STEM. Because the charge of the IWGIS overlapped with the work of the BP IWG, a merging of charters was proposed between the BP IWG and planned IWGIS. Ultimately, the decision was made to merge the two groups, and the broadening participation IWG formally became the IWGIS in April of 2018. The IWGIS will continue to focus on broadening participation issues as they relate to STEM education, but will also encompass the work mandated in the AICA, which relates to understanding inclusion in the federal STEM education workforce. The charter for this group will last for 10 years, in accordance with the AICA mandate, so will remain in effect until April 2028. The NSTC made the decision to change the charter and name of the group to eliminate the risk of duplication of efforts and risk stretching personnel thin.

A question was asked about the length of FC-STEM's strategic plan: Since the charter for the IWGIS is 10 years, will the strategic plan also be extended to last for 10 years?

- Response from Chloe: No. The NSTC would like to stay away from charters that last 10 years – the charter for the IWGIS was only signed for 10 years because of statute. The FC-STEM strategic plan will last for 5 years.

Jeff would like to see the current broadening participation group stay in-tact, but then add talent to the group to meet the new mandate. A call for members of this group will be sent out after the meeting.

Nafeesa Owens then provided an overview of the progress toward the development of the STEM Education Advisory Panel. This panel was required to be developed in alignment with the AICA. The panel will advise CoSTEM and assess CoSTEM's progress. Outreach was done to identify potential members, and a notice about the panel's formation was posted in the Federal Register. NSF received over 800 inquiries about the panel, which resulted in 450 nominations. The NSF Director, in consultation with NASA, NOAA, and ED, is responsible for appointing members to the panel. The Director is currently reviewing member recommendations. Recommendations will also be sent to NASA, NOAA, and ED for concurrence. Once members are approved, the names will be sent to the FC-STEM community. It is hoped that the panel will meet in late June.

Jeff then provided an update on the state STEM leaders convening, which will take place on June 26. Three STEM leaders per state were identified by their governors to attend the meeting to provide feedback on the development of the strategic plan. Facilitators will be needed for the meeting – Jeff will send a request for facilitators. Facilitators will attend a pre-meeting training session and will also attend a post-meeting debrief. Contractors from EDC, supported by the NSF, will train the facilitators. The meeting will take place on June 26. Facilitators will need to be able to commit to the day of the event on June 26, and a one-hour training before the meeting and a one-hour debrief after the event. Jeff hopes agency directors will be in the room during the convening. This convening will be an intimate workshop, not a conference. There are outside people who have asked to attend this meeting but only the nominees from the state agencies will be able to participate.

Mike Kincaid, Jeff Weld, and Joan Ferrini-Mundy then provided an update on the status of the IWGs. The IWGs will continue as-is for now, as these groups serve as important networks for information dissemination. The groups should close-up current projects, and the groups can continue to expect to send out calls for information. The current co-chairs were thanked for their past and continued service.

Meeting Wrap-Up and Adjournment

Joan and Mike thanked everyone for their continued service to FC-STEM. As this was likely Joan's final FC-STEM meeting, Chloe then thanked Joan for her service. Joan started as FC-STEM co-chair in 2014, when she was Assistant Director in the Education and Human Resources Directorate at the NSF. She continued her role as FC-STEM co-chair when she became NSF's Chief Operating Officer in 2017. Chloe thanked Joan for her efforts leading FC-STEM.

Jeff thanked everyone for their attendance and the meeting was adjourned.

iii) Strategic Mechanisms - 14 (without numbers, ordering will differ for narrative sake within each focus area)
   (1) #1 - Expand partnerships of educational entities and employers:
      (a) Work-based learning including pre-apprenticeships, apprenticeships, internships, job shadows, job boards, cooperative education, and mentorships in STEM K-20;
   (2) #2 - Foster STEM networks (ecosystems) that unite all stakeholders across communities and regions (employers, preK-12, higher ed., nonprofits, nonformal ed., local governments, etc.) to drive talent toward STEM careers, which will in turn support economic development, especially in the realm of Skilled Technical Workforce.
   (3) #3 - Advance Innovation and Entrepreneurship Education: Business start-up incubators, prototyping and inventing (reduce barriers to invention such as patent fees), entrepreneurship development, Making, problem-finding.
   (4) #4 - Expand research and programming into Digital Platforms for teaching/learning given the enormous potential to connect learners across the globe, to bring diverse expertise into classrooms, and to equalize educational opportunity in high-need schools and communities (both urban and rural).
   (5) #5 - Weave computational thinking principles* universally across grade levels and into all school subjects as well as into nonformal/informal learning events (using, for example, data science as a CS context across disciplines). [*Organize data for effective communication; Generate algorithms for procedures that reliably analyze processes; Create computational models using data and algorithms to simulate complex systems; Compare computational models to derive new insights.]
   (6) #6 - Promote digital literacy/fluency and cyber-safety practices including information gathering and communication, analysis of information, judicious communication, and critical analysis.
   (7) #7 - Increase diversity and inclusion of all Americans in STEM programs, including women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and people in rural areas.
      (a) Focus on retention at critical transitions;
      (b) Address the Belief Gap;
   (8) #8 - Support the contextual integration of mathematical sciences, including statistical reasoning and conceptual understanding, across the grades and subjects in ways that relate to daily real world applications, spanning the disciplines, solving contemporary open questions.
      (a) Data science and data literacy as universal applications
      (b) Modeling – formulating questions, data production, analysis, empiricism
      (c) Career information embedded into Mathematics learning (indeed, all subjects)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(9) #9 - Usher a new era of transdisciplinary, or convergent, study across STEM and including social science and humanities when appropriate, by which learners in teams take on grand challenges and broad investigative questions reflective of modern societal challenges. Focus on competency, demonstration and application as assessment, vs. rote recall.

(10) #10 - Blend successful practices across traditional college-preparatory and career/technical education, and across formal (school based) and informal (out-of-school) STEM education in terms of impact assessment, practitioner credentialing, professional development, and public-private partnerships. Align education of all forms to what employers will need in future employees.

(11) #11 - Federal agencies that fund STEM and CS education programs should encourage leveraging/scaling/implementing of models (professional development, curriculum, etc.) that have been developed through Federal grants when appropriate.

(12) #12 -Identify common metrics across agencies to be used in assessing progress toward achieving objectives and then take appropriate steps to enhance effectiveness of the portfolio.

(13) #13 -Improve public awareness of information on programs' performance assessments by documenting program-level information on performance assessments in the federal STEM education inventory.

(14) #14 - Report required information on the participation rates of women, underrepresented minorities, and persons from rural areas in federal STEM education programs.

FC-STEM Meeting Minutes
May 8, 2018
1:00 - 3:00PM
Eisenhower Executive Office Building

Welcome, Notes from NSTC Director, & Introductions

Jeff Weld opened the meeting and thanked everyone for their attendance. Jeff introduced Joan Ferrini-Mundy and Mike Kincaid, who provided introductory remarks. Joan noted that FC-STEM will be the working group that provides the fodder for CoSTEM, as FC-STEM members are the individuals most closely tied to the education work occurring at their respective agencies. Joan emphasized that it is important for FC-STEM's cross-agency work to continue. Joan also announced that this will likely be her final FC-STEM meeting, as she has accepted a position as President of the University of Maine and the President of the University of Maine at Machias. Mike Kincaid thanked Joan for her service. Mike underscored the importance of FC-STEM's work, noting that our collective efforts will inspire the next generation of students in STEM across the country.

Chloe Kontos then provided remarks as the Executive Director of the NSTC. Chloe noted that this is the first meeting of a reconstituted FC-STEM. The NSTC decided to appoint one person per agency to FC-STEM. Chloe thanked everyone for their past service and future contributions, and asked everyone to be ready to serve, as there is much work to be done. Chloe also noted that changes are coming as we develop the new strategic plan and consider the development of new IWGs.

Jeff remarked that we have a great opportunity to develop a more outward-facing strategic plan, which can establish a nationwide agenda in STEM education. Jeff noted that Roger Bybee has just published a book called "STEM Education Now More than Ever." The book is nicely timed with the release of the new strategic plan.

Following opening remarks, Jeff invited everyone in attendance to introduce themselves. A full list of attendees can be found in Appendix A.

CoSTEM Progress Report Update

Jeff introduced Sharon Williams and Alexis McKittrick from IDA's Science and Technology Policy Institute (STPI), who provided an update on the 2018 CoSTEM Progress Report. A handout provided by Sharon and Alexis can be found in Appendix B.

Alexis provided an overview of the process used to develop the progress report. In February, a data call went out to agencies to provide program outcome narratives, which would highlight agency achievements in STEM education. STPI received many valuable narratives through this data call. The final narratives to be included in the report are being edited in collaboration with agencies.

While STPI collected data from agencies, OMB also completed its 2018 STEM Education Inventory. The inventory collected data on FY17 actual and FY18 enacted funding levels for Federal STEM education programs. OMB's inventory revealed 166 federal STEM education programs operating in FY18, with a total budget of $2.9B across the federal government.

STPI also conducted interviews with agencies to better understand the program highlights that were submitted through the data call. Additionally, STPI used the interview as an opportunity to understand STEM education metrics, evaluations, interagency collaborations, and the dissemination of program information. Sharon thanked the agencies for a total of 13 hours of interview data. Five major takeaways emerged from these interviews, which provided context for the progress report:

- The influence of agency leadership and outside bodies (e.g. Congress, White House) on STEM education programs, their implementation, and their evaluation.
- Resource limitations impact agencies' capabilities to develop metrics and evaluate programs; the formation of the evaluation group within FC-STEM is particularly valuable for agencies that have limited support for or expertise in evaluation.
- Evaluation metrics should be developed with program objectives and agency priorities in-mind.
- Common metrics can make programs look identical, even when the programs may not actually overlap. This can be problematic when requesting funding.
- CoSTEM/FC-STEM agencies enjoy working together and the coordination has helped agencies achieve specific goals.

After Sharon and Alexis finished their remarks, Jeff asked the FC-STEM members for any questions or comments about the draft report and interview process.

A question was asked from the Department of Education about how OMB defines its STEM education programs – do STEM education programs have a specific focus on STEM education or are they programs where STEM education is an allowable activity?

- STPI responded that they used the definition from the original strategic plan to identify STEM education programs.
- FC-STEM members noted that going forward, it would be helpful to clarify what is defined as a STEM education program, as metrics and impacts differ between programs which require a STEM education component versus those programs that permit STEM education as an activity.
- OMB noted that the OMB data call is done on behalf of OSTP, so OMB defers to OSTP to figure out what to count as a STEM education program. If FC-STEM wishes to change the definition of a STEM program, FC-STEM should work with OSTP to establish a new definition.
- NIH and NSF also reported internal debate about the inclusion of certain programs in the CoSTEM inventory.
- Jeff stated that it would be useful to find a way to incorporate programs into the report that fund STEM education initiatives indirectly and distinguish them from those that fund STEM education directly.
- Joan favored a very broad definition of a STEM education program to reassure federal colleagues that being a part of CoSTEM's inventory is a good thing. However, a broad definition of STEM education programs makes evaluation even more complicated.

STPI noted that the first draft of the progress report will go to the FC-STEM members for review around May 21, and STPI will request a one-week review period in order to release the report to the public by

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

June 2018. The progress report will include the OMB inventory but will not include the emergent priorities document, which is an internal working document.

Jeff thanked Sharon and Alexis for their efforts to develop this report.

Development of the Next Five-Year Strategic Plan

Jeff Weld provided an overview of the draft strategic plan priorities that were circulated in advance of the meeting (included as Appendix C). Jeff developed the draft priorities through meetings with interested individuals in the STEM community. The list of people who have contributed to these priorities is included but is not intended to be made public. Jeff invited FC-STEM members to provide input on these priorities, and encouraged members to circulate the priorities document to colleagues for feedback.

Questions and comments were put forward about the priorities. [Questions and comments are written below in the order in which they were asked/stated.]

- How important is it that the strategic plan spans the full federal investment? Do these priorities indicate that the investments should shift?
    - This is something to consider going forward – there is no clear answer at this time.
- The priorities in the current strategic plan explain "what" we should focus on, while these emergent new priorities focus on "what" and "how." This could be a useful way to consider priorities going forward.
    - It would also be useful to better understand "why" these priorities are included.
- It will be important for agency STEM education stakeholders to see themselves in the new plan.
- It would be helpful to consider why we are engaging in the development of a new five-year plan? We should consider, "What do we want to accomplish in five years?" Do we wish to collaborate to establish a scientifically-literate citizenry? Do we hope our collaboration will develop a strong STEM workforce? Answering these questions will help us identify appropriate priorities.
    - A heavy emphasis on workforce development can cause us to lose focus on the development of a scientifically-literate citizenry.
- The outline appears to be focused heavily on the K-12 level. The biomedical research workforce needs reach above and beyond the K-12 level, and it is important to include the biomedical workforce in this plan.
- Some of the priorities might be combined, such as the items related to interdisciplinary/ transdisciplinary research.
- Teacher quality seems to be missing from this list of priorities. There are many things related to teacher quality that we might consider in the development of this plan, including the role of professional development and teacher compensation.
- Echoing an earlier statement, "What do we want to accomplish? What are our long-term goals?"
- We should consider, "What is the role of the federal government in these priority areas?" This is not a global STEM education plan, but a plan for the federal government to move an agenda forward.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Lifelong learning could be considered a priority. We might think about ways to train and retrain workers effectively, as it is unlikely that people will stay in a specific career field for many years.
- The "what," "how," and "why" buckets are helpful in considering these priorities. Answering these questions will help us to develop measures and outcomes.
- Priority 10 might be revised to say, "Enhance the engagement of youth through informal activities." There are boundaries between informal and formal learning environments. We can start early with informal education opportunities to incentivize students to continue to participate in STEM.
- As NOAA explored these draft priorities, they felt that they struggled to see how they could contribute to most of the priorities. It would be good to continue to consider how best to leverage agency assets.
- How will this plan build on the prior plan? How do we connect the pieces of the last plan with the new priorities?
- Building on an earlier comment, there are priorities that could be collapsed or consolidated.
- Basic science is missing in these priorities. There are lots of priorities in the draft outline focused on technology and mathematics. Students also need basic knowledge of science.
- Medicine is missing in the current plan.
- The NSTC has reconstituted its work. We might be able to align our work around the reconstituted NSTC. We could pick a few of the S&T areas and how we might address them through this strategic plan.
- We learned a big lesson through the implementation of the last plan – it is important to leverage agency assets. We only started to do this under the current plan. Going forward, we need to keep mission science agency investments in-mind.

Jeff invited everyone to be a part of the writing process going forward. He noted priorities as-written are reflective of the constituents who have had input into the plan so far.

Questions were asked about how work on the strategic plan will move forward [responses from Jeff/Chloe/FC-STEM leadership are presented as sub-bullets]:

- Will CoSTEM convene to assess the strategic plan and provide input into the strategic plan?
    - CoSTEM is charging this group with developing the strategic plan. FC-STEM members should be briefing their agency heads, and CoSTEM will sign-off on this work.
- Is it important that feedback on the strategic plan be brought back from leadership in a systematic way?
    - Not at this time – send any information to Jeff about priorities.
- Will each agency have a representative on CoSTEM?
    - Maybe not. This is still up for discussion. There is an expectation that FC-STEM members are briefing their leadership. FC-STEM may want to decide, as a group, when to brief agency leadership.
- Will the strategic plan go through public comment?
    - Probably not. The plan did not go through public comment last time – the design of the strategic plan was kept internal. Some NSTC committees have explicit requirements to undergo public comment, but CoSTEM does not.
- What is the timeline for the development/release of the next plan?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- We are hoping to release the plan this fall. Because of this, it will have an influence on the FY2021 budget requests. An R&D priorities memo will be released ahead of the finalized strategic plan that will incorporate some of these priorities, and will influence budget requests before FY2021.

Other FC-STEM Updates

After discussing the priorities in the next strategic plan, updates were provided on other ongoing FC-STEM activities.

Joan provided a report-out on the evaluation working group. Evaluation leaders from the FC-STEM agencies met on February 2. The work of this group will continue, though the group will not be formalized into an IWG within FC-STEM with an official charter. A specific call for members will be released.

Susan then provided an overview of the transition of the broadening participation IWG to the "Interagency Working Group on Inclusion in STEM," or IWGIS. The AICA specifically mandated the formation of an interagency working group on inclusion in STEM. Because the charge of the IWGIS overlapped with the work of the BP IWG, a merging of charters was proposed between the BP IWG and planned IWGIS. Ultimately, the decision was made to merge the two groups, and the broadening participation IWG formally became the IWGIS in April of 2018. The IWGIS will continue to focus on broadening participation issues as they relate to STEM education, but will also encompass the work mandated in the AICA, which relates to understanding inclusion in the federal STEM education workforce. The charter for this group will last for 10 years, in accordance with the AICA mandate, so will remain in effect until April 2028. The NSTC made the decision to change the charter and name of the group to eliminate the risk of duplication of efforts and risk stretching personnel thin.

A question was asked about the length of FC-STEM's strategic plan: Since the charter for the IWGIS is 10 years, will the strategic plan also be extended to last for 10 years?

- Response from Chloe: No. The NSTC would like to stay away from charters that last 10 years – the charter for the IWGIS was only signed for 10 years because of statute. The FC-STEM strategic plan will last for 5 years.

Jeff would like to see the current broadening participation group stay in-tact, but then add talent to the group to meet the new mandate. A call for members of this group will be sent out after the meeting.

Nafeesa Owens then provided an overview of the progress toward the development of the STEM Education Advisory Panel. This panel was required to be developed in alignment with the AICA. The panel will advise CoSTEM and assess CoSTEM's progress. Outreach was done to identify potential members, and a notice about the panel's formation was posted in the Federal Register. NSF received over 800 inquiries about the panel, which resulted in 450 nominations. The NSF Director, in consultation with NASA, NOAA, and ED, is responsible for appointing members to the panel. The Director is currently reviewing member recommendations. Recommendations will also be sent to NASA, NOAA, and ED for concurrence. Once members are approved, the names will be sent to the FC-STEM community. It is hoped that the panel will meet in late June.

Jeff then provided an update on the state STEM leaders convening, which will take place on June 26. Three STEM leaders per state were identified by their governors to attend the meeting to provide feedback on the development of the strategic plan. Facilitators will be needed for the meeting – Jeff will send a request for facilitators. Facilitators will attend a pre-meeting training session and will also attend a post-meeting debrief. Contractors from EDC, supported by the NSF, will train the facilitators. The meeting will take place on June 26. Facilitators will need to be able to commit to the day of the event on June 26, and a one-hour training before the meeting and a one-hour debrief after the event. Jeff hopes agency directors will be in the room during the convening. This convening will be an intimate workshop, not a conference. There are outside people who have asked to attend this meeting but only the nominees from the state agencies will be able to participate.

Mike Kincaid, Jeff Weld, and Joan Ferrini-Mundy then provided an update on the status of the IWGs. The IWGs will continue as-is for now, as these groups serve as important networks for information dissemination. The groups should close-up current projects, and the groups can continue to expect to send out calls for information. The current co-chairs were thanked for their past and continued service.

Meeting Wrap-Up and Adjournment

Joan and Mike thanked everyone for their continued service to FC-STEM. As this was likely Joan's final FC-STEM meeting, Chloe then thanked Joan for her service. Joan started as FC-STEM co-chair in 2014, when she was Assistant Director in the Education and Human Resources Directorate at the NSF. She continued her role as FC-STEM co-chair when she became NSF's Chief Operating Officer in 2017. Chloe thanked Joan for her efforts leading FC-STEM.

Jeff thanked everyone for their attendance and the meeting was adjourned.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

June 12, 2018

Elisabeth D. DeVos
United States Secretary of Education
United States Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20202

Dear U.S. Secretary of Education DeVos:

Detroit! America!

The City of Detroit, founded on July 24, 1701 by Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac, and named after the French term "the straits" along the Great Lakes, has an amazingly rich heritage and history. Currently, as contributions are made toward the most impactful renaissance since Sieur de Cadillac, we, as well as the nation, are in premier position to significantly address the educational prowess and progress of each citizen through relationship with the prestigious United States Department of Education. Presently, the greatest accomplishment that will benefit our children, youth, and adult populous is closing the achievement gap within primary/secondary, and higher education.

In their book, "The Black-White Achievement Gap – Why Closing It Is the Greatest Civil Rights Issue of Our Time" Rod Paige, former U.S. Secretary of Education, and Elaine Witty, discuss why eliminating the achievement gap among students of color versus the larger society must serve as the ultimate pivotal goal among academic, business, civic, and community leaders adjoined to our school systems. Objectives to reach this lofty measure must center on exceptional academic preparation, and obliterate barriers such as family and community dysfunction. Building the utmost academic achievement will accentuate the gains thus far to establish the most vibrant, and successful city, successful nation! Furthermore, according to U.S. Supreme Court Justice, Sonia Sotomayor, equality in education will foster equality among our larger society. Jointly, the equality of education in Detroit, and equality of education within our nation are inextricably important!

In moving forward, please find enclosed my curriculum vitae highlighting dynamic career experiences and an exceptional track record with established educational credentials to seek a position of national executive leadership within the U.S. Department of Education that will address the academic achievement gaps in Detroit, and overall, urban, suburban, and rural educational districts across the United States of America.

Currently, I request a meeting with you to further discuss a ground-breaking national position. Furthermore, I may be reached at (b)(6) and truly look forward to your response.

Sincerely,

Tyrone E. Winfrey, Sr.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

TYRONE E. WINFREY, SR.

(b)(6)

Visionary, goal oriented, and focused leader with over twenty (20) years of combined experience in education including pre-kindergarten through twelfth grade, and higher education. First Chief of Staff for the Education Achievement Authority of Michigan (EAA), a statewide "system of schools" formulated to address underperforming "priority" state schools. As a founding member of the EAA organizational structure, participated in faith-based, education, business, community, and student stakeholder engagement which led to strategic planning research for vision launch and execution of new school district. Furthermore, during previous tenure at the University of Michigan, as an Associate Director in the Office of Undergraduate Admissions, and Director of the Detroit Admissions Office, primary task was to increase underrepresented student enrollment and diversity at the undergraduate level fostering a more enriched, vibrant Ann Arbor climate and culture. Student and family recruitment/retention methodologies focused upon multiculturalism concepts and inclusionary objectives. Nationally, through positions at both the University of Michigan and Michigan State University, approximately eighty-eight thousand (88,000) students were impacted within the college readiness process including college planning outreach measures, college fairs, admissions presentations, applicant workshops, application evaluation/decision-making, follow-up communication, keynote speeches, student/family counseling, and even placement of over four thousand (4,000) Detroit Area students in college. In all career positions, the ultimate success was accomplished by building and strengthening key relationships with a myriad of primary stakeholders. Furthermore, eight (8) principal skill-sets include relationship building among stakeholders; organizational communication; public speaking to a range of diverse size audiences; counseling among students, families, and employees; recruitment and retention of student populations; professional event planning for programming needs; team-building among staff members; and organizational problem solving or "fix it" theme for constituent and organizational issues. Overall, philosophy is to instill vision and purpose within urban children, youth, parents, and families that will lead to an access and attainment of a greater quality and quantity of life through educational planning/execution. Therefore, seek executive level position within the United States Department of Education that fosters transformational ideals in connecting pre-kindergarten, elementary, middle, and high school students to higher education. Strategies will focus upon curricula rigor, standardized testing, writing skills, vocational skills establishment, leadership participation/service, faith-based and community engagement, and cognitive decision-making that influences psycho-sociological behavioral outcomes of all students. Conclusively, will value the opportunity to elevate national models to their maximum levels through systematic, systemic, seamless, and strategic innovation including best practices that increase expectant protective factors of academic achievement and character development, while simultaneously decrease environmental risk factors of poor decision-making and limited career exposure among students within our urban, suburban, and rural educational systems.

Subject: School Ambassador Fellowship Anniversary

Dear Wonderful ED Colleagues,

On Thursday, July 26, alumni from the Teacher and Principal Ambassador Fellowship and the current cohort of the School Ambassador Fellowship will convene at ED to celebrate 10 amazing years of this program. You are invited to participate in the day through discussions with the Alumni and current Fellows. The first half of the hour will kick-off with alumni sharing their big projects at ED and in return, we would love for you to be part of that discussion and to share how you have worked with Fellows and Alumni in the last ten years. The second half of the hour will be dedicated to learning about what these innovative and diverse educators have accomplished since their Fellowship. The attendees represent at least ten different states and roles in schools, districts, and non-profit organizations.

You do not need to commit to the whole hour, but I know Fellows and Alumni would be excited to see many ED staff members during that time to recognize their impact and to reconnect. If you have not worked with the Fellowship in the past, please come down to learn more about the different work of Fellows across the years and to learn how they may assist you in the future.

Thank you and as always, if I can facilitate the Fellows' expertise and involvement into your work, please let me know. We will be welcoming a new cohort very soon, so stay tuned for further information!

Best,
Celeste

Subject: Update on CRDC data on state and district report cards
Attachments: Update on Civil Rights Data Collection files for state and local report cards

All – I wanted to bring together OESE, IES, OCR, OPEPD, and OGC to discuss the timing for providing state CRDC files to states for them to include on the state and district report cards. For the meeting we want to discuss two challenges:

1. The long-term problem of the commitment we have made to give states the CRDC data ESEA requires them to include in their report cards.
2. The short-term problem for getting the CRDC files to states this summer for 2017-2018 report cards.

Below is an email that was sent out to states recently about the data file release for this summer.

Please forward this invitation to anyone else who should be included in this meeting. Thanks.

Subject: Update on Civil Rights Data Collection files for state and local report cards

Dear Colleagues,

As you may be aware, on April 24, 2018, the U.S. Department of Education's (the Department) Office for Civil Rights (OCR) released the results of the 2015-16 school year Civil Rights Data Collection (CRDC). The CRDC contains valuable information collected from every district in the country on leading civil rights indicators related to access and barriers to educational opportunity at the early childhood through grade 12 levels. We are excited not only about the recent release of the data but also that certain CRDC data will be included on State and local report cards, pursuant to the Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). The addition of the CRDC data will bring a more well-rounded picture of school quality that is important to parents and other stakeholders.To that end, I am writing to provide you with an update on the process for meeting the requirement to provide data collected through the CRDC on State and local report cards.

As you know, the ESEA requires States and districts to include certain data from the CRDC on their report cards starting with report cards following the 2017-18 school year. In the 2017 Report Card Guidance (see section H), we indicated that we would provide the CRDC data to each State, in order to ensure consistency with the manner in which the data are released by the Department. Among other things, this is necessary to ensure that the data on report cards in consistent with what is publicly available from the Department and to safeguard students' privacy. Now that the 2015-16 CRDC data have been released, we wanted to provide an update on the Department's current work to develop State-specific data files to assist you in creating your 2017--18 report cards.

Presently and through the early part of this summer, the Department will work with a small number of districts to correct errors in those districts' previously submitted 2015-16 CRDC data. Following completion of that data correction process, the Department anticipates that it will make State-specific data files available to States in the late summer or early fall. We anticipate creating a file for each State that will be posted on the Department's website. Once information is available, another communication will be sent to all States to let them know that the data are available.

We know that you are all working hard to prepare your 2017-18 report cards and that many of you are eager to receive your State-specific CRDC data so you can incorporate it into your report cards in meaningful ways. We are excited about the opportunities to further highlight this data and are working to make sure the data are accurate and complete before sharing the data with you. In the meantime, we encourage you to continue moving forward with the process and not delay any report card activities while you wait for the CRDC data to be available. If you have questions, please contact your OSS program office at OSS.[State]@ed.gov (e.g., OSS.NewYork@ed.gov).

BRIEFING FOR SECRETARY BETSY DEVOS
MEETING WITH JOANN DIGENNARO, PRESIDENT, CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE IN EDUCATION

Thursday, July 12, 2018
1:15 p.m. – 1:45 p.m. EDT
Washington, DC

Staff Contact: Elizabeth Norris, 202403-4685

OVERVIEW:
You will meet with Joann DiGennaro, President of the Center for Excellence in Education; Dr. Lorna Gladstone, Gladstone Foundation and Ms. Tracy Key, Key & Associates.

PURPOSE:
To discuss the Department's support of our brightest and talented high school students; STEM teacher certification requirements; mandates for high school and college students to take a U.S. history course; and an overview of diversity mandates, Title IX and speech codes on US campuses

BACKGROUND:

- You met Joann DiGennaro earlier this year at the Center for Excellence in Education's Congressional Luncheon on April 18. This meeting is a result of your initial meeting with her.

ED's Support for Gifted Students

- The Jacob K. Javits Gifted and Talented Students Education Program (Javits) is authorized under Section 4644 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, as amended by the Every Student Succeeds Act (20 U.S.C. 7294).
- Supports evidence-based research, demonstration projects, innovative strategies and similar activities designed to build and enhance the ability of elementary and secondary schools nationwide to identify gifted and talented students and meet their special educational needs.
- Fiscal year (FY) 2018 funding for the Javits program is $12,000,000. The Javits program currently funds 35 active grants. The program also funds the National Center for Research on Gifted Education that is administered by the Institute of Education Sciences (IES) under a cooperative agreement.
- The grants can be used for evidence-based research, operating model projects and exemplary programs, disseminating information regarding how gift programs work and training personnel.

STEM & The Department

- This past fall, President Trump released a memorandum directing ED to devote at least $200 million in grant funds per year to promote high-quality STEM education, including computer science. ED takes this directive very seriously, and is using its existing discretionary grant programs and the Secretary's STEM Priority to actionize the President's directive.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

    - For example, ED's Education Innovation and Research (EIR) grant notices have a STEM absolute priority and will devout at least $50 million to STEM in FY 2018.
- On July 26, 2017, President Trump announced he would donate his salary for the second quarter of the year ($100,000) to ED as a donation for a STEM-focused camp for students. ED plans to use the funds to co-host a STEM camp this summer, called "She Can" and will be held July 23-August 17.
- STEM teacher certification requirements:
    - Teacher certification requirements are enforced by the States, the Department does not provide guidance on STEM teacher certification requirements.
    - Many States have alternative certification programs for STEM teachers, especially those who work in a STEM field and want to transition to teaching.
    - One of the Department's programs related to STEM + teachers is :
        - The Teacher Quality Partnership Grant Program (TQP) aims to enhance the quality of prospective teachers through professional development, holding teacher preparation programs at institutions of higher education (IHEs) accountable for preparing talented teachers and recruiting effective individuals. This program includes a STEM competitive preference priority. In 2017 ED awarded over $27 million in this program.

Mandates for U.S. History Courses

- Nothing in the Federal law requires that schools teach U.S. History. Many States, however, do have laws that require U.S. History is taught.
- The National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) does assess student's proficiency on U.S. History.
    - In 2014, scores stayed about the same and only 18% of students performed at or above the proficiency level.

Overview of diversity mandates, Title IX and Speech Codes on US Campuses

Diversity Mandates:

- Institutions should follow case law—and rely less on ED guidance—and should not adopt race classifications for admissions without an exhaustive process ahead of time that takes into account the case law.
- The Department believes in the value of diversity, but that is distinct from racial quotas or schools wanting to use racial classifications to compensate for historical injustices.

Title IX

- ED believes in vigorously enforcing prohibitions on sexual harassment; there is universal agreement that sexual harassment is unacceptable.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Vigorous enforcement must go hand in hand with due process for the accused, and the need to ensure that accused students are not subjected to disciplinary action without being fairly and equitably included in a grievance process.

Speech Codes

- There is no First Amendment exception for "hate speech," and ED cannot require an institution to engage in conduct that violates the First Amendment.
- Speech codes should not be used as a means to suppress politically unpopular ideas; schools, especially colleges, are places where debate ought to thrive.

BRIEFING FOR SECRETARY BETSY DEVOS
MEETING WITH GUAM DOE

Day, Month XX, 2015
XX:XX –XX:XX x.x. XXX
Washington, DC

Staff Contact: Elizabeth Norris, 202403-4685

OVERVIEW:
You will meet with representatives from the Guam Department of Education.

PURPOSE:
To discuss the special conditions put on Guam's Federal grants.

BACKGROUND:

Guam Department of Education (GDOE) in the news

- In early July an independent auditing report found significant deficiencies in the GDOE's handling of federal funds, such as untimely reconciliation of over $140,000 in child nutrition program money, $32,000 in questioned procurement costs, and lack of documentation for special education grants for infants and children.
    - GDOE disagrees with these findings.

High-risk Status with Federal Funds

- In September 2003, ED designated the Guam Department of Education (GDOE) a "high-risk" grantee under the authority of former 34 CFR § 80.12. This was based GDOE's lack of fiscal and programmatic accountability in the administration of Federal education programs. GDOE failed to provide the Department with timely and complete single audits, as required by the Single Audit Act, and the auditors' declared GDOE's records for Federal fiscal years (FFYs) 1998-2000 as unauditable.
- Department-wide special conditions were imposed on GDOE's federal education grant awards and GDOE had to develop a Comprehensive Corrective Action Plan (CCAP) to address the underlying problems associated with its high-risk designation. The CCAP was to address persistent problems related to GDOE's internal controls, accounting, monitoring, instituting procurement and property management processes that comply with Federal requirements; and implementing appropriate cash management procedures.
- GDOE developed a CCAP, but failed to make significant progress in implementing the CCAP measures. In particular, GDOE had not made substantial progress in implementing its Financial Management Improvement Plan (FMIP), a core feature of the CCAP that involves instituting a Financial Management Improvement System (FMIS) to enable GDOE to significantly improve its financial management of Department grant awards.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- In November 2009, GDOE lacked progress under the CCAP, which resulted in the Department issuing amended special conditions to GDOE dated November 25, 2009, notifying GDOE of the requirement to procure the services of a third-party fiduciary agent (TPFA), acceptable to the Department, to perform the financial management duties for all Department grant awards received.
- The requirement for a third-party fiduciary agent has continued as a major component of the annual special conditions placed on GDOE's grants from the Department.
- The approved third-party fiduciary, Alvarez and Marsal (A&M), has been in place for the past 8 years. During this timeframe, GDOE has seen an improvement in its single audit reports, in addition to improving the skill set of its staff in the areas of property management, time and effort reporting, procurement and internal controls.
- Risk Management Services (RMS) has consistently communicated to GDOE leadership that it needs to demonstrate accountability, transparency, and sustainability as it moves to eliminate the need for Alvarez and Marsal (A&M), the third-party fiduciary agent (TPFA), which will ultimately lead to USDOE removing its high-risk designation.
    - GDOE will likely submit its proposed organization restructuring to the Federal Department within the next 12 months.
- RMS has continued to monitor GDOE progress via onsite monitoring (last visit in November 2015), videoconference calls in July 2017, and conducting bi-weekly conference calls with GDOE and A&M leadership.
- The agreed upon goal is the migration of GDOE from dependence on A&M for oversight of its Federal grant funds to independence as an organization with effective fiscal management and internal controls over both Federal and local funds. During the November 2015 onsite visit, RMS has presented a 5-step Transition graphic to the Guam Legislature, Guam Education Policy Board and GODE leadership as a reference to gauge progress toward transitioning functions from the TPFA back to GDOE.
- Similar to the guidance provided in the letter to the VI Governor from Secretary DeVos on August 23, 2017 regarding the removal of a TPFA, "a detailed review by Department staff would have to be completed to determine whether the financial management issues that have required the third-party fiduciary have been clearly rectified."
- On May 28, 2018 the Guam Department of Education (GDOE) submitted a formal request for reconsideration of their high-risk status.
- On June 27, 2018 ED's Risk management Service team sent Superintendent Jon Fernandez a letter about conditions for FY 2018 grants to Guam DOE:
    - The conditions listed in the letter apply to all grants awarded to the Guam DOE.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- The Guam Department of Education is designated as a high-risk grantee mainly due to inadequate management of grant funds.
- ED will not authorize obligation, liquidation or expenditure of Federal ED funds unless a third-party fiduciary agent is in place.
- ED acknowledges the progress that GDOE has made with regard to accountability for Federally-funded assets. ED also acknowledges that GDOE is working with a third-party fiduciary agent on an organizational structure and process for grant management.

Guam Department of Education

- The Guam Department of Education is a single unified school district. They have 26 elementary schools, eight middle schools, six high schools, and one alternative school. There are over 30,000 students who attend those schools.
- Guam Department of Education struggles with funding and will likely face a $50 million budget shortfall next school year.
  - Last Spring, Superintendent Fernandez told education workers that furloughs are not off the table.
  - Guam is also considering switching to a 32-hour work week to save money.
  - They are also considering delaying the school year to start October 1st to save money.

FY 17 Consolidated Grant Program

- Here are some highlights from Guam's consolidated grant program plan for FY 2017:
  - Increased and improved their Career and Technical Education offerings through a partnership with the Guam Community College (e.g., Business Education, Family and Consumer Finances, Agriculture and Construction)
  - Second Chance credit recovery program for formerly incarcerated youth, dropouts, and/or young mothers that includes extended classroom time and courses offered on weekends. It offers opportunities to students who might otherwise, the statistic say, drop out or give up.
  - Gifted and Talented activities and supports toward higher achieving students and professional development training to their teachers.
  - Student Parent and Community Engagement supports and outreach, specifically geared toward families from the Freely Associated States of Micronesia, to bridge any communication divides between school and home and better support the whole-student.
  - Enhancing Education through Technology program which provides technology to support personalized learning and student research. It also provided training to teachers and other school professionals on the use of the technology and how to incorporate the data into their classroom instruction.

Monitoring Report

- This past Spring, ED monitored Guam and here are the recommendations that Guam received:
    - Increased outreach efforts to stakeholders. Multiple teachers and school leaders noted GDOE's increased stakeholder engagement. Teachers and school leaders shared that GDOE has hosted multiple opportunities (seminars, workshops, etc.) to engage with school staff to discern students' needs and to propose ideas to support students' academic achievement.
    - Improved grant administration, including a documented Consolidated Grant Application process. GDOE has a documented application process that complies with Title V, Part A (Section 5133(a)). The application process described by the Federal Programs Director was also affirmed through independent accounts provided by the Project Leads, School administrators, and multiple teachers. The Consolidated Grant application is linked to the Governor's State Strategic Plan, the Superintendent's priorities, and an annual review of school level data. Ultimately the Consolidated Grant application is approved by the Guam Board of Education.
    - Improved expenditure of grant funds. Despite challenges that may occur throughout the grant cycle, which can adversely impact grant implementation and cause delays in the timely expenditure of grant funds, GDOE has improved its ability to draw down funds from G5 more timely (e.g., implementing grant activities, securing contracts, and hiring vendors in a timely fashion). GDOE has emphasized to staff the importance of following proper procurement procedures so that goods are received in a timely manner and vendors are paid in a timely manner.
    - Effective delivery of professional development. GDOE has invested in the professional development of its teachers and administrators, ensuring that they are prepared to provide high-quality education to their students. During the monitoring visit, we saw evidence that the professional development provided was effective. Namely, the majority of the classrooms we observed displayed the learning standard and proficiency scales, while others listed the "Know, Understand, Do" expectations. Given that these elements were emphasized during professional development activities, this consistent display demonstrates that the professional development provided to teachers and the Superintendent's expectations have permeated through to the classroom and are being implemented with uniformity.

All,

We've tentatively planned 4 additional 90-minute training sessions in an effort to best align with your schedules:

Thursday, July 19 in LBJ, 8:30-10am
Tuesday, July 31 in LBJ, 8:30-10am
Wednesday, August 1 in LBJ, 8:30-10am
Wednesday, August 8 in UCP, 1-2:30pm

As part of our plan to build a more robust Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) capability over the next 10 months, the goal of these training sessions is to provide you with an executive-level understanding of how we intend to implement and leverage ERM to maximize the Department's ability to succeed in achieving our goals and objectives. You also will receive 1.5 hours of credit toward the annual 24-hour leadership training requirement!

I'll send calendar invites to you, and please feel free to accept whichever invite works best. If none work, please let me know as soon as possible so I can try to find a better time that might accommodate you.

Subject: ERM Training

Colleagues,

As you are or may be aware, we are beginning the next phase of our implementation of a more robust Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) capability. The Office of the Chief Financial Officer (OCFO) has, in the recent past, delivered 90-minute executive-level training sessions on the senior leader responsibilities for ERM. OCFO will schedule a few more sessions this month (July) in an attempt to accommodate the schedules of those who have not yet completed the training. Please make every effort to attend one of the sessions.

OCFO will also begin to offer very soon more in-depth training for your staff, and in August the Senior Management Council will begin discussions about our corporate appetite for risk to help guide risk management decisions within each principal office.

It is essential that we have your active participation in this effort to ensure a shared understanding of how we plan to manage risk across the Department in a strategic, coordinate way to deliver better results for students, communities, and taxpayers.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

A special thanks to those individuals listed below who have already completed the training. For those who have not yet completed the training, I, on behalf of the Office of the Deputy Secretary and OCFO, renew the request to you to complete the training.

If any of the information listed below is incorrect, please inform Phil Juengst, 202.245.8030, Phillip.Juengst@ed.gov of OCFO. Likewise, should you have any questions, please contact me at 202.260.3169, or Phil at the number above.

Thank you.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

June 29, 2018

Jason Botel
Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary, Delegated the Authority To Perform the Functions and Duties of the Position of Assistant Secretary, Office of Elementary and Secondary Education
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Washington, DC 20202

Dear Principal Deputy Assistant Secretary Botel:

On behalf of our Council Chair, HUD Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development Neal Rackleff, I am pleased to invite you to the next meeting of the United States Interagency Council on Homelessness. The meeting is scheduled for Thursday, July 19, 2018 from 2:00 – 3:30 p.m. at the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, 451 7th Street SW, Room 10233 (10th Floor), Washington, D.C. 20410.

The Council meeting will begin with a progress report on implementation of the Federal Strategic Plan to Prevent and End Homelessness over the first two quarters of Fiscal Year 2018, and an update on the upcoming release and roll-out of the revised Federal Strategic Plan.

In keeping with the increased focus in the revised Federal Strategic Plan on tailoring strategies for rural areas, the Council will hear from several local leaders regarding their progress, challenges, and recommendations for federal actions needed to support rural areas to end homelessness. Following these presentations, the Interagency Working Group on Ending Homelessness in Rural Areas will present a set of proposed strategies and activities to support progress toward ending homelessness in rural areas, and Council members will be asked to provide input, adopt the proposed strategies, and to charge the Interagency Working Group with their implementation.

Thank you for your continued efforts to advance the goals of preventing and ending homelessness in America. Your agency's contributions and your participation in the Council remain essential to our success. If you are planning to attend the meeting, please RSVP by Friday, July 13, 2018 to Katie Jennings via email at katelyn.jennings@usich.gov.

Sincerely,

Matthew Doherty

Subject: CCSSO Federal Liaison Summer Meeting

Dear Colleagues,

Each year, the Council of Chief State School Officers (CCSSO) hosts SEAs' designated Federal Liaisons in Washington, D.C., for meetings with key Administration and Congressional leaders. This year, rather than having us travel to its offices, CCSSO has offered to travel to ED. It anticipates 30-40 FLs in attendance from all across the nation.

OCO (Cody Reynolds and I) will be hosting the FLs in the LBJ Sub-Basement Meeting Room. We respectfully request the participation of your senior officer for brief general remarks and Q&A. Based on their availability in Outlook, we propose the following schedule.

9:00-9:20 AM	Michael Wooten (OCTAE)
9:20-9:40 AM	Jose Viana (OELA)
9:40-10:00 AM	Frank Brogan (OESE broadly)
10:00-10:40 AM	Jason Botel (ESSA specifically)
10:40-11 AM	Johnny Collett (OSERS)
11-11:30 AM	General Zais (school safety specifically)

If your senior officer is not interested, we would welcome an appropriate representative from your office.

Thank you for your consideration. I will send a meeting invite once I hear back from you. I am happy to answer any questions.

Best,
Adam

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

ii) Themes (or Tactics)
   (1) Community Partnerships (#1,2,7,10)
   (2) Convergence (#3,5,7,8,9)
   (3) Information Technology (#4,5,6,7)
   (4) Transparency and Accountability (#11,12,13,14)

iii) Strategic Mechanisms - 14 (without numbers, ordering will differ for narrative sake within each focus area)
   (1) #1 - Expand partnerships of educational entities and employers:
      (a) Work-based learning including pre-apprenticeships, apprenticeships, internships, job shadows, job boards, cooperative education, and mentorships in STEM K-20;
   (2) #2 - Foster STEM networks (ecosystems) that unite all stakeholders across communities and regions (employers, preK-12, higher ed., nonprofits, nonformal ed., local governments, etc.) to drive talent toward STEM careers, which will in turn support economic development, especially in the realm of Skilled Technical Workforce.
   (3) #3 - Advance Innovation and Entrepreneurship Education: Business start-up incubators, prototyping and inventing (reduce barriers to invention such as patent fees), entrepreneurship development, Making, problem-finding.
   (4) #4 - Expand research and programming into Digital Platforms for teaching/learning given the enormous potential to connect learners across the globe, to bring diverse expertise into classrooms, and to equalize educational opportunity in high-need schools and communities (both urban and rural).
   (5) #5 - Weave computational thinking principles* universally across grade levels and into all school subjects as well as into nonformal/informal learning events (using, for example, data science as a CS context across disciplines). [*Organize data for effective communication; Generate algorithms for procedures that reliably analyze processes; Create computational models using data and algorithms to simulate complex systems; Compare computational models to derive new insights.]
   (6) #6 - Promote digital literacy/fluency and cyber-safety practices including information gathering and communication, analysis of information, judicious communication, and critical analysis.
   (7) #7 - Increase diversity and inclusion of all Americans in STEM programs, including women, minorities, persons with disabilities, and people in rural areas.
      (a) Focus on retention at critical transitions;
      (b) Address the Belief Gap;
   (8) #8 - Support the contextual integration of mathematical sciences, including statistical reasoning and conceptual understanding, across the grades and subjects in ways that relate to daily real world applications, spanning the disciplines, solving contemporary open questions.
      (a) Data science and data literacy as universal applications
      (b) Modeling – formulating questions, data production, analysis, empiricism
      (c) Career information embedded into Mathematics learning (indeed, all subjects)

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

(9) #9 - Usher a new era of transdisciplinary, or convergent, study across STEM and including social science and humanities when appropriate, by which learners in teams take on grand challenges and broad investigative questions reflective of modern societal challenges. Focus on competency, demonstration and application as assessment, vs. rote recall.

(10) #10 - Blend successful practices across traditional college-preparatory and career/technical education, and across formal (school based) and informal (out-of-school) STEM education in terms of impact assessment, practitioner credentialing, professional development, and public-private partnerships. Align education of all forms to what employers will need in future employees.

(11) #11 - Federal agencies that fund STEM and CS education programs should encourage leveraging/scaling/implementing of models (professional development, curriculum, etc.) that have been developed through Federal grants when appropriate.

(12) #12 -Identify common metrics across agencies to be used in assessing progress toward achieving objectives and then take appropriate steps to enhance effectiveness of the portfolio.

(13) #13 -Improve public awareness of information on programs' performance assessments by documenting program-level information on performance assessments in the federal STEM education inventory.

(14) #14 - Report required information on the participation rates of women, underrepresented minorities, and persons from rural areas in federal STEM education programs.

FC-STEM Meeting Minutes
May 8, 2018
1:00 - 3:00PM
Eisenhower Executive Office Building

Welcome, Notes from NSTC Director, & Introductions

Jeff Weld opened the meeting and thanked everyone for their attendance. Jeff introduced Joan Ferrini-Mundy and Mike Kincaid, who provided introductory remarks. Joan noted that FC-STEM will be the working group that provides the fodder for CoSTEM, as FC-STEM members are the individuals most closely tied to the education work occurring at their respective agencies. Joan emphasized that it is important for FC-STEM's cross-agency work to continue. Joan also announced that this will likely be her final FC-STEM meeting, as she has accepted a position as President of the University of Maine and the President of the University of Maine at Machias. Mike Kincaid thanked Joan for her service. Mike underscored the importance of FC-STEM's work, noting that our collective efforts will inspire the next generation of students in STEM across the country.

Chloe Kontos then provided remarks as the Executive Director of the NSTC. Chloe noted that this is the first meeting of a reconstituted FC-STEM. The NSTC decided to appoint one person per agency to FC-STEM. Chloe thanked everyone for their past service and future contributions, and asked everyone to be ready to serve, as there is much work to be done. Chloe also noted that changes are coming as we develop the new strategic plan and consider the development of new IWGs.

Jeff remarked that we have a great opportunity to develop a more outward-facing strategic plan, which can establish a nationwide agenda in STEM education. Jeff noted that Roger Bybee has just published a book called "STEM Education Now More than Ever." The book is nicely timed with the release of the new strategic plan.

Following opening remarks, Jeff invited everyone in attendance to introduce themselves. A full list of attendees can be found in Appendix A.

CoSTEM Progress Report Update

Jeff introduced Sharon Williams and Alexis McKittrick from IDA's Science and Technology Policy Institute (STPI), who provided an update on the 2018 CoSTEM Progress Report. A handout provided by Sharon and Alexis can be found in Appendix B.

Alexis provided an overview of the process used to develop the progress report. In February, a data call went out to agencies to provide program outcome narratives, which would highlight agency achievements in STEM education. STPI received many valuable narratives through this data call. The final narratives to be included in the report are being edited in collaboration with agencies.

While STPI collected data from agencies, OMB also completed its 2018 STEM Education Inventory. The inventory collected data on FY17 actual and FY18 enacted funding levels for Federal STEM education programs. OMB's inventory revealed 166 federal STEM education programs operating in FY18, with a total budget of $2.9B across the federal government.

STPI also conducted interviews with agencies to better understand the program highlights that were submitted through the data call. Additionally, STPI used the interview as an opportunity to understand STEM education metrics, evaluations, interagency collaborations, and the dissemination of program information. Sharon thanked the agencies for a total of 13 hours of interview data. Five major takeaways emerged from these interviews, which provided context for the progress report:

- The influence of agency leadership and outside bodies (e.g. Congress, White House) on STEM education programs, their implementation, and their evaluation.
- Resource limitations impact agencies' capabilities to develop metrics and evaluate programs; the formation of the evaluation group within FC-STEM is particularly valuable for agencies that have limited support for or expertise in evaluation.
- Evaluation metrics should be developed with program objectives and agency priorities in-mind.
- Common metrics can make programs look identical, even when the programs may not actually overlap. This can be problematic when requesting funding.
- CoSTEM/FC-STEM agencies enjoy working together and the coordination has helped agencies achieve specific goals.

After Sharon and Alexis finished their remarks, Jeff asked the FC-STEM members for any questions or comments about the draft report and interview process.

A question was asked from the Department of Education about how OMB defines its STEM education programs – do STEM education programs have a specific focus on STEM education or are they programs where STEM education is an allowable activity?

- STPI responded that they used the definition from the original strategic plan to identify STEM education programs.
- FC-STEM members noted that going forward, it would be helpful to clarify what is defined as a STEM education program, as metrics and impacts differ between programs which require a STEM education component versus those programs that permit STEM education as an activity.
- OMB noted that the OMB data call is done on behalf of OSTP, so OMB defers to OSTP to figure out what to count as a STEM education program. If FC-STEM wishes to change the definition of a STEM program, FC-STEM should work with OSTP to establish a new definition.
- NIH and NSF also reported internal debate about the inclusion of certain programs in the CoSTEM inventory.
- Jeff stated that it would be useful to find a way to incorporate programs into the report that fund STEM education initiatives indirectly and distinguish them from those that fund STEM education directly.
- Joan favored a very broad definition of a STEM education program to reassure federal colleagues that being a part of CoSTEM's inventory is a good thing. However, a broad definition of STEM education programs makes evaluation even more complicated.

STPI noted that the first draft of the progress report will go to the FC-STEM members for review around May 21, and STPI will request a one-week review period in order to release the report to the public by

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

June 2018. The progress report will include the OMB inventory but will not include the emergent priorities document, which is an internal working document.

Jeff thanked Sharon and Alexis for their efforts to develop this report.

Development of the Next Five-Year Strategic Plan

Jeff Weld provided an overview of the draft strategic plan priorities that were circulated in advance of the meeting (included as Appendix C). Jeff developed the draft priorities through meetings with interested individuals in the STEM community. The list of people who have contributed to these priorities is included but is not intended to be made public. Jeff invited FC-STEM members to provide input on these priorities, and encouraged members to circulate the priorities document to colleagues for feedback.

Questions and comments were put forward about the priorities. [Questions and comments are written below in the order in which they were asked/stated.]

- How important is it that the strategic plan spans the full federal investment? Do these priorities indicate that the investments should shift?
    - This is something to consider going forward – there is no clear answer at this time.
- The priorities in the current strategic plan explain "what" we should focus on, while these emergent new priorities focus on "what" and "how." This could be a useful way to consider priorities going forward.
    - It would also be useful to better understand "why" these priorities are included.
- It will be important for agency STEM education stakeholders to see themselves in the new plan.
- It would be helpful to consider why we are engaging in the development of a new five-year plan? We should consider, "What do we want to accomplish in five years?" Do we wish to collaborate to establish a scientifically-literate citizenry? Do we hope our collaboration will develop a strong STEM workforce? Answering these questions will help us identify appropriate priorities.
    - A heavy emphasis on workforce development can cause us to lose focus on the development of a scientifically-literate citizenry.
- The outline appears to be focused heavily on the K-12 level. The biomedical research workforce needs reach above and beyond the K-12 level, and it is important to include the biomedical workforce in this plan.
- Some of the priorities might be combined, such as the items related to interdisciplinary/ transdisciplinary research.
- Teacher quality seems to be missing from this list of priorities. There are many things related to teacher quality that we might consider in the development of this plan, including the role of professional development and teacher compensation.
- Echoing an earlier statement, "What do we want to accomplish? What are our long-term goals?"
- We should consider, "What is the role of the federal government in these priority areas?" This is not a global STEM education plan, but a plan for the federal government to move an agenda forward.

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- Lifelong learning could be considered a priority. We might think about ways to train and retrain workers effectively, as it is unlikely that people will stay in a specific career field for many years.
- The "what," "how," and "why" buckets are helpful in considering these priorities. Answering these questions will help us to develop measures and outcomes.
- Priority 10 might be revised to say, "Enhance the engagement of youth through informal activities." There are boundaries between informal and formal learning environments. We can start early with informal education opportunities to incentivize students to continue to participate in STEM.
- As NOAA explored these draft priorities, they felt that they struggled to see how they could contribute to most of the priorities. It would be good to continue to consider how best to leverage agency assets.
- How will this plan build on the prior plan? How do we connect the pieces of the last plan with the new priorities?
- Building on an earlier comment, there are priorities that could be collapsed or consolidated.
- Basic science is missing in these priorities. There are lots of priorities in the draft outline focused on technology and mathematics. Students also need basic knowledge of science.
- Medicine is missing in the current plan.
- The NSTC has reconstituted its work. We might be able to align our work around the reconstituted NSTC. We could pick a few of the S&T areas and how we might address them through this strategic plan.
- We learned a big lesson through the implementation of the last plan – it is important to leverage agency assets. We only started to do this under the current plan. Going forward, we need to keep mission science agency investments in-mind.

Jeff invited everyone to be a part of the writing process going forward. He noted priorities as-written are reflective of the constituents who have had input into the plan so far.

Questions were asked about how work on the strategic plan will move forward [responses from Jeff/Chloe/FC-STEM leadership are presented as sub-bullets]:

- Will CoSTEM convene to assess the strategic plan and provide input into the strategic plan?
    - CoSTEM is charging this group with developing the strategic plan. FC-STEM members should be briefing their agency heads, and CoSTEM will sign-off on this work.
- Is it important that feedback on the strategic plan be brought back from leadership in a systematic way?
    - Not at this time – send any information to Jeff about priorities.
- Will each agency have a representative on CoSTEM?
    - Maybe not. This is still up for discussion. There is an expectation that FC-STEM members are briefing their leadership. FC-STEM may want to decide, as a group, when to brief agency leadership.
- Will the strategic plan go through public comment?
    - Probably not. The plan did not go through public comment last time – the design of the strategic plan was kept internal. Some NSTC committees have explicit requirements to undergo public comment, but CoSTEM does not.
- What is the timeline for the development/release of the next plan?

AMERICAN OVERSIGHT

- We are hoping to release the plan this fall. Because of this, it will have an influence on the FY2021 budget requests. An R&D priorities memo will be released ahead of the finalized strategic plan that will incorporate some of these priorities, and will influence budget requests before FY2021.

Other FC-STEM Updates

After discussing the priorities in the next strategic plan, updates were provided on other ongoing FC-STEM activities.

Joan provided a report-out on the evaluation working group. Evaluation leaders from the FC-STEM agencies met on February 2. The work of this group will continue, though the group will not be formalized into an IWG within FC-STEM with an official charter. A specific call for members will be released.

Susan then provided an overview of the transition of the broadening participation IWG to the "Interagency Working Group on Inclusion in STEM," or IWGIS. The AICA specifically mandated the formation of an interagency working group on inclusion in STEM. Because the charge of the IWGIS overlapped with the work of the BP IWG, a merging of charters was proposed between the BP IWG and planned IWGIS. Ultimately, the decision was made to merge the two groups, and the broadening participation IWG formally became the IWGIS in April of 2018. The IWGIS will continue to focus on broadening participation issues as they relate to STEM education, but will also encompass the work mandated in the AICA, which relates to understanding inclusion in the federal STEM education workforce. The charter for this group will last for 10 years, in accordance with the AICA mandate, so will remain in effect until April 2028. The NSTC made the decision to change the charter and name of the group to eliminate the risk of duplication of efforts and risk stretching personnel thin.

A question was asked about the length of FC-STEM's strategic plan: Since the charter for the IWGIS is 10 years, will the strategic plan also be extended to last for 10 years?

- Response from Chloe: No. The NSTC would like to stay away from charters that last 10 years – the charter for the IWGIS was only signed for 10 years because of statute. The FC-STEM strategic plan will last for 5 years.

Jeff would like to see the current broadening participation group stay in-tact, but then add talent to the group to meet the new mandate. A call for members of this group will be sent out after the meeting.

Nafeesa Owens then provided an overview of the progress toward the development of the STEM Education Advisory Panel. This panel was required to be developed in alignment with the AICA. The panel will advise CoSTEM and assess CoSTEM's progress. Outreach was done to identify potential members, and a notice about the panel's formation was posted in the Federal Register. NSF received over 800 inquiries about the panel, which resulted in 450 nominations. The NSF Director, in consultation with NASA, NOAA, and ED, is responsible for appointing members to the panel. The Director is currently reviewing member recommendations. Recommendations will also be sent to NASA, NOAA, and ED for concurrence. Once members are approved, the names will be sent to the FC-STEM community. It is hoped that the panel will meet in late June.

Jeff then provided an update on the state STEM leaders convening, which will take place on June 26. Three STEM leaders per state were identified by their governors to attend the meeting to provide feedback on the development of the strategic plan. Facilitators will be needed for the meeting – Jeff will send a request for facilitators. Facilitators will attend a pre-meeting training session and will also attend a post-meeting debrief. Contractors from EDC, supported by the NSF, will train the facilitators. The meeting will take place on June 26. Facilitators will need to be able to commit to the day of the event on June 26, and a one-hour training before the meeting and a one-hour debrief after the event. Jeff hopes agency directors will be in the room during the convening. This convening will be an intimate workshop, not a conference. There are outside people who have asked to attend this meeting but only the nominees from the state agencies will be able to participate.

Mike Kincaid, Jeff Weld, and Joan Ferrini-Mundy then provided an update on the status of the IWGs. The IWGs will continue as-is for now, as these groups serve as important networks for information dissemination. The groups should close-up current projects, and the groups can continue to expect to send out calls for information. The current co-chairs were thanked for their past and continued service.

Meeting Wrap-Up and Adjournment

Joan and Mike thanked everyone for their continued service to FC-STEM. As this was likely Joan's final FC-STEM meeting, Chloe then thanked Joan for her service. Joan started as FC-STEM co-chair in 2014, when she was Assistant Director in the Education and Human Resources Directorate at the NSF. She continued her role as FC-STEM co-chair when she became NSF's Chief Operating Officer in 2017. Chloe thanked Joan for her efforts leading FC-STEM.

Jeff thanked everyone for their attendance and the meeting was adjourned.

economically disadvantaged, defined as eligible via direct certification. Therefore, the weighting of subgroups for all schools should be set to reflect statewide demographics.

Based on the feedback from stakeholder groups and the rationale articulated above, the final accountability reporting for each school will result in a dashboard summary available on the department's website after SY 2017-18.

Identification of Reward Schools for Special Recognition

Since 2012, Tennessee has recognized schools with the highest performance and progress as Reward schools. ~~In the new school accountability framework, we will continue highlighting schools earning an overall letter grade of "A" as Reward schools.~~ Based on the structure of the accountability framework, Reward schools will include those schools with high absolute achievement, as well as lower achieving schools with extraordinary progress in achievement that equates to changing the life trajectory of students. The department will transparently report Reward schools earning the designation for performance and those earning the designation for progress (or both) on an annual basis. Schools eligible for comprehensive, targeted, or additional targeted support are not eligible to be a Reward school.

Identification of Focus Schools for Targeted Support and Additional Targeted Support

In addition to schools eligible for comprehensive support ~~schools~~, states must also identify schools for targeted support and improvement and additional targeted support and improvement. In Tennessee, these schools are called "Focus schools." Focus schools are identified in two ways: first if the overall school performance is considered "consistently underperforming" or second if the school's student population includes "consistently underperforming subgroups," as defined by the state.

For the 2018-19 school year, Tennessee will identify schools for additional targeted support. Beginning in 2019-20 school year, Tennessee will identify schools for targeted support and additional targeted support. All schools identified will be labeled as Focus schools.

A "consistently underperforming" school is a school that earns an overall ~~letter grade~~ rating of ~~'D'~~ 1.0 or less in the accountability system for meaningful, annual differentiation. As described in the previous section, the school ~~grading~~ accountability framework is weighted at 40 percent for the performance of students from historically underserved student groups. Based on this weighting, it is nearly impossible for a school earning ~~a D~~ a 1.0 or less not to be in need of improvement for subgroup performance.

Additionally, a school will be identified as Focus if one or more of its subgroups are a consistently underperforming subgroup. Tennessee defines a 'consistently underperforming' subgroup as any student group in a school that is performing in the bottom five percent of all schools meeting the minimum n-size of 30 to be held accountable for one or more of the six federally-recognized groups—Black, Hispanic, Native American, Asian, Hawaiian-Pacific Islander, White, Black/Hispanic/Native American combined (BHN), economically disadvantaged (ED), English learners (EL), and students with disabilities (SWD). Tennessee will review all schools that meet the n-size for any of the major racial and ethnic subgroups and identify schools with student performance in the bottom 5% for Black or Hispanic or Native American as additional targeted support schools.

~~A school that earns a letter grade of A, B, C, or D,~~ Any school can be identified as a Focus school (for additional targeted support) based on the performance of its student groups meeting the definition of a consistently underperforming subgroup. Schools can be identified for one of the federally recognized student groups or for multiple subgroups.

In summary:

- Focus schools are schools identified for targeted support and additional targeted support
- Any school ~~earning a letter grade of A, B, C, or D~~ can be identified as a Focus school based on the performance of its subgroup(s)
- Any school earning a ~~D overall~~ 1.0 or less will be identified for targeted support
- Any school (that is ~~not a Priority school~~ eligible for Comprehensive Support) that performs in the bottom 5 percent for any of the four accountability subgroups will be identified for targeted support
- Any school earning a ~~D overall~~ 1.0 or less and in the bottom 5 percent for any of the four accountability subgroups will be identified for additional targeted support
- Any school that performs in the bottom 5 percent for more than one of the four accountability subgroups, including the six federally-recognized subgroups, will be identified for additional targeted support
- Any school that meets the n-size of 30 for any of the six federally-recognized subgroups and performs in the bottom 5 percent will be identified for ~~additional~~ targeted support

~~Priority schools~~ Schools that are eligible for Comprehensive Support will not be eligible for ~~Focus designation~~ targeted support, nor additional targeted support. A school can be identified for multiple subgroups, and five percent of eligible schools will be identified for each subgroup. Additionally, all schools earning an overall ~~letter grade of D~~ rating of 1.0 or less will be identified as Focus schools. Based on analysis of historical data, the vast majority of schools earning an overall ~~letter grade of D~~ rating of 1.0 or less would be identified as a Focus school based on low subgroup performance. But, for those schools who do not meet criteria based on the subgroup pathway, the department recognizes that the marginal performance of that school also requires targeted support. Our stakeholder feedback also indicated the need to ensure all schools earning a letter grade of D would receive increased engagement and support from the department. Designating these schools as Focus will satisfy stakeholder concerns. We estimate that approximately 13–14 percent of schools will be identified as Focus schools and receive targeted support from the district and state resources.

~~In order for stakeholders to readily identify those schools with challenges in subgroup performance, Focus schools will receive a "minus" on their school grade if earning an A, B, or C designation. For example, if a school earns an overall average of "B" but is identified as a Focus school for a subgroup, the overall school grade would be reported as "B-." Therefore, any "A-" school would not be eligible for Reward school recognition. All D schools would be Focus, so there is no need for "D-" for those distinction for public transparency. Moreover, the report card would clearly define what the Focus school designation means in the context of the school improvement continuum.~~

Mr. Jason Botel
Acting Assistant Secretary for Elementary and Secondary Education
Office of Elementary and Secondary Education
U.S. Department of Education
Washington, DC

Dear Acting Assistant Secretary Botel:

Thank you for making time in your schedule to continue the conversation we began when we were in Washington, DC a few weeks ago meeting with Secretary of Education Devos. Governor Mapp and I greatly appreciate your interest and support in working with us on improving the educational opportunities for children and young adults in the US Virgin Islands.

I thought, as a prelude to our call, that it might be beneficial to share some ideas and talking points that reflect our current thinking. While we are beginning implementation of some of these ideas, we have a very long way to go.

One of the first outcomes I believe we have to achieve is the establishment of a formal, on-going partnership between the Virgin Islands Department of Education and senior leadership at the US Department of Education with the expressed goal of demonstrating new roles and relationships that emphasize education as the primary lever to bringing about significant civil, social, and economic change in the Virgin Islands.

Governor Mapp and I have identified three key initiatives. I have outlined them in more detail in an attachment. We believe these are essential to the well-being and growth of the Virgin Islands. These three initiatives are:

1) New School Construction/Existing School Renovation/Mitigation-Repair

2) Upgrading Student Academic Experiences and Teacher/Leader Performance

3) Economic Diversification and Career Preparation

Thank you again for your time and for this opportunity. I look forward to speaking with you soon.

Respectfully,

(b)(6)

Sharon Ann McCollum, Ph.D.
Commissioner of Education
US Virgin Islands
